New Labor Bill Reaches Congress

Administration Is One Day Late With Measure

Reportedly Lends Itself To "Single Package" Handling

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—The administration delivered its new labor legislation to Congress tonight, one day behind schedule.

Some officials said they understood the delay was occasioned by President Truman's desire to change the language dealing with ways of averting "national emergency" strikes.

The legislation calls for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and "improving" amendments to the old Wagner Act which unions call their "Magna Carta." The latter act, among other things, outlaws "unfair labor practices" by employers. The Taft-Hartley Act, passed by the 80th Congress after a series of big strikes, contains provisions restricting certain activities of unions.

The bill delivered tonight was reported to lend itself to "one package" handling—that is simultaneous repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and amendments to the Wagner law. But it was reported, too, that it could be broken up into two bills, with repeal in the first and Wagner Act amendments in the second.

Labor unions want the two-package treatment; they want the Taft-Hartley law wiped out swiftly.

Text Kept Secret

The text of the new bill was kept secret tonight, but some officials who cannot be named said they believed that when it is made public probably tomorrow, it will be found to contain the following Wagner Act amendments, among others:

1. Machinery, somewhat similar to the Railway Labor Act, to avert national emergency strikes for at least 60 days. Provision would probably be made, these officials said, for use of court injunctions to prevent walkouts during the cooling off period.

2. Bans on jurisdictional strikes—which commonly result from rows between two unions desiring to do the same job.

3. Prohibitions on certain secondary boycotts. In a secondary boycott, a union striking against one company tries to stop other companies from doing business with it.

The Senate Labor Committee had intended to open hearings on the legislation today, but Secretary of Labor Tobin sent word to Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) that he could not deliver it in time.

So the committee cancelled its opening session on the bill. This (1) lopped a full day off the two-weeks' period allotted for the hearings and 2) prompted new jibes from Republicans who have angrily protested action of the committee majority in restricting the scope of the hearings.

Tobin To Testify Monday

Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) assumed the bill's delay was due to "differences of opinion" over its contents.

But a source close to President Truman said the delay resulted from problems of wording the terms; not from the subject matter.

Secretary Tobin told a reporter that he will testify on the administration proposals Monday morning.

Sen. Murray (D-Mont), who will head a subcommittee conducting the hearings, said that in his view any talk of an argument in the Labor Department over the bill's contents is "poppycock."

Baltimore Court Gag Rule Upheld

BALTIMORE, Jan. 28 (AP)—A judge ruled today that the courts may limit freedom of the press when it threatens the right of a man to a fair and impartial trial.

He convicted three radio stations and a news commentator, James Connolly, of WITH, on contempt of court charges, fining them $100 to $500. They became involved because of their broadcasts about a murder case last summer.

Judge John B. Gray, Jr., assigned here from a circuit court in Southern Maryland to hear the case, said it "involved two cherished policies of our civilization—freedom of the press and the right to a fair trial."

"The solution," he said, "lies in the fact that neither of these rights is aboslute. Each is relative. Each must yield."

He upheld an unusual Baltimore court rule which restricts publication of the news about a criminal case between the time of a defendant's arrest and his trial.

Baltimore newspapers and radio stations may not publish the fact that an accused has confessed, or that he had a criminal record. They may not use any information from a confession. They may not tell about his conduct after arrest. They may not discuss any of the evidence discovered after he was arrested. They may not photograph him without his consent.

Judge Gray ruled this is not censorship.

5-Ton Bus Runs Over Woman But Snow Saves Her

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28 (AP)—A five-ton bus ran over a young woman today and didn't hurt her a bit — the snow saved her.

Miss Mary E. Parker, 24-year-old physiotherapist who came here recently from Oxford, Ind., lost her footing and slipped beneath a bus she was trying to catch.

The right rear wheel passed over her legs but the snowy cushion on the street was so deep she wasn't hurt. X-ray examinations showed no bones broken. An hour after the accident hospital attendants said she was over shock.

More Airplanes, Bulldozers Join Blizzard Battle

New Storm Is Blow To Rescue Efforts

[By The Associated Press]

More planes and pulldozers were thrown into the battle of the western blizzards Friday, but a new storm dealt rescue efforts a severe setback in some areas.

The new snow, forerunner of another cold wave, whipped across Wyoming, Nebraska, Eastern Kansas and Southeast South Dakota and on into Southeastern Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin.

It intensified the suffering of snow-stranded livestock and humans in the stricken western areas.

President Truman alloted another $500,000 for blizzard relief during the day, boosting the amount of federal aid so far to $800,000. He signed legislation appropriating that sum to his emegency disaster fund and turned the money over to the Federal Works Agency immediately for that purpose.

In Nebraska, one of the hardest hit blizzard states, the storm virtually ice-locked the state. Twelve inches of snow fell in Omaha, with lesser amounts elsewhere. Scarcely a road in the state was open.

"We're right back where we started from," said Gov. Val Peterson. "We'll just have to start digging ourselves out again as rapidly as we can."

Peterson said conditions were desperate in Nebraska, Wyoming and South Dakota and he telegraphed an appeal to President Truman to get the Fifth Army into the area.

Move Requires Funds

That move would require a congressional appropriation of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, he said.

Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, who is directing relief activities in Nebraska, said "human distress and misery are worse this morning than at any time since the storms began."

In Northern Nebraska, where the relief work had scarcely scratched the surface, much of the blizzard busting work had to start anew. The new storm stalled a single coach train, the Omaha-Sioux City train of the Chicago and North Western Railroad.

The Fifth Army headquarters in Chicago shipped 30 more bulldozers to Nebraska to augment 57 Army bulldozers and 29 half-track weasels already at work in the Nebraska storm area.

There were a few bright spots in the blizzard picture.

Ten more C-82 flying boxcars joined the Nevada haylift, where feed has been dumped to stranded herds the last several days. Ranchers predicted that two more days of aerial feeding by Air Force crews would see them over the hump in the present emergency.

Flood Fears Eased

In Utah, the major "catastrophe area" where 1,200,000 sheep and cattle are snowbound, rising temperatures cheered ranchers. Despite intermittent snows and sub-

Reds Reported Mounting Guns Along Yangtze

"Year Of Rat" Ends In Nationalist Gloom

By HAROLD K. MILKS

NANKING, Jan. 28 (AP)—The Chinese Communists were reported mounting artillery on the north bank of the Yangtze today in positions to cut this confused capital's communications with Shanghai.

The news contributed to the pervading gloom of Nanking on this lunar New Year's Eve, ordinarily China's gayest holiday. By the Chinese Zodiac, the Year of the Rat is ending and the Year of the Ox beginning.

Military reports said the Communist guns were appearing at Icheng, While they apparently had not fired yet, they were capable of commanding traffic on the river and also on the southbank railway and road.

The government's military spokesman in this half-abandoned capital said Nationalist troops recovered and then lost Yangchow (Chingtu), 17 miles northeast of Icheng, in an all-night fight. This was the only conflict reported in the civil war.

No Battle For City Seen

The Reds' slow maneuvering to isolate Nanking led to a growing conviction of remaining residents that there would be no battle for the city, except for the possibility a few Communist shells might be thrown this way.

Neutral observers said no defense of Nanking or of the north bank of the Yangtze appeared possible even if attempted.

Some government troops still were withdrawing to the south bank, and a few thousands still on the north were expected to be sacrificed without hope of evacuation.

Communist troops were three or four miles from the Yangtze at many points, and the chief speculation in Nanking was whether they would come on down to celebrate the new year or would pause where they were a while longer.

No Reply To Li's Appeal

The New Year of the Ox is regarded by astrologers on the government side as more auspicious than the Year of the Rat which has brought the Communists smashing victory.

Nanking attempts to raise the festive spirit on this traditionally foremost Chinese holiday were decidedly half-hearted, however. Peddlers offered paper lanterns, fish, frogs and ducks, but it was just another day to most residents. They were preoccupied with trying to get out to the south or were resigned to staying and awaiting the Communists.

Political developments continued in confused fashion.

There was no known reply to Acting President Li Tsung-Jen's appeal to Mao Tse-Tung, Communist chief, to name peace negotiators immediately.

Radio Signal Spurs Search For Superfort

LONDON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Spurred by a radio signal, air rescue units searching for a missing American B-29 Superfortress centered their efforts tonight on an area of the Atlantic 150 miles northeast of the Canary Islands.

The signal, in the form of a constant Morse code "T," raised hopes that the 15 men aboard the lost B-29 had been able to take to life rafts.

United States Third Air Division headquarters here said the radio signal came from a position about 29 degrees and 44 minutes north and 15 degrees and 10 minutes west. A French flying boat reported sighting an oil slick about 25 miles farther to the northeast.

The Superfortress disappeared yesterday during a training flight from Dakar, French West Africa, to a base at Marham, Eng.

Decision On State Income Tax Rate Again Postponed

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 28 (AP) — Still undecided about what to do about the state income tax rate, the Maryland Legislature adjourned for the weekend today.

The Senate Finance Committee decided to let the Attorney General rule on a proposal to ease the rate on unearned income, thus postponing for the third time a decision on how much Free Staters should pay on money they made last year.

In the House, the Ways and Means Committee agreed to wait a while before reporting out two tax bills: One to increase deductions for dependents, the second to provide a deeper slash in the charge on unearned and investment income.

While fiscal affairs occupied the Assembly's two major committees, the House spent most of its session on Maryland divorce law.

After a ruckus that developed over procedure and an attempt to put the whole thing on a shelf for the time being, delegates voted to take up next week a bill to make three-year imprisonment grounds for a divorce suit by the spouse left at home.

The House has already passed the income tax "freezer" now being worked over by the Senate Finance Committee. As now drawn, it would maintain the rate at two per cent. If not enacted, Marylanders' would be bound by a 1947 law hiking the rate on earned income to 2½ per cent with returns due this April 15.

The measure was pulled off the Senate floor and returned to committee yesterday to allow study of an amendment to cut the rate on unearned income from five to two per cent on the first $1,000, but leave it as is on anything beyond that.

Deputy Comptroller Joseph O'C. McCusker told the committee today the change would "hurt the budget". Members then decided to give the Attorney General a chance to check its legality.

The budget also reared up before the two bills by Delegate Bandiere (D-Balto 5th) in the Ways and Means Committee.

Blast Levels Wall, Shatters Windows

An explosion in the People's Gas, Light and Coke Company's gas generating plant at Chicago yesterday blew out a wall of the plant (top) and shattered windows for a radius of four blocks, including more than 1,000 in the service building of the Commonwealth Edison Company (bottom). One hundred and fifteen persons were injured, most of them cut by flying glass.

Britain And Her Allies Recognize State Of Israel

LONDON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Britain and her Brussels alliance partners joined tonight in a decision to recognize Israel. Australia and Switzerland announced recognition earlier.

The actions bring to 29 the number of nations which have taken such a decision. Five more — New Zealand and the Nordic countries of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Iceland — are preparing to grant recognition in the near future.

The recognitions and pending recognitions constitute a major diplomatic triumph for the young Jewish state and are expected to make brighter Israel's chances for membership in the United Nations.

Follow U.S., Russian Lead

The United States and Russia accorded recognition soon after the Jewish state proclaimed its own existence last May 14.

France, a member of the Brussels alliance, recognized Israel last Monday. She joined the other four members — Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — in announcing tonight there was a general agreement that the "stage had now been reached at which de facto recognition could be given to the government of Israel."

The decision was announced in a communique after a meeting of the foreign ministers of the five powers in London.

Announcements Awaited

A Foreign Office spokesman said later Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg would make their own individual announcements of the decision to recognize Israel.

The British announcement is expected tomorrow.

Russia's recognition was unspecified. The United States and France accorded de facto recognition — the type which Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg as well as Switzerland decided upon.

It recognizes the existence of an operating government in Israel, but falls short of de jure recognition, which classes the government of a state as the legally constituted authority.

Tait Congratulates Scott On His Victory

BALTIMORE, Jan. 28 (AP)—Galen L. Tait, retired chairman of the Maryland Republican Committee, today congratulated Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., (R-Pa) on his victory in retaining the chairmanship of the GOP National Committee.

Tait thus took a position in opposition to Maryland's representative on the National Committee, Jacob France. It was France who at the recent committee meeting in Omaha, Neb., introduced the resolution to oust Scott.

That resolution was tabled by a 54-50 vote.

115 Persons Are Hurt In Chicago Gas Plant Blast

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 (AP)—An explosion ripped off the roof of a gas company mixing plant today, injuring 115 persons, most of whom were cut by flying glass.

Only one person was reported critically hurt.

Scene of the blast was a mixing plant of the People's Gas, Light and Coke Company in the southwest section of the city.

Virtually every window in an adjoining nine-story office and storage building of the Commonwealth Edison Company was shattered. One hundred Edison employes were flying glass victims.

Fifteen employes of the gas company suffered burns, cuts and bruises.

Truman Acts To Avert Rail Tieup

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — President Truman today created an emergency board to avert strike action by locomotive engineers.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has set a strike deadline of 6 a. m. Monday on 15 western lines employing 25,000 engineers.

The union has demanded a second engineer on Diesel locomotives.

Mr. Truman's executive order would delay a strike for 60 days. The board will have 30 days to report its findings, and the parties are required by law to negotiate for at least another 30 days on the panel's recommendations.

Although a strike was threatened on only the 15 western railroads, the emergency order was made applicable to other railroads in the nation since the engineers have made similar demands on them.

Because of the potential strike threat on those lines, a member of the National Mediation Board staff said, it was decided to extend the emergency order to cover those lines as well as the western lines immediately affected.

Conferences Progress

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Signs for settlement of the wage and hour dispute between the nation's railroads and 16 non-operating unions appeared favorable today. Failure might lead to tieup of the nation's rail lines.

Representatives of the carriers and the unions, representing 1,000,000 employes, ended the second of two conferences today and planned to meet again tomorrow at noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Administration Says Economic Curbs Essential

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Administration spokesmen put new stress today on its anti-inflation program, saying the control powers it demands are essential to "national security and our foreign policy."

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer emphasized this point in urging the Senate Banking Committee to approve a 28-month extension of the export control law which is due to expire February 28.

Although he expressed hopes that some items—maybe grains and coal—may be removed from the control list this year, Sawyer said clamps should be continued on such key products as steel, aluminum, copper, meat and some fats and oils.

Effect Abroad Stressed

Sawyer, who previously has championed "mandatory powers" to check inflationary pressures on the home front, placed less emphasis on the domestic aspect of export curbs in today's testimony. Rather, he stressed the role export controls play in support of this nation's military and foreign policy.

He told the Senate committee that the export check-reins help the government fulfill its foreign policy commitments by directing the flow of scarce American goods to Marshall Plan nations—and to keep them from "other European countries."

As for defense, Sawyer said "it is quite clear that our national security requires" controls "over shipments of industrial materials which

Treason Charge Faces American On Way To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—The Justice Department said tonight that Herbert John Burgman, former employe in the Embassy in Berlin, is now being flown across the Atlantic to face a treason charge here.

The department said Burgman was placed aboard an Army plane at Frankfurt, Germany at 10 a. m. (EST) today and is expected to reach Washington about 6 p. m. tomorrow.

The Justice Department announced early this month that Burgman who has worked for the State Department for 20 years, had been placed under arrest by American occupation forces at the department's request.

The department said a treason case will be presented against him before a grand jury here, based on the allegation that he refused repatriation to this country when the war broke out in 1941, and instead took a job with the German shortwave radio and made broadcasts in English to American armed forces.

Plan To Restore Free Indonesia Adopted By U.N.

Key Sections Barely Get Through Council

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 28 (AP) — The Security Council overrode Dutch protests and approved today an American-backed plan designed to restore the Indonesian republic.

Key sections of the scheme barely squeezed through the council with seven votes required for passage by the 11-member council.

Russia, the Ukraine, France and Argentina abstained on sections setting up a United Nations Commission for Indonesia and giving that commission authority to recommend withdrawal of Dutch soldiers from territory of the Indonesian republic.

The Netherlands told the council the Dutch would co-operate as far as their responsibilities in Indonesia permitted.

Dutch Defiance Predicted

Indonesian republic spokesmen said their co-operation depended largely on what the Dutch did. They predicted the Dutch would defy or evade the council's orders.

The council took 28 separate votes on the long resolution sponsored by the United States, Cuba, Norway and China.

In its major actions, the council:

1. Called on the Dutch to release leaders of the Indonesian republic immediately and help them get their government going again. The vote on this paragraph was 10 to 0 with France alone abstaining.

2. Turned down a Soviet proposal demanding immediate withdrawal of Dutch soldiers from territory of the Indonesian republic. Only Russia, the Ukraine, Cuba and Egypt voted for this demand; the other seven council members abstained.

Commission Is Created

3. Created the United Nations Indonesian Commission to supervise elections for a United States of Indonesia. The vote was 7 to 0 with Russia, the Ukraine, France and Argentina abstaining. The United States, Belgium and Australia, present members of the council's Good Offices committee in Indonesia, will make up the commission.

4. Told this commission to recommend withdrawal of Dutch troops from Republican soil as it saw fit and to assist in early restoration of the civil administration of the republic. The vote again was 7 to 0 with the same four nations abstaining.

5. Recommended elections for creation of the United States of Indonesia and transfer of sovereignty by the Dutch to the new regime by July 1, 1950.

Surprise Settlement Ends Patterson Estate Litigation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—A surprise out-of-court settlement today ended litigation over the $16,500,000 estate of Mrs. Eleanor M. (Cissy) Patterson, late publisher of the Washington Times-Herald.

Terms of the settlement were not announced, except that it was "a compromise."

Attorneys for both sides indicated, however, that details will be made public in the official court records winding up the case.

Mrs. Patterson's only daughter, Mrs. Felicia Gizycka, had sought to break the will on the grounds that her mother was of unsound mind and that the will was obtained through fraud, deceit and "undue influence."

Under the terms of the will, Mrs. Patterson bequeathed her daughter a $25,000 annual income, a home on Long Island, N. Y., and some personal property. She left the newspaper to seven of its executives.

Holdings in the big estate—estimated by Mrs. Gizycka's attorneys to be worth $17,690,000 but rated in probate records at $16,586,571—include a large share of the McCormick-Patterson trust which controls the Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News.

A prolonged and bitter court battle had been expected, with Mrs. Gizycka announcing that if she succeeded in breaking the will she would take active role in directing the Times-Herald.

The announcement of the settlement, signed by seven lawyers representing both sides, said:

"Counsel for Mrs. Felicia Gizycka and counsel for the executors and other parties in the contest of the will of the late Mrs. Eleanor Patterson announced that full agreement has been reached between them in compromise and settlement of the issues with respect to the will, and that at the convenience of the court the pending litigation will be terminated."

After repeated delays, the trial had been set to open February 9 in Federal District Court here.

North Atlantic Pact Is Termed Anti-U.N. 'Plot'

Western Aggression Aimed At Domination Of World Is Charged

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW, Saturday, Jan. 29 (AP)—Russia accused the United States and Great Britain today of trying to undermine the United Nations with a North Atlantic pact.

In a 34-page statement the Ministry of Foreign Affairs declared:

"The USSR must take into consideration the fact that ruling circles of the United States and Great Britain have entered upon an openly aggressive course of policy, the final purpose of which is establishment by force of Anglo-American world domination."

"It is apparent to everyone," the ministry continued, "that a plot is presently being carried out against the United Nations inasmuch as it—even though in only a small measure—hinders and holds back aggressors and their policy of aggression and unleashing a new war.

"In view of this situation the Soviet Union must more firmly and more insistently fight against the undermining and wrecking of the United Nations organization by aggressive elements and their followers."

U. N. Often "By-Passed"

The statement said that Russia must see to it that the United Nations is not "by-passed as so often happened."

Instead of allowing itself to be by-passed, the United Nations should value its authority more dearly, said the ministry statement, especially when the question arises as to who is "conducting aggressive policy and unleashing new wars."

The statement which Tass made public early this morning was dated January 28 and appeared under the headline.

"Declaration of the Foreign Ministry of the USSR on the North Atlantic pact."

The statement said that behind the Western European Union lay "plans for esablishing Anglo-American world domination."

"Under such conditions," it declared, "participation of the USSR and countries of the new democracy in the North Atlantic pact or similar alliances of states is, of course, completely out of the question."

European Union Assailed

In one part of the statement the ministry said Britain and France with support from the United States have "broken with peace-loving policy and taken the road of preparing for new aggression in Europe."

The declaration said the Western European Union of Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg had in view "the possibility of using this group of western powers x x x against those states which were their allies during the second world war."

The Russian statement said creation of the union means the countries in it "reject that dramatic and anti-aggressive policy regarding Germany which was adopted by the Yalta and Potsdam conferences of the anti-Hitlerite coalition."

Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg set up a Western European Union in a treaty signed at Brussels, Belgium, on March 17, 1948.

Russia Rejects Protest By U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Russia has rejected an American protest that the Soviets failed to repatriate some 400,000 German war prisoners on schedule, government officials said tonight.

The Russians, however, indicated they would return the prisoners some time during 1949.

The American authorities said the Russian Foreign Office sent a note to the United States Embassy in Moscow, contending that the Soviet government never was obligated to return the Germans by January 1, as the State Department maintains.

The United States, in a formal not January 3, accused Moscow of violating a four-power agreement signed by Russia, the United States, France and Britain at Moscow in April, 1947.

The State Department took this action after France and Britain had sent home all their German prisoners except those who voluntarily remained as paid laborers.

The American government completed its repatriation six months ahead of schedule.

Webb Takes Over In No. 2 Diplomatic Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — James E. Webb, 42-year-old former United States budget director, was sworn in as Undersecretary of State today.

Cabinet members, diplomats and congressmen attended the ceremony, which marked the second major change in the State Department's high command since President Truman's inauguration.

Dean Acheson, former undersecretary, became Secretary of State last Friday, succeeding Gen. George C. Marshall. Webb takes over from Robert A. Lovett, who resigned, in the No. 2 diplomatic post.

The Fifth Army headquarters in Chicago shipped 30 more bulldozers to Nebraska to augment 57 Army bulldozers and 29 half-track weasels already at work in the Nebraska storm area.

There were a few bright spots in the blizzard picture.

Ten more C-82 flying boxcars joined the Nevada haylift, where feed has been dumped to stranded herds the last several days. Ranchers predicted that two more days of aerial feeding by Air Force crews would see them over the hump in the present emergency.

Flood Fears Eased

Reds Reported Mounting Guns Along Yangtze

"Year Of Rat" Ends In Nationalist Gloom

By HAROLD K. MILKS

NANKING, Jan. 28 (AP)—The Chinese Communists were reported mounting artillery on the north bank of the Yangtze today in positions to cut this confused capital's communications with Shanghai.

The news contributed to the pervading gloom of Nanking on this lunar New Year's Eve, ordinarily China's - gayest holiday. By the Chinese Zodiac, the Year of the Rat is ending and the Year of the Ox beginning.

Military reports said the Communist guns were appearing at Icheng, While they apparently had not fired yet, they were capable of commanding traffic on the river and also on the southbank railway and road.

The government's military spokesman in this half-abandoned capital said Nationalist troops recovered and then lost Yangchow (Chingtu), 17 miles northeast of Icheng, in an all-night fight. This was the only conflict reported in the civil war.

No Battle For City Seen

The Reds' slow maneuvering to isolate Nanking led to a growing conviction of remaining residents that there would be no battle for the city, except for the possibility a few Communist shells might be thrown this way.

Neutral observers said no defense of Nanking or of the north bank of the Yangtze appeared possible even if attempted.

Some government troops still were withdrawing to the south bank, and a few thousands still on the north were expected to be sacrificed without hope of evacuation.

Communist troops were three or four miles from the Yangtze at many points, and the chief speculation in Nanking was whether they would come on down to celebrate the new year or would pause where they were a while longer.

No Reply To Li's Appeal

The New Year of the Ox is regarded by astrologers on the government side as more auspicious than the Year of the Rat which has brought the Communists smashing victory.

Nanking attempts to raise the festive spirit on this traditionally foremost Chinese holiday were decidedly half-hearted, however. Peddlers offered paper lanterns, fish, frogs and ducks, but it was just another day to most residents. They were preoccupied with trying to get out to the south or were resigned to staying and awaiting the Communists.

Political developments continued in confused fashion.

There was no known reply to Acting President Li Tsung-Jen's appeal to Mao Tse-Tung, Communist chief, to name peace negotiators immediately.

Radio Signal Spurs Search For Superfort

LONDON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Spurred by a radio signal, air rescue units searching for a missing American B-29 Superfortress centered their efforts tonight on an area of the Atlantic 150 miles northeast of the Canary Islands.

The signal, in the form of a constant Morse code "T," raised hopes that the 15 men aboard the lost B-29 had been able to take to life rafts.

United States Third Air Division headquarters here said the radio signal came from a position about 29 degrees and 44 minutes north and 15 degrees and 10 minutes west. A French flying boat reported sighting an oil slick about 25 miles farther to the northeast.

The Superfortress disappeared yesterday during a training flight from Dakar, French West Africa, to a base at Marham, Eng.

Decision On State Income Tax Rate Again Postponed

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 28 (AP) — Still undecided about what to do about the state income tax rate, the Maryland Legislature adjourned for the weekend today.

The Senate Finance Committee decided to let the Attorney General rule on a proposal to ease the rate on unearned income, thus postponing for the third time a decision on how much Free Staters should pay on money they made last year.

In the House, the Ways and Means Committee agreed to wait a while before reporting out two tax bills: One to increase deductions for dependents, the second to provide a deeper slash in the charge on unearned and investment income.

While fiscal affairs occupied the Assembly's two major committees, the House spent most of its session on Maryland divorce law.

After a ruckus that developed over procedure and an attempt to put the whole thing on a shelf for the time being, delegates voted to take up next week a bill to make three-year imprisonment grounds for a divorce suit by the spouse left at home.

The House has already passed the income tax "freezer" now being worked over by the Senate Finance Committee. As now drawn, it would maintain the rate at two per cent. If not enacted, Marylanders' would be bound by a 1947 law hiking the rate on earned income to 2½ per cent with returns due this April 15.

The measure was pulled off the Senate floor and returned to committee yesterday to allow study of an amendment to cut the rate on unearned income from five to two per cent on the first $1,000, but leave it as is on anything beyond that.

Deputy Comptroller Joseph O'C. McCusker told the committee today the change would "hurt the budget". Members then decided to give the Attorney General a chance to check its legality.

The budget also reared up before the two bills by Delegate Bandiere (D-Balto 5th) in the Ways and Means Committee.

Blast Levels Wall, Shatters Windows

An explosion in the People's Gas, Light and Coke Company's gas generating plant at Chicago yesterday blew out a wall of the plant (top) and shattered windows for a radius of four blocks, including more than 1,000 in the service building of the Commonwealth Edison Company (bottom). One hundred and fifteen persons were injured, most of them cut by flying glass.

Britain And Her Allies Recognize State Of Israel

LONDON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Britain and her Brussels alliance partners joined tonight in a decision to recognize Israel. Australia and Switzerland announced recognition earlier.

The actions bring to 29 the number of nations which have taken such a decision. Five more — New Zealand and the Nordic countries of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Iceland — are preparing to grant recognition in the near future.

The recognitions and pending recognitions constitute a major diplomatic triumph for the young Jewish state and are expected to make brighter Israel's chances for membership in the United Nations.

Follow U.S., Russian Lead

The United States and Russia accorded recognition soon after the Jewish state proclaimed its own existence last May 14.

France, a member of the Brussels alliance, recognized Israel last Monday. She joined the other four members — Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — in announcing tonight there was a general agreement that the "stage had now been reached at which de facto recognition could be given to the government of Israel."

The decision was announced in a communique after a meeting of the foreign ministers of the five powers in London.

Announcements Awaited

A Foreign Office spokesman said later Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg would make their own individual announcements of the decision to recognize Israel.

The British announcement is expected tomorrow.

Russia's recognition was unspecified. The United States and France accorded de facto recognition — the type which Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg as well as Switzerland decided upon.

It recognizes the existence of an operating government in Israel, but falls short of de jure recognition, which classes the government of a state as the legally constituted authority.

Tait Congratulates Scott On His Victory

BALTIMORE, Jan. 28 (AP)—Galen L. Tait, retired chairman of the Maryland Republican Committee, today congratulated Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., (R-Pa) on his victory in retaining the chairmanship of the GOP National Committee.

Tait thus took a position in opposition to Maryland's representative on the National Committee, Jacob France. It was France who at the recent committee meeting in Omaha, Neb., introduced the resolution to oust Scott.

That resolution was tabled by a 54-50 vote.

115 Persons Are Hurt In Chicago Gas Plant Blast

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 (AP)—An explosion ripped off the roof of a gas company mixing plant today, injuring 115 persons, most of whom were cut by flying glass.

Only one person was reported critically hurt.

Scene of the blast was a mixing plant of the People's Gas, Light and Coke Company in the southwest section of the city.

Virtually every window in an adjoining nine-story office and storage building of the Commonwealth Edison Company was shattered. One hundred Edison employes were flying glass victims.

Fifteen employes of the gas company suffered burns, cuts and bruises.

Truman Acts To Avert Rail Tieup

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — President Truman today created an emergency board to avert strike action by locomotive engineers.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has set a strike deadline of 6 a. m. Monday on 15 western lines employing 25,000 engineers.

The union has demanded a second engineer on Diesel locomotives.

Mr. Truman's executive order would delay a strike for 60 days. The board will have 30 days to report its findings, and the parties are required by law to negotiate for at least another 30 days on the panel's recommendations.

Although a strike was threatened on only the 15 western railroads, the emergency order was made applicable to other railroads in the nation since the engineers have made similar demands on them.

Because of the potential strike threat on those lines, a member of the National Mediation Board staff said, it was decided to extend the emergency order to cover those lines as well as the western lines immediately affected.

Conferences Progress

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Signs for settlement of the wage and hour dispute between the nation's railroads and 16 non-operating unions appeared favorable today. Failure might lead to tieup of the nation's rail lines.

Representatives of the carriers and the unions, representing 1,000,000 employes, ended the second of two conferences today and planned to meet again tomorrow at noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Administration Says Economic Curbs Essential

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Administration spokesmen put new stress today on its anti-inflation program, saying the control powers it demands are essential to "national security and our foreign policy."

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer emphasized this point in urging the Senate Banking Committee to approve a 28-month extension of the export control law which is due to expire February 28.

Although he expressed hopes that some items—maybe grains and coal—may be removed from the control list this year, Sawyer said clamps should be continued on such key products as steel, aluminum, copper, meat and some fats and oils.

Effect Abroad Stressed

Sawyer, who previously has championed "mandatory powers" to check inflationary pressures on the home front, placed less emphasis on the domestic aspect of export curbs in today's testimony. Rather, he stressed the role export controls play in support of this nation's military and foreign policy.

He told the Senate committee that the export check-reins help the government fulfill its foreign policy commitments by directing the flow of scarce American goods to Marshall Plan nations—and to keep them from "other European countries."

As for defense, Sawyer said "it is quite clear that our national security requires" controls "over shipments of industrial materials which

Surprise Settlement Ends Patterson Estate Litigation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—A surprise out-of-court settlement today ended litigation over the $16,500,000 estate of Mrs. Eleanor M. (Cissy) Patterson, late publisher of the Washington Times-Herald.

Terms of the settlement were not announced, except that it was "a compromise."

Attorneys for both sides indicated, however, that details will be made public in the official court records winding up the case.

Mrs. Patterson's only daughter, Mrs. Felicia Gizycka, had sought to break the will on the grounds that her mother was of unsound mind and that the will was obtained through fraud, deceit and "undue influence."

Under the terms of the will, Mrs. Patterson bequeathed her daughter a $25,000 annual income, a home on Long Island, N. Y., and some personal property. She left the newspaper to seven of its executives.

Holdings in the big estate—estimated by Mrs. Gizycka's attorneys to be worth $17,690,000 but rated in probate records at $16,586,571—include a large share of the McCormick-Patterson trust which controls the Chicago Tribune and the New York Daily News.

A prolonged and bitter court battle had been expected, with Mrs. Gizycka announcing that if she succeeded in breaking the will she would take active role in directing the Times-Herald.

The announcement of the settlement, signed by seven lawyers representing both sides, said:

"Counsel for Mrs. Felicia Gizycka and counsel for the executors and other parties in the contest of the will of the late Mrs. Eleanor Patterson announced that full agreement has been reached between them in compromise and settlement of the issues with respect to the will, and that at the convenience of the court the pending litigation will be terminated."

After repeated delays, the trial had been set to open February 9 in Federal District Court here.

Treason Charge Faces American On Way To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—The Justice Department said tonight that Herbert John Burgman, former employe in the Embassy in Berlin, is now being flown across the Atlantic to face a treason charge here.

The department said Burgman was placed aboard an Army plane at Frankfurt, Germany at 10 a. m. (EST) today and is expected to reach Washington about 6 p. m. tomorrow.

The Justice Department announced early this month that Burgman who has worked for the State Department for 20 years, had been placed under arrest by American occupation forces at the department's request.

The department said a treason case will be presented against him before a grand jury here, based on the allegation that he refused repatriation to this country when the war broke out in 1941, and instead took a job with the German shortwave radio and made broadcasts in English to American armed forces.

Plan To Restore Free Indonesia Adopted By U.N.

Key Sections Barely Get Through Council

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 28 (AP) — The Security Council overrode Dutch protests and approved today an American-backed plan designed to restore the Indonesian republic.

Key sections of the scheme barely squeezed through the council with seven votes required for passage by the 11-member council.

Russia, the Ukraine, France and Argentina abstained on sections setting up a United Nations Commission for Indonesia and giving that commission authority to recommend withdrawal of Dutch soldiers from territory of the Indonesian republic.

The Netherlands told the council the Dutch would co-operate as far as their responsibilities in Indonesia permitted.

Dutch Defiance Predicted

Indonesian republic spokesmen said their co-operation depended largely on what the Dutch did. They predicted the Dutch would defy or evade the council's orders.

The council took 28 separate votes on the long resolution sponsored by the United States, Cuba, Norway and China.

In its major actions, the council:

1. Called on the Dutch to release leaders of the Indonesian republic immediately and help them get their government going again. The vote on this paragraph was 10 to 0 with France alone abstaining.

2. Turned down a Soviet proposal demanding immediate withdrawal of Dutch soldiers from territory of the Indonesian republic. Only Russia, the Ukraine, Cuba and Egypt voted for this demand; the other seven council members abstained.

Commission Is Created

3. Created the United Nations Indonesian Commission to supervise elections for a United States of Indonesia. The vote was 7 to 0 with Russia, the Ukraine, France and Argentina abstaining. The United States, Belgium and Australia, present members of the council's Good Offices committee in Indonesia, will make up the commission.

4. Told this commission to recommend withdrawal of Dutch troops from Republican soil as it saw fit and to assist in early restoration of the civil administration of the republic. The vote again was 7 to 0 with the same four nations abstaining.

5. Recommended elections for creation of the United States of Indonesia and transfer of sovereignty by the Dutch to the new regime by July 1, 1950.

North Atlantic Pact Is Termed Anti-U.N. 'Plot'

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW, Saturday, Jan. 29 (AP)—Russia accused the United States and Great Britain today of trying to undermine the United Nations with a North Atlantic pact.

In a 34-page statement the Ministry of Foreign Affairs declared:

"The USSR must take into consideration the fact that ruling circles of the United States and Great Britain have entered upon an openly aggressive course of policy, the final purpose of which is establishment by force of Anglo-American world domination."

"It is apparent to everyone," the ministry continued, "that a plot is presently being carried out against the United Nations inasmuch as it—even though in only a small measure—hinders and holds back aggressors and their policy of aggression and unleashing a new war.

"In view of this situation the Soviet Union must more firmly and more insistently fight against the undermining and wrecking of the United Nations organization by aggressive elements and their followers."

U. N. Often "By-Passed"

The statement said that Russia must see to it that the United Nations is not "by-passed as so often happened."

Instead of allowing itself to be by-passed, the United Nations should value its authority more dearly, said the ministry statement, especially when the question arises as to who is "conducting aggressive policy and unleashing new wars."

The statement which Tass made public early this morning was dated January 28 and appeared under the headline.

"Declaration of the Foreign Ministry of the USSR on the North Atlantic pact."

The statement said that behind the Western European Union lay "plans for esablishing Anglo-American world domination."

"Under such conditions," it declared, "participation of the USSR and countries of the new democracy in the North Atlantic pact or similar alliances of states is, of course, completely out of the question."

European Union Assailed

In one part of the statement the ministry said Britain and France with support from the United States have "broken with peace-loving policy and taken the road of preparing for new aggression in Europe."

The declaration said the Western European Union of Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg had in view "the possibility of using this group of western powers x x x against those states which were their allies during the second world war."

The Russian statement said creation of the union means the countries in it "reject that dramatic and anti-aggressive policy regarding Germany which was adopted by the Yalta and Potsdam conferences of the anti-Hitlerite coalition."

Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg set up a Western European Union in a treaty signed at Brussels, Belgium, on March 17, 1948.

Russia Rejects Protest By U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Russia has rejected an American protest that the Soviets failed to repatriate some 400,000 German war prisoners on schedule, government officials said tonight.

The Russians, however, indicated they would return the prisoners some time during 1949.

The American authorities said the Russian Foreign Office sent a note to the United States Embassy in Moscow, contending that the Soviet government never was obligated to return the Germans by January 1, as the State Department maintains.

The United States, in a formal not January 3, accused Moscow of violating a four-power agreement signed by Russia, the United States, France and Britain at Moscow in April, 1947.

The State Department took this action after France and Britain had sent home all their German prisoners except those who voluntarily remained as paid laborers.

The American government completed its repatriation six months ahead of schedule.

Webb Takes Over In No. 2 Diplomatic Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — James E. Webb, 42-year-old former United States budget director, was sworn in as Undersecretary of State today.

Cabinet members, diplomats and congressmen attended the ceremony, which marked the second major change in the State Department's high command since President Truman's inauguration.

Grant County Agent Resigns

PETERSBURG, W. Va. — C. L. Stickler, county agent for Grant County for the past 23 years has resigned his position effective February 1st, because of his health and Raymond Spencer, Greenbrier County, has been named to fill the vacancy.

Stickler came to Petersburg in September, 1925, following his graduation from West Virginia University and from that time until the present he was county agent. Stickler was secretary of the Tri County Fair for a number of years and he was called upon during his service as county agent to administer many of the area relief measures as follows: Red Cross for farmers hit by the drought; Department of Public Assistance; Emergency Crop Feed and Seed Loan; Production Credit Association and the AAA. His office took part in farm labor deferments, increased food production and the purchase of surplus commodities.

He has served as president of the state county agents' association, secretary of Epsilon Sigma Phi, an honorary extension workers association; and in 1944 was awarded a certificate of merit from the national county agents' association, which was worded, "For long and efficient service."

Spencer has been, for the past couple years, serving as assistant county agent of Pocahontas county and is a graduate of West Virginia University. He is married and the father of one child. He will assume his new duties February 1 and will move his family to Petersburg as soon as living quarters can be found.

Brothers Admit Starting Blaze

KEYSER, W. Va.—Two Westernport brothers, brought here for trial on a charge of tampering with a railroad switch, have confessed setting fire to the American Steam Laundry building in 1946, Cpl. R. R. Karickhoff, of the Keyser detachment of State Police, said.

Cpl. Karickhoff said the youths are Lloyd Skidmore, 22, and Harry Skidmore, 24. They were arrested last Friday by Maryland State Police and had waived extradition to face action of the present term of Mineral County Circuit Court.

Four fire companies from the Tri-Towns area fought the blaze which was discovered in the one and one-half story brick building at 9:30 p. m. November 18, 1946.

Damage to the boiler plant and equipment in the laundry was estimated at $1,000. An apartment occupied by Lewis G. Harley above the laundry was damaged to the extent of $600.

The brothers confessed to the arson during questioning by Cpl. Karickhoff. The officer said they denied being involved in other recent fires in the section.

The Mineral County grand jury indicted the pair on a charge of tampering with a Baltimore and Ohio railroad switch on the westbound main line near Piedmont in December.

Last April, an Allegany County Circuit Court jury found the brothers guilty of tampering with a switch on a branch line to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke.

In that instance, a caboose and a car of a short train were derailed. The youths were paroled for a year by Judge William A. Huster.

Local Students Present Program

Students of Fort Hill High School presented a "Fantasy In Reading," a program sponsored by the English department and directed by Mrs. Carolyn Dunlap, at a junior high assembly at the school recently.

The Seventh Grade, directed by Miss Esther Holzshu, reproduced a scene from "Alladin" in a puppet show. Jacqueline Weber was the announcer and parts were portrayed by Edward Cookerly, William Babst, Dorothea Wilson, Betty Ferguson, David Hamilton and William Steppe.

The stage properties were handled by Lois Ringler, and lighting and staging was in charge of Thomas Mardge, Richard Bittner, James Miller and Wallace Keller. The students made the puppets, costumes and properties and wrote the script.

The Eighth Grade enacted "The Mad Tea Party" adapted by students from "Alice In Wonderland". Participants were Shirley Wolford, Harry Miller, Jerry Arthur and Robet Sanders. Mrs. George Bennett and Miss Jean Bowen supervised the dramatization.

A series of "black magic" tricks was presented by the Ninth Grade. Donald Stine, Charles Morris and Richard Broadwater were the performers.

Local Director Speaks To Optimist Club

Harold C. Wickard, director of dramatics at Allegany High School, gave some pointers on amateur theatricals Wednesday night at the regular meeting of the Cumberland Optimist Club in Central YMCA.

Drawing on his experience as a player in 15 days at the University of Maryland and Carnegie Institute of Technology and directing 121 amateur shows, Wickard urged all members to participate in "Headin' Hollywood," a home talent show to be presented May 10, 11 and 12.

Tryout times have not been set yet, according to Robert Arrington, president.

Former POW Arrives At Recruiting Office

A former prisoner of the Germans has come to serve in the Baltimore Street Army and Air Forces Recruiting Office.

M. Sgt. Paul Crabtree spent 16 months in Stalagluft Group 1 while he was a captain with the 381st Air Force Group based near Cambridge, England.

Captured when his ship was shot down over Brunswick, Germany, January 30, 1944, Sgt. Crabtree was liberated May 13, 1945, by the Russians. Unfortunately, this did not mean he could return to his own forces as the Iron Curtain was beginning to fall. Tired of waiting for red tape, he and a comrade hitchhiked to the British lines and were among friends again about June 5.

Sgt. Crabtree has come to Cumberland from two years recruiting duty in Winchester, Va. He was commissioned at Randolph Field, Texas, in May, 1943. He re-enlisted as a master sergeant June 28, 1947.

His wife, Mrs. Jean Crabtree, and three sons, Terry Jan, Paul, Jr., and Reick Allen expect to join him soon.

Sgt. Blair Robinette, formerly stationed at the Baltimore Street Station, received his discharge from the Army this month and is now taking mechanical training in Oakland.

In that instance, a caboose and a car of a short train were derailed. The youths were paroled for a year by Judge William A. Huster.

Local Students Present Program

Students of Fort Hill High School presented a "Fantasy In Reading," a program sponsored by the English department and directed by Mrs. Carolyn Dunlap, at a junior high assembly at the school recently.

The Seventh Grade, directed by Miss Esther Holzshu, reproduced a scene from "Alladin" in a puppet show. Jacqueline Weber was the announcer and parts were portrayed by Edward Cookerly, William Babst, Dorothea Wilson, Betty Ferguson, David Hamilton and William Steppe.

The stage properties were handled by Lois Ringler, and lighting and staging was in charge of Thomas Mardge, Richard Bittner, James Miller and Wallace Keller. The students made the puppets, costumes and properties and wrote the script.

The Eighth Grade enacted "The Mad Tea Party" adapted by students from "Alice In Wonderland". Participants were Shirley Wolford, Harry Miller, Jerry Arthur and Robet Sanders. Mrs. George Bennett and Miss Jean Bowen supervised the dramatization.

A series of "black magic" tricks was presented by the Ninth Grade. Donald Stine, Charles Morris and Richard Broadwater were the performers.

Local Director Speaks To Optimist Club

Harold C. Wickard, director of dramatics at Allegany High School, gave some pointers on amateur theatricals Wednesday night at the regular meeting of the Cumberland Optimist Club in Central YMCA.

Drawing on his experience as a player in 15 days at the University of Maryland and Carnegie Institute of Technology and directing 121 amateur shows, Wickard urged all members to participate in "Headin' Hollywood," a home talent show to be presented May 10, 11 and 12.

Tryout times have not been set yet, according to Robert Arrington, president.

Former POW Arrives At Recruiting Office

A former prisoner of the Germans has come to serve in the Baltimore Street Army and Air Forces Recruiting Office.

M. Sgt. Paul Crabtree spent 16 months in Stalagluft Group 1 while he was a captain with the 381st Air Force Group based near Cambridge, England.

Captured when his ship was shot down over Brunswick, Germany, January 30, 1944, Sgt. Crabtree was liberated May 13, 1945, by the Russians. Unfortunately, this did not mean he could return to his own forces as the Iron Curtain was beginning to fall. Tired of waiting for red tape, he and a comrade hitchhiked to the British lines and were among friends again about June 5.

Sgt. Crabtree has come to Cumberland from two years recruiting duty in Winchester, Va. He was commissioned at Randolph Field, Texas, in May, 1943. He re-enlisted as a master sergeant June 28, 1947.

His wife, Mrs. Jean Crabtree, and three sons, Terry Jan, Paul, Jr., and Reick Allen expect to join him soon.

Sgt. Blair Robinette, formerly stationed at the Baltimore Street Station, received his discharge from the Army this month and is now taking mechanical training in Oakland.

Democrats, Looking Ahead, Think They See Gleam In Tydings' Eye

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—Democrats who have been looking over the field for possible 1952 presidential nominees think they see a gleam in the eye of Sen. Millard E. Tydings.

Tydings shrugs off such suggestions.

But the 58-year-old, jut-jawed Marylander acts like a man with more on his mind than a 1950 race for election to his fifth Senate term.

Recently Tydings has gone out to bag some new tactical advantages in the Senate's political setup.

He has made good on every attempt except one. When he tangled with Sen. McKellar (D-Tenn) for the job of president pro tempore of the Senate, he lost—but by only two votes. This was a surprising showing since McKellar held the job before the Democrats were rudely bumped out of power in the last Congress.

Tydings is tied for third in seniority of service, being outranked only by Sen. McKellar and George (D-Ga). He used this rank to land some coveted jobs when the Democrats reorganized the Senate.

As top Democrat in the Senate Armed Services Committee, he took over the chairmanship. In that spot he will have a backstage view of what's going on in the national defense setup, with admirals and generals at his back when he needs information.

Then Tydings made a surprising move. He gave up a high-ranking place on the Appropriations Committee to become one of the tail-enders on the Foreign Relations Committee. (Senators may be members of only two major committees.)

Appropriations is a powerful committee. Other committees propose, but Appropriations disposes of the funds.

But as a member of foreign relations Tydings will have access to diplomatic maneuvers behind the scenes.

Finally, Tydings exercised his seniority again to claim a place on the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee. There he will have his finger on the pulse of the arm that controls America's mightiest war weapon and its greatest potential for peacetime developments.

Thus it would be as a well-rounded legislator that Tydings might present himself to the 1952 Democratic convention.

He has some other assets. In World War I he was promoted from enlisted man to lieutenant colonel.

He represents a border political state. Generally regarded as middle of the road in his views, he has played an independent role since President Roosevelt tried unsuccessfully to get his scalp in the 1938 purge.

Southern Democrats look upon him as almost—but not quite—one of their own. For instance, in 1946 he voted with them to kill a motion to gag debate on a fair employment practices bill.

The northern wing of the Democratic Party is hardly likely to be enthusiastic about Tydings. Organized labor probably wouldn't swallow him if it could help it.

It's three and a half years, however, until the next Democratic convention. What kind of a party will go into that convention remains to be seen. If it's the kind of party that won last November's election, Tydings wouldn't stand much chance.

Lutherans Schedule Evangelism Program

Rev. William P. Cline, D.D., pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Clarksburg, W. Va., will direct a Lutheran Co-operative Evangelism Program to be inaugurated in the Cumberland area tomorrow.

Rev. Cline has been assigned to the project by the Lutheran Commission on Evangelism.

Participating in the week-long program will be three congregations of the United Lutheran Church in America. They are St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Rev. Dr. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor, and St. Luke's, Rev. Dr. H. Hall Sharp, pastor, this city, and St. Paul's Frostburg, Rev. Harold L. Stoudt, pastor. The Rev. Dr. Sharp is area director.

Visitations of the campaign will be made by trained lay workers of the three congregations, and a school of training for workers of the local churches will be conducted in St. Luke's Church here at 3 p. m. Sunday. Frostburg workers will meet February 1 at 8 p. m. in St. Paul's Church there.

Rev. Cline, who will supervise the week's program, will speak Sunday at 11 a. m. in St. Luke's Church on "Committed Unto Us."

The Evangelism campaign effort in this area is part of a nationwide movement in which eight general Lutheran Church bodies of the National Lutheran Council have committed themselves to a cooperative measure in evangelism for 1949-50, according to Rev. Dr. Sharp. He said these general bodies have appointed a Central Lutheran Commission on Evangelism to coordinate the work throughout this country and Canada.

Lutheran churches in the State of Maryland will inaugurate the national movement from January 30 to February 17. The eight general bodies participating are the United Lutheran Church in America, the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Augustana Lutheran Church, the Lutheran Free Church, the United Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Finnish Suomi Synod and the Danish Lutheran Church.

Every Protection Possible Must Be Provided Miners

The announcement by Senator Robert B. Kimble that he will offer a measure to the Maryland Senate provising for revision of the state's mining laws is comforting to not only miners and their families but to every thoughtful resident of Allegany and Garrett counties.

Senator Kimble, it is known, has been planning such action for some time because he realized that regulations governing operations in Western Maryland mines were far too inadequate to give the necessary protection to those who toil beneath the earth's surface. While it was hardly necessary, the report of the investigation by the Attorney General's office into the disaster which caused five deaths in a Kitzmiller mine, subscribes to Mr. Kimble's thoughts for the welfare of miners. That report supports not only Mr. Kimble's plan of action but advocates many of the regulations the Allegany senator hopes to see incorporated in his bill.

The need for the proposed revision of the mining laws was brought forceably to realization by the series of mines disasters within the past six months. Ten men have died in three accidents. Seven of the victims met death in explosions, five of whom were killed in the Kitzmiller blast. Three had their lives snuffed out as a result of smoke and fumes from a fan-house conflagration pouring into the workings through a ventilating conduit. Two others were killed in a Westernport mine explosion this week.

As a result of these tragedies charges and countercharges have been filling the air. John T. Jones, president of District 16, United Mine Workers of America, has voiced his belief that the Kitzmiller tragedy could have been prevented had proper inspections been made of the operation by state mine bureau officials. On the other hand, those with the authority and the responsibility of seeing to it that regulations governing mining operations were adhered to, have held that the laws had been enforced.

The investigation just completed under the direction of Assistant Attorney General Joseph D. Buscher not only substantiates the claim made by the mine bureau officials but it exonerates them of blame for the disaster. "No justification can be found," the report states, "in acceding to the demands that the director of the Bureau of Mines (Dr. John T. Rutledge) and District Mine Inspector (Clyde J. Rowe) be dismissed, or that a hearing be held."

Senator Kimble had made it known that he would seek a change in the Maryland Bureau of Mines personnel. He proposed that a younger man be named to the post now held by Dr. Rutledge. At the same time, he recognizes Dr. Rutledge's wide knowledge of mining and because of that favors his retention in an advisory capacity. He also raised the question of Mr. Rowe's efficiency but withheld and personal opinion he might entertain.

But in the face of the report, it is quite clear that it is not a matter of enforcement of present laws but lack of sufficient regulations to enforce. Therefore, the mining of coal being what it is—hazardous and not the most pleasant type of work—no more time than is absolutely necessary should be spent in bringing about a corrective measure. All will agree that every protection possible for those who earn their livlihood in the bowels of the earth should be provided. Senator Kimble is to be commended for his advanced efforts toward that end. They should receive the wholehearted support of the Legislature.

Among interesting statistics gathered for 1948 are the results of contests between motorcars and locomotives. The figures as reported stand: Locomotives, 4,500. Motorcars, 0.

Dixie. Hands Hold The High Cards In Congress

As anticipated, most of the committee chairmanships in the Eighty-first Congress are going to Southern Democrats. That is the custom and, you might say, the rule, the condition being taken for granted if a Congress is Democratic.

This is because seniority, with continued service, is the road to all chairmanships. The South keeps on re-electing its Senators and Representatives, and as Jefferson said of Federalist officeholders, "few of them die and none resign;" some of the current Southern leaders are octogenarians or thereabouts. Possibly the Southern climate promotes longevity; obviously tradition and the one-party system both reward it. In the North, the election see-saw between parties may send veteran members clear to the bottom of the committee list; in the South, even when Republicans pick up electoral votes for President—six of its states went for Hoover in 1928—Democratic legislators are returned.

Observance of seniority in the selection of top-ranking military officers in wartime would spell national disaster. In other fields and circumstances it is common and convenient, and, works well enough. For example, labor leaders, who may resent the predominant position of conservative Southern Democrats, never presume to disturb the principle of seniority in their own unions. In Congress it avoids conflicts, minimizes log-rolling, mitigates feuding, and prevents wasted time at the beginning of sessions.

Sometimes, of course, the President's patronage powers are useful in achieving an approach to unanimity with Southern committee chairmen whose views are divergent from his own. Often, as recent history proclaims, they do not avail.

President Truman is being greeted by cries of "Hi, Harry!" by some of the same persons who were calling him a bum three months ago.

Shoe On Other Foot

That there are some people who still think the Government has some source of revenue other than themselves is brought to the fore by a recent Gallup poll.

The pollsters recently asked 3,035 American voters if they thought the new Congress should provide Government money for slum clearance and low-rent housing. Nearly 70 per cent of the voters said "yes."

Then the pollsters asked: "Would you yourself be willing to pay higher taxes to do this?" For nearly 20 per cent of the voters, that was something else again. The affirmative got a bare majority, with home owners—many of whom had to struggle for years to pay off the mortgage—in the group heavily opposed.

King George's Circulation

BUERGER'S DISEASE and arteriosclerosis are the two main types of circulatory disturbances of the lower extremities. In both conditions, the flow of blood to the parts is impeded by obstructing clots and narrowed passageways. As a result, the tissues suffer from lack of nourishment, but months or years may elapse before complete obstruction ensues. During this period, the starving tissues are painful; and if this warning is heeded, and measures are taken to improve the circulation, gangrene and amputation often can be forestalled.

The symptoms of the two disorders are almost the same. When the flow of blood is interrupted only slightly, the victim is bothered by aching in and about the ankles and feet. He is likely to blame flat feet and invest in new shoes and arch supports of various kinds. But relief rarely follows because the cause lies elsewhere.

As the abnormality progresses, the sufferer finds that he can walk only a block or two before encountering painful cramps in the calves of the legs. Discomfort disappears on standing still but recurs after walking an equal distance. As time passes, and the occlusion becomes more complete, distress arises not only on walking but at rest. It is more severe over the areas destined to become gangrenous, especially the toes and feet. The patient describes the difficulty as "burning pain" and partial amelioration may be obtained by hanging the legs over the side of the bed. When this is done, the skin of the extremities assumes a dusky hue, resembling somewhat dirty red bricks.

One of the chief differences between Buerger's disease and arteriosclerosis is in the age group attacked. The former first manifests itself in men between the ages of 17 and 49. Women seldom become afflicted and the majority of victims are heavy smokers. Conversely, hardening of the arteries is not partial to either sex and usually begins to cause trouble after the age of fifty.

• — • — •

Recently King George of England had to cancel his trip to Australia because he was reported to be suffering from Buerger's disease. His majesty is 53 and, to my knowledge, was never bothered before with leg cramps. This led many physicians over here to wonder whether his circulatory disturbance is due to Buerger's or to arteriosclerosis. There were rumors also that X-ray demonstrated small flecks of calcium in the arteries which would substantiate the possibility that these vessels were hardened. At any rate, various treatments are available and we can feel certain that the king will receive the best. Regardless of the diagnosis, his physicians will attempt to improve the blood supply through the use of vasodilating drugs, rest, and mechanical devices such as the payex boot or rhythmic constrictor.

There is no scarcity of remedies and the latest is the use of histamine. One plan is to inject a solution containing this chemical directly into the femoral artery as it passes through the groin. In another, histamine is combined with vitamin C and administered hypodermically beneath the skin.

More Than You Think

There is far more to us all than we think. There are hidden gifts and talents. Abilities that only await an awakening. Nothing inspires one more than the reading of a successful life story. What surprises these men and women discovered within themselves, as they unfolded toward their dreams.

Our greatest discovery is to discover ourselves. Woodrow Wilson once wrote an inspiring little book, which he called "When a Man Comes To Himself." And a writer, in a little book that I recently read, tells of a man who uttered in complete surprise, that he was more than he thought he was—a sensation utterly new to him.

You, who read these lines, are far more important than you think. It would be a good thing to bear this in mind, when you get discouraged, or think that there is no place in the world for you. There may be places of which you never dreamed—awaiting your approach to them.

There is a secret power within every human being. To search this out and discover it, is to have found the real path to life. Then it remains only for you to continue your journey toward your heart's desire—your objective in life. Be that what it may, if it gives personal satisfaction, you are a success.

"After all," wrote Michael Fairless, "What do we ask of life, here or indeed hereafter, but leave to serve, to live, to commune with our fellow-men and with ourselves; and from the lap of earth to look up into the face of God?" The beautiful writer of these lines was dying as she wrote—but she didn't realize that she was only starting to live! Her little book, "The Roadmender," has been published in a score or more editions and sold to over half a million people. Her real name was Margaret Fairless Barber.

Miracles have happened in the lives of millions of people. What a surprise it must have been to those early companions of Abraham Lincoln, who knew him only as the partner store-keeper in the little town of Salem, Illinois, when they saw him become President of the United States! There was more in Abraham Lincoln than he ever dreamed there was—and perhaps more than we now can fathom.

Secretary Brannan Anticipates Grain Surplus This Coming Year; "Speculating" Sen. Thomas Urges Curbing Speculation; Lodge For More Security

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Forthright Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan warned a closed-door Senate session this week that the government may have to buy up 800,000,000 bushels of grain this coming year.

Reporting to a private session of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Brannan explained that farmers are overplanting grain and cotton, that prices may go into a tailspin. In this case the Government will have to take the crops off the farmers' hands. The money to do this, Brannan cautioned, is limited.

"Next year," he declared, "it is entirely possible we will have all of our working funds committed."

Though the Secretary of Agriculture could use more funds to protect support prices, it isn't likely that Congress will add to the $4,750,000,000 now available. This means the Government will probably be forced to lower support prices.

Senator Milton Young, North Dakota Republican, asked whether Brannan favored support prices kept as high as 100 per cent of parity, such as demanded by the Farmers Union.

"It is desirable," replied the Secretary of Agriculture, "but looking at the other aspects of the price-support program, I don't believe it is at all possible."

He pointed out that the Agriculture Department not only couldn't stretch its money that far, but that 100 per cent of parity would encourage even more overplanting. Result would be an oversupply of commodities supported by the Government and a scarcity of commodities not under the price-support program.

In the end, it would be the housewives who would pay the bill, cautioned the Secretary of Agriculture. Abundant commodities would cost more because of the high prices paid by the Government to farmers, while scarce goods would also cost more because there wouldn't be enough to go around.

"The American people," Brannan shook his head, "will not stand for extreme costs."

Senator Thomas' Elevators

Senators were amazed and amused when Chairman Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, the speculating Senator, put forward an idea for curbing speculation. The man who was once up to his neck in the commodity market urged laying aside tremendous stocks of cotton and grain in order to discourage speculation. By taking large bulks out of circulation, Thomas argued, the speculators would have less to work with.

One Senator bit his tongue to keep from smiling. For it was the very same Thomas who delivered speeches on the Senate floor blasting the OPA for trying to restrict speculation, together with other speeches bound to influence the commodity market following which his friends cashed in. When colleagues started investigating Thomas, he scared off super-snooper Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan with a letter threatening to expose some of Ferguson's activities.

Note—Maybe the reason Thomas has changed his tune, now favors Government purchase of warehouses and grain elevators, is that his speculating friend, Dyke Cullum, has been urging this.

Brannan Says No

Secretary Brannan didn't think much of Senator Thomas's suggestion. He wants Congress to remove the GOP-imposed restriction limiting the storage space which the Government can lease, but he did not want the Government to go into the business of buying or constructing elevators and warehouses. The Agriculture Department would rather help farm co-ops build storage, he said.

The Secretary of Agriculture also dropped this significant hint to the closed-door Senatorial meeting:

This year's crop will not be used as a basis for figuring future acreage allotments under crop controls.

Citrus Fruit

Florida's Senator Spessard Holland raised the question of price supports for tree crops—such as Florida's citrus fruits, tung oil and pecans. He cited a letter from Ralph Trigg, head of Production and Marketing, reporting that the Agriculture Department contemplated no supports for tree crops.

Brannan replied that these commodities are indirectly supported by heavy Government purchases for school lunches and the European Recovery Program.

Lodge Bill For Workers

A little-noticed bill affecting several million workers and several thousand factories has just been introduced by Senator Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts Republican. It would require firms that do business with the Government to hire their employees by the year.

The company that has the security of a Government contract, argues Lodge, should pass that security on to its employees.

"The employee who receives this assurance then knows where he stands," explains the Senator from Massachusetts. "He can make commitments for the education of his children, for necessary dental or medical work, for payments on his house and for the other things which raise his standard of living.

"Unless he receives a guarantee that his wages would be paid for a year, he cannot make these commitments. Although he might by the end of the year have earned as much money, the fact that he had no assurance of it would have required him to live virtually a hand-to-mouth existence."

Fall Of China And Effect On The Political Picture

By MARK SULLIVAN

The meeting of the Republican National Committee at Omaha this week dealt almost wholly with a not very vital matter of intra-party organization, a controversy over choosing a chairman of the national committee. In what went out through news channels, there was little to impress the public with much beyond lack of party morale and self-confidence.

This is an epitome of the Republican situation ever since the November election, nothing very important to the public taking place within the party, and the public not giving much thought of it. It is the opposition party, but not an opposition party eagerly on its toes for fray ahead—in this case the Congressional elections next year and the Presidential one in 1952. It has had the downcast appearance of a party that had been fourteen years out of power, that had made a strong start back in the Congressional elections of 1946, that confidently expected to complete the comeback in the Presidential election last November—but instead got such a blow as has rarely if ever been experienced before by either party. The Republicans have been dazed, not so much by the degree of their defeat, which was really not great, as by the utter unexpectedness of it.

Confused Uncertainty

In this condition—confused uncertainty within the party, indifference to it on the part of the public, and elated confidence on the part of the party in power—there took place an event which must drastically change the political picture. When the fall of China to Communism is fully grasped; when there is understanding of its cause and its consequences, especially to us in our relation to Russia and Communism; when it is seen as the climax of a long course of policy and action by our own government, our people are likely to be deeply moved and to express themselves politically. Such political consequences as follow cannot avoid being detrimental to the party that was in power when the fall of China and the events leading up to it took place.

During some two years, beginning after late 1946, the United States under the Truman Administration has become the spearhead of resistance to the attempt of Russia and Communism at world domination, the head and front of one side in a world conflict. This has had the complete approval of our people, including support by the opposition party for a bi-partisan policy. Our people have not merely seen the only safety for our own nation to lie in resisting Russian and Communist aggression, they have taken ride in our role of head contender against Communism throughout the world, have given heart to the fight and vast amounts of goods and money to carry it on.

In the world conflict we have now suffered an extreme reverse. We have seen further that we have ourselves been a large cause of the reverse. Preceding the period of resistance to Russia, there was a period, reaching back into the Roosevelt Administration, in which our policy was one of strong friendliness to Russia. During that period President Roosevelt, at the Yalta Conference in early 1945, made agreements with Stalin by which Russia at the end of the war got territory and other advantages at the expense of China. From that territory and with these advantages came impetus and headway for the Communist drive that has now gone on to overthrow of the Chinese government.

The Tendency In The Past

In most countries, when serious reverse is suffered in a conflict having in any serious degree an aspect of war, actual or potential, the tendency is to reject the party in power at the next ensuing election. Another tendency is to turn out the party in power at the first election following a war, as in the English defeat of Churchill and the Conservatives at the end of the recent war, and our country's defeat of the Democrats following the First World War.

By this tendency of peoples and these precedents, the Democrats and President Truman should have been defeated last November. The many predictions of defeat were sound enough as an interpretation of history. In any thorough examination of the reasons Mr. Truman was not defeated, it is not a loose "if" to suggest that if the fall of China had taken place last September the outcome of the election might have been different. By the same token, the fall of China that has now taken place is a foreboding omen to the party in power in the Congressional elections next year.

Republicans About To Lose The Weapon Of A Minority

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — The Republicans in the Senate are about to make a mistake which will rise to plague them for years to come and may make such a fundamental change in congressional government as to bring forth a demand for a single instead of a two-House system.

The Republicans have lined up behind a move which will permit a majority to shut off debate. Some Republicans favor a simple majority and others favor two-thirds to apply cloture on those procedural points not covered by the present rule whereby debate is limited in part. But in either event, it would be possible for the minority to be deprived of its right to be heard.

For decades the United States Senate has been the one place in the world of free governments where the minority could not be shouted down and its chance taken away to be heard fully and comprehensively.

Now it is asserted that even the present rule which applies cloture in certain instances but does not really prevent extended debate if, members choose to make use of the procedures available to them has been rarely invoked. But if all motions and procedures are to be covered by a two-thirds cloture, it would be a simple matter later on to change it to a majority of those present. The Senate then would become almost identical in its procedure with the House of Representatives, thus making it logical to call for a monocameral or single-house system. Such a plan would place the western states and others with a small population at a serious disadvantage and would abolish the sovereignty of the states for all practical purposes.

Real Objection To Rule

The real objection to the adoption of any absolute rule to cut off debate is that it encourages the formation of arbitrary and intolerant majorities which can become tyrannical.

The argument that recourse can be had at the polls against such a majority falls to the ground, because two thirds of the Senate members do not come up for election each congressional year and it is possible for a majority of two thirds to invoke cloture and not be held accountable for as many as four years.

If cloture is adopted, then logically the people must have some quicker means of redress than they have today. In the democracy of Canada and other English-speaking governments, the people can overrule their national legislative body at any time. An election can be held to determine whether a majority misinterpreted or correctly interpreted the will of the people.

In the sense that the adoption of cloture may hasten the day when a constitutional amendment is adopted calling for the removal of a President when he fails by a two-thirds vote to retain the confidence of both Houses of Congress and calling for replacement of members when they have lost the confidence of the people, the step can be welcomed. But to adopt cloture without at the same time giving the people an instantaneous check on an arbitrary majority is illogical and inconsistent.

The Republicans are playing bad politics when they join with the northern Democrats to change the rules governing debate. Already this week they have an example of how an intolerant majority functions when it wishes to cut off hearings in an important committee considering labor-management legislation of far-reaching importance to the people.

To find the Republicans anxious to make political capital out of the discomfiture of the Democrats who are divided on the civil-rights issue is regrettable, because on its face the maneuver is hypocritical. The sponsors of civil rights for negroes presumably are not yet ready to support a measure to protect the civil rights of the white man.

There are more instances each year of violence on the picket line in labor disputes, more instances of cars overturned as workers seek to get into factory parking lots and more instances of intimidation in the homes of workers by strong-arm men than there have been lynchings in the last 10 years. The proposal to put the police power of the federal government behind the civil rights of negroes would be widely acclaimed if it were broadened to include all manner of violence in which citizens have not been given protection by the local authorities. If any Republican or any southern Democrat sought the passage of any such all-inclusive law, the northern Democrats would never support it and would back away from the issue.

The anti-filibuster movement is really tied up with a movement by the Republicans to win the Negro vote in the north, though, to be sure, a large part of it has gone Democratic for several years notwithstanding the fact that the late President Roosevelt never attempted to force the members of his own party from the South to give up their right to unlimited debate and to jam through Congress any civil-rights legislation.

The Republicans are the minority party in Congress and filibustering is a weapon of the minority. That's why it seems strange that the Republican leaders are willing to give up the one method left in congressional procedure by which the arbitrariness of any majority in either party can be held in check.

The Communist Trial

The Communists now being tried in New York have raised an issue which needs the widest discussion.

The 12 Communists being tried constitute the national committee of the Communist Party of America. One of them, William Z. Foster, the chairman, is ill and has been severed for a separate trial. The indictment does not, of course, make them guilty; it only stipulates offenses. The indictment was drawn by a grand jury after devoting 18 months to sifting a mass of material concerning a Communist conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States. This is the same grand jury that indicted Alger Hiss for perjury.

The 12 indicted Communists are to be tried before a trial jury still to be sworn in. The Communists have raised this issue: Both the grand jury and the trial jury are illegal because improperly drawn, as negroes, Jews, laborers and poor people are not on them.

The law only provides that they should be American citizens.

The fundamental question raised by the Communists is, what kind of people are we? Are we Americans or are we Jews, Catholics, Protestants, Negroes, whites, Nisei, Italo-Americans, workers, capitalists, management, labor leaders? Are we already broken up into little segments? Surely no nation so divided can long endure.

The fifth amendment to the Constitution provides:

"No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger . . ."

The courts have held that " . . . a change in the indictment deprives the court of the power of proceeding to try the accused."

But what happens if the grand jury is found to be illegal? Then, of course, the indictment would be quashed. If then the statute of limitations had run, the trial may not proceed. Otherwise, a new indictment has to be obtained. If the trial jury should be found illegal, then that jury is dismissed and another must be found.

". . . the rule as now stated is that a person has been in jeopardy when he is regularly charged with a crime before a tribunal properly organized and competent to try him — certainly so when acquitted..." These men are now charged before a properly constituted court, but they contend that it was done by an illegal grand jury. They contend that no grand or petit jury in New York can be legal because of the current procedure. What they are actually fighting for is the death of the indictment. And should they succeed, thousands of criminal cases in United States courts may have to be reopened.

Grand juries and trial juries, in this area, are "hand-picked". The reason ought to be obvious: In a large city, where neighbor does not know neighbor, it is possible to have juries of bums, loafers, crooks, scoundrels, and bribe-takers. Also, while it is true that a man is to be tried by his peers—a word that means equals"—it is also true that in a city of 8,000,000 population, it is next to impossible to get intelligent "equals" by a hit-or-miss method.

How to pick jurors is a pretty tough problem. Some do it out of the telephone book, from voting lists, from local tax lists. Judge John C. Knox, presiding justice of the federal court in the southern district of New York, instituted a method that is both representative and equitable, preference being given to responsibility, education, intelligence. No questions of political, racial or religious affiliation arise.

Someone has to decide what constitutes the "best." Is it "best" that members of Marcantonio's clubs should fill the panels? Somebody has to decide on a formula. The officers of the court make the decisions.

Some lawyers cannot be blamed for objecting to intelligence on the juries when it would serve their clients to leave dopes, bums and bribe-takers on the juries. But the Communists have raised altogether a different issue, namely, that we are not a nation but a congeries of groups. That idea ought not to be tolerated. It is destructive.

Every Protection Possible Must Be Provided Miners

The announcement by Senator Robert B. Kimble that he will offer a measure to the Maryland Senate provising for revision of the state's mining laws is comforting to not only miners and their families but to every thoughtful resident of Allegany and Garrett counties.

Senator Kimble, it is known, has been planning such action for some time because he realized that regulations governing operations in Western Maryland mines were far too inadequate to give the necessary protection to those who toil beneath the earth's surface. While it was hardly necessary, the report of the investigation by the Attorney General's office into the disaster which caused five deaths in a Kitzmiller mine, subscribes to Mr. Kimble's thoughts for the welfare of miners. That report supports not only Mr. Kimble's plan of action but advocates many of the regulations the Allegany senator hopes to see incorporated in his bill.

The need for the proposed revision of the mining laws was brought forceably to realization by the series of mines disasters within the past six months. Ten men have died in three accidents. Seven of the victims met death in explosions, five of whom were killed in the Kitzmiller blast. Three had their lives snuffed out as a result of smoke and fumes from a fan-house conflagration pouring into the workings through a ventilating conduit. Two others were killed in a Westernport mine explosion this week.

As a result of these tragedies charges and countercharges have been filling the air. John T. Jones, president of District 16, United Mine Workers of America, has voiced his belief that the Kitzmiller tragedy could have been prevented had proper inspections been made of the operation by state mine bureau officials. On the other hand, those with the authority and the responsibility of seeing to it that regulations governing mining operations were adhered to, have held that the laws had been enforced.

The investigation just completed under the direction of Assistant Attorney General Joseph D. Buscher not only substantiates the claim made by the mine bureau officials but it exonerates them of blame for the disaster. "No justification can be found," the report states, "in acceding to the demands that the director of the Bureau of Mines (Dr. John T. Rutledge) and District Mine Inspector (Clyde J. Rowe) be dismissed, or that a hearing be held."

Senator Kimble had made it known that he would seek a change in the Maryland Bureau of Mines personnel. He proposed that a younger man be named to the post now held by Dr. Rutledge. At the same time, he recognizes Dr. Rutledge's wide knowledge of mining and because of that favors his retention in an advisory capacity. He also raised the question of Mr. Rowe's efficiency but withheld and personal opinion he might entertain.

But in the face of the report, it is quite clear that it is not a matter of enforcement of present laws but lack of sufficient regulations to enforce. Therefore, the mining of coal being what it is—hazardous and not the most pleasant type of work—no more time than is absolutely necessary should be spent in bringing about a corrective measure. All will agree that every protection possible for those who earn their livlihood in the bowels of the earth should be provided. Senator Kimble is to be commended for his advanced efforts toward that end. They should receive the wholehearted support of the Legislature.

Among interesting statistics gathered for 1948 are the results of contests between motorcars and locomotives. The figures as reported stand: Locomotives, 4,500. Motorcars, 0.

Dixie Hands Hold The High Cards In Congress

As anticipated, most of the committee chairmanships in the Eighty-first Congress are going to Southern Democrats. That is the custom and, you might say, the rule, the condition being taken for granted if a Congress is Democratic.

This is because seniority, with continued service, is the road to all chairmanships. The South keeps on re-electing its Senators and Representatives, and as Jefferson said of Federalist officeholders, "few of them die and none resign;" some of the current Southern leaders are octogenarians or thereabouts. Possibly the Southern climate promotes longevity; obviously tradition and the one-party system both reward it. In the North, the election see-saw between parties may send veteran members clear to the bottom of the committee list; in the South, even when Republicans pick up electoral votes for President—six of its states went for Hoover in 1928—Democratic legislators are returned.

Observance of seniority in the selection of top-ranking military officers in wartime would spell national disaster. In other fields and circumstances it is common and convenient, and, works well enough. For example, labor leaders, who may resent the predominant position of conservative Southern Democrats, never presume to disturb the principle of seniority in their own unions. In Congress it avoids conflicts, minimizes log-rolling, mitigates feuding, and prevents wasted time at the beginning of sessions.

Sometimes, of course, the President's patronage powers are useful in achieving an approach to unanimity with Southern committee chairmen whose views are divergent from his own. Often, as recent history proclaims, they do not avail.

President Truman is being greeted by cries of "Hi, Harry!" by some of the same persons who were calling him a bum three months ago.

Shoe On Other Foot

That there are some people who still think the Government has some source of revenue other than themselves is brought to the fore by a recent Gallup poll.

The pollsters recently asked 3,035 American voters if they thought the new Congress should provide Government money for slum clearance and low-rent housing. Nearly 70 per cent of the voters said "yes."

Then the pollsters asked: "Would you yourself be willing to pay higher taxes to do this?" For nearly 20 per cent of the voters, that was something else again. The affirmative got a bare majority, with home owners—many of whom had to struggle for years to pay off the mortgage—in the group heavily opposed.

Secretary Brannan Anticipates Grain Surplus This Coming Year; "Speculating" Sen. Thomas Urges Curbing Speculation; Lodge For More Security

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Forthright Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan warned a closed-door Senate session this week that the government may have to buy up 800,000,000 bushels of grain this coming year.

Reporting to a private session of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Brannan explained that farmers are overplanting grain and cotton, that prices may go into a tailspin. In this case the Government will have to take the crops off the farmers' hands. The money to do this, Brannan cautioned, is limited.

"Next year," he declared, "it is entirely possible we will have all of our working funds committed."

Though the Secretary of Agriculture could use more funds to protect support prices, it isn't likely that Congress will add to the $4,750,000,000 now available. This means the Government will probably be forced to lower support prices.

Senator Milton Young, North Dakota Republican, asked whether Brannan favored support prices kept as high as 100 per cent of parity, such as demanded by the Farmers Union.

"It is desirable," replied the Secretary of Agriculture, "but looking at the other aspects of the price-support program, I don't believe it is at all possible."

He pointed out that the Agriculture Department not only couldn't stretch its money that far, but that 100 per cent of parity would encourage even more overplanting. Result would be an oversupply of commodities supported by the Government and a scarcity of commodities not under the price-support program.

In the end, it would be the housewives who would pay the bill, cautioned the Secretary of Agriculture. Abundant commodities would cost more because of the high prices paid by the Government to farmers, while scarce goods would also cost more because there wouldn't be enough to go around.

"The American people," Brannan shook his head, "will not stand for extreme costs."

Senator Thomas' Elevators

Senators were amazed and amused when Chairman Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, the speculating Senator, put forward an idea for curbing speculation. The man who was once up to his neck in the commodity market urged laying aside tremendous stocks of cotton and grain in order to discourage speculation. By taking large bulks out of circulation, Thomas argued, the speculators would have less to work with.

One Senator bit his tongue to keep from smiling. For it was the very same Thomas who delivered speeches on the Senate floor blasting the OPA for trying to restrict speculation, together with other speeches bound to influence the commodity market following which his friends cashed in. When colleagues started investigating Thomas, he scared off super-snooper Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan with a letter threatening to expose some of Ferguson's activities.

Note—Maybe the reason Thomas has changed his tune, now favors Government purchase of warehouses and grain elevators, is that his speculating friend, Dyke Cullum, has been urging this.

Brannan Says No

Secretary Brannan didn't think much of Senator Thomas's suggestion. He wants Congress to remove the GOP-imposed restriction limiting the storage space which the Government can lease, but he did not want the Government to go into the business of buying or constructing elevators and warehouses. The Agriculture Department would rather help farm co-ops build storage, he said.

The Secretary of Agriculture also dropped this significant hint to the closed-door Senatorial meeting:

This year's crop will not be used as a basis for figuring future acreage allotments under crop controls.

Citrus Fruit

Florida's Senator Spessard Holland raised the question of price supports for tree crops—such as Florida's citrus fruits, tung oil and pecans. He cited a letter from Ralph Trigg, head of Production and Marketing, reporting that the Agriculture Department contemplated no supports for tree crops.

Brannan replied that these commodities are indirectly supported by heavy Government purchases for school lunches and the European Recovery Program.

Lodge Bill For Workers

A little-noticed bill affecting several million workers and several thousand factories has just been introduced by Senator Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts Republican. It would require firms that do business with the Government to hire their employees by the year.

The company that has the security of a Government contract, argues Lodge, should pass that security on to its employees.

"The employee who receives this assurance then knows where he stands," explains the Senator from Massachusetts. "He can make commitments for the education of his children, for necessary dental or medical work, for payments on his house and for the other things which raise his standard of living.

"Unless he receives a guarantee that his wages would be paid for a year, he cannot make these commitments. Although he might by the end of the year have earned as much money, the fact that he had no assurance of it would have required him to live virtually a hand-to-mouth existence."

Fall Of China And Effect On The Political Picture

By MARK SULLIVAN

The meeting of the Republican National Committee at Omaha this week dealt almost wholly with a not very vital matter of intra-party organization, a controversy over choosing a chairman of the national committee. In what went out through news channels, there was little to impress the public with much beyond lack of party morale and self-confidence.

This is an epitome of the Republican situation ever since the November election, nothing very important to the public taking place within the party, and the public not giving much thought of it. It is the opposition party, but not an opposition party eagerly on its toes for fray ahead—in this case the Congressional elections next year and the Presidential one in 1952. It has had the downcast appearance of a party that had been fourteen years out of power, that had made a strong start back in the Congressional elections of 1946, that confidently expected to complete the comeback in the Presidential election last November—but instead got such a blow as has rarely if ever been experienced before by either party. The Republicans have been dazed, not so much by the degree of their defeat, which was really not great, as by the utter unexpectedness of it.

Confused Uncertainty

In this condition—confused uncertainty within the party, indifference to it on the part of the public, and elated confidence on the part of the party in power—there took place an event which must drastically change the political picture. When the fall of China to Communism is fully grasped; when there is understanding of its cause and its consequences, especially to us in our relation to Russia and Communism; when it is seen as the climax of a long course of policy and action by our own government, our people are likely to be deeply moved and to express themselves politically. Such political consequences as follow cannot avoid being detrimental to the party that was in power when the fall of China and the events leading up to it took place.

During some two years, beginning after late 1946, the United States under the Truman Administration has become the spearhead of resistance to the attempt of Russia and Communism at world domination, the head and front of one side in a world conflict. This has had the complete approval of our people, including support by the opposition party for a bi-partisan policy. Our people have not merely seen the only safety for our own nation to lie in resisting Russian and Communist aggression, they have taken ride in our role of head contender against Communism throughout the world, have given heart to the fight and vast amounts of goods and money to carry it on.

In the world conflict we have now suffered an extreme reverse. We have seen further that we have ourselves been a large cause of the reverse. Preceding the period of resistance to Russia, there was a period, reaching back into the Roosevelt Administration, in which our policy was one of strong friendliness to Russia. During that period President Roosevelt, at the Yalta Conference in early 1945, made agreements with Stalin by which Russia at the end of the war got territory and other advantages at the expense of China. From that territory and with these advantages came impetus and headway for the Communist drive that has now gone on to overthrow of the Chinese government.

The Tendency In The Past

In most countries, when serious reverse is suffered in a conflict having in any serious degree an aspect of war, actual or potential, the tendency is to reject the party in power at the next ensuing election. Another tendency is to turn out the party in power at the first election following a war, as in the English defeat of Churchill and the Conservatives at the end of the recent war, and our country's defeat of the Democrats following the First World War.

By this tendency of peoples and these precedents, the Democrats and President Truman should have been defeated last November. The many predictions of defeat were sound enough as an interpretation of history. In any thorough examination of the reasons Mr. Truman was not defeated, it is not a loose "if" to suggest that if the fall of China had taken place last September the outcome of the election might have been different. By the same token, the fall of China that has now taken place is a foreboding omen to the party in power in the Congressional elections next year.

Republicans About To Lose The Weapon Of A Minority

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — The Republicans in the Senate are about to make a mistake which will rise to plague them for years to come and may make such a fundamental change in congressional government as to bring forth a demand for a single instead of a two-House system.

The Republicans have lined up behind a move which will permit a majority to shut off debate. Some Republicans favor a simple majority and others favor two-thirds to apply cloture on those procedural points not covered by the present rule whereby debate is limited in part. But in either event, it would be possible for the minority to be deprived of its right to be heard.

For decades the United States Senate has been the one place in the world of free governments where the minority could not be shouted down and its chance taken away to be heard fully and comprehensively.

Now it is asserted that even the present rule which applies cloture in certain instances but does not really prevent extended debate if, members choose to make use of the procedures available to them has been rarely invoked. But if all motions and procedures are to be covered by a two-thirds cloture, it would be a simple matter later on to change it to a majority of those present. The Senate then would become almost identical in its procedure with the House of Representatives, thus making it logical to call for a monocameral or single-house system. Such a plan would place the western states and others with a small population at a serious disadvantage and would abolish the sovereignty of the states for all practical purposes.

Real Objection To Rule

The real objection to the adoption of any absolute rule to cut off debate is that it encourages the formation of arbitrary and intolerant majorities which can become tyrannical.

The argument that recourse can be had at the polls against such a majority falls to the ground, because two thirds of the Senate members do not come up for election each congressional year and it is possible for a majority of two thirds to invoke cloture and not be held accountable for as many as four years.

If cloture is adopted, then logically the people must have some quicker means of redress than they have today. In the democracy of Canada and other English-speaking governments, the people can overrule their national legislative body at any time. An election can be held to determine whether a majority misinterpreted or correctly interpreted the will of the people.

In the sense that the adoption of cloture may hasten the day when a constitutional amendment is adopted calling for the removal of a President when he fails by a two-thirds vote to retain the confidence of both Houses of Congress and calling for replacement of members when they have lost the confidence of the people, the step can be welcomed. But to adopt cloture without at the same time giving the people an instantaneous check on an arbitrary majority is illogical and inconsistent.

The Republicans are playing bad politics when they join with the northern Democrats to change the rules governing debate. Already this week they have an example of how an intolerant majority functions when it wishes to cut off hearings in an important committee considering labor-management legislation of far-reaching importance to the people.

To find the Republicans anxious to make political capital out of the discomfiture of the Democrats who are divided on the civil-rights issue is regrettable, because on its face the maneuver is hypocritical. The sponsors of civil rights for negroes presumably are not yet ready to support a measure to protect the civil rights of the white man.

There are more instances each year of violence on the picket line in labor disputes, more instances of cars overturned as workers seek to get into factory parking lots and more instances of intimidation in the homes of workers by strong-arm men than there have been lynchings in the last 10 years. The proposal to put the police power of the federal government behind the civil rights of negroes would be widely acclaimed if it were broadened to include all manner of violence in which citizens have not been given protection by the local authorities. If any Republican or any southern Democrat sought the passage of any such all-inclusive law, the northern Democrats would never support it and would back away from the issue.

The anti-filibuster movement is really tied up with a movement by the Republicans to win the Negro vote in the north, though, to be sure, a large part of it has gone Democratic for several years notwithstanding the fact that the late President Roosevelt never attempted to force the members of his own party from the South to give up their right to unlimited debate and to jam through Congress any civil-rights legislation.

The Republicans are the minority party in Congress and filibustering is a weapon of the minority. That's why it seems strange that the Republican leaders are willing to give up the one method left in congressional procedure by which the arbitrariness of any majority in either party can be held in check.

The Communist Trial

The Communists now being tried in New York have raised an issue which needs the widest discussion.

The 12 Communists being tried constitute the national committee of the Communist Party of America. One of them, William Z. Foster, the chairman, is ill and has been severed for a separate trial. The indictment does not, of course, make them guilty; it only stipulates offenses. The indictment was drawn by a grand jury after devoting 18 months to sifting a mass of material concerning a Communist conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States. This is the same grand jury that indicted Alger Hiss for perjury.

The 12 indicted Communists are to be tried before a trial jury still to be sworn in. The Communists have raised this issue: Both the grand jury and the trial jury are illegal because improperly drawn, as negroes, Jews, laborers and poor people are not on them.

The law only provides that they should be American citizens.

The fundamental question raised by the Communists is, what kind of people are we? Are we Americans or are we Jews, Catholics, Protestants, Negroes, whites, Nisei, Italo-Americans, workers, capitalists, management, labor leaders? Are we already broken up into little segments? Surely no nation so divided can long endure.

The fifth amendment to the Constitution provides:

"No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger . . ."

The courts have held that ". . . a change in the indictment deprives the court of the power of proceeding to try the accused."

But what happens if the grand jury is found to be illegal? Then, of course, the indictment would be quashed. If then the statute of limitations had run, the trial may not proceed. Otherwise, a new indictment has to be obtained. If the trial jury should be found illegal, then that jury is dismissed and another must be found.

". . . the rule as now stated is that a person has been in jeopardy when he is regularly charged with a crime before a tribunal properly organized and competent to try him — certainly so when acquitted. . ." These men are now charged before a properly constituted court, but they contend that it was done by an illegal grand jury. They contend that no grand or petit jury in New York can be legal because of the current procedure. What they are actually fighting for is the death of the indictment. And should they succeed, thousands of criminal cases in United States courts may have to be reopened.

Grand juries and trial juries, in this area, are "hand-picked". The reason ought to be obvious: In a large city, where neighbor does not know neighbor, it is possible to have juries of bums, loafers, crooks, scoundrels, and bribe-takers. Also, while it is true that a man is to be tried by his peers—a word that means equals"—it is also true that in a city of 8,000,000 population, it is next to impossible to get intelligent "equals" by a hit-or-miss method.

How to pick jurors is a pretty tough problem. Some do it out of the telephone book, from voting lists, from local tax lists. Judge John C. Knox, presiding justice of the federal court in the southern district of New York, instituted a method that is both representative and equitable, preference being given to responsibility, education, intelligence. No questions of political, racial or religious affiliation arise.

Someone has to decide what constitutes the "best." Is it "best" that members of Marcantonio's clubs should fill the panels? Somebody has to decide on a formula. The officers of the court make the decisions.

Some lawyers cannot be blamed for objecting to intelligence on the juries when it would serve their clients to leave dopes, bums and bribe-takers on the juries. But the Communists have raised altogether a different issue, namely, that we are not a nation but a congeries of groups. That idea ought not to be tolerated. It is destructive.

Figures In Trial Of Top U. S. Reds Are Threatened

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—The conspiracy trial of 11 top United States Communists was jolted today by the disclosure that the presiding jurist, the defendants and their attorneys have received threatening letters.

The disclosure first was made by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina after the court had been called back into session after a luncheon recess.

Addressing the Court, Medina announced he had received threatening "communications" at his home and added:

Doesn't See Any Danger

"I don't think I am in any danger, but if I'm wrong, I'll face the risk calmly."

He said he had "no notion" of what inspired the letters.

No sooner did he finish than Harry Sacher, one of the battery of defense lawyers, got to his feet and announced that he too—along with the defendants, all members of the American Communist Party's National Committee, and the other defense lawyers—had been threatened by mail. He said there were threats of violence against "ourselves, our wives and children."

The exact contents of the letters were not disclosed.

There was no immediate word as to whether extra police precautions would be taken in behalf of all those threatened.

Doesn't Blame Defendants

Medina told the courtroom:

"There is no mystery, no danger. I have felt not the slightest concern about the communications I have been receiving."

He added he did not think that the letters were "inspired by the defendants or counsel." The defendants are charged with conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the United States government.

Shortly before his announcement Medina's wife, apparently upset over the letters, had requested extra police protection for the jurist.

Two Women, Man Die In Subwav Blaze

BOSTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Trapped in a smoke-darkened subway station, two women and a man perished today and 11 others were injured in a fire which sent hundreds of morning rush-hour commuters into a swift panic deep underground before they escaped up stairs to a street.

Other passengers just leaving a train were saved when a guard called them back inside and the train pulled away from the choking blackness of the State Street-Atlantic Avenue station, near the waterfront and the Boston finacnial district.

Killed were Joan E. Lee, 24, a typist, of Everett, and Ethel Marie Butler, 52, of Billerica, a New England Telephone Company employe.

Medical Officer At Wurzburg Is Freed Of Charge

FORT MEADE, Md., Jan. 28 (AP)—Capt. Joel G. Holmes, Jr., Philadelphia, was acquitted today of neglecting his duty in the treatment of soldiers at the Wurzburg, Germany, disciplinary camp.

Holmes was the medical officer at Wurzburg when alleged mistreatment of prisoners took place in January, 1947.

The general court-martial which has been trying Holmes for the past two weeks returned the not-guilty verdict late today.

Three of Holmes' superior officers at Wurzburg will be tried separately on similar charges when the court-martial resumes Tuesday.

Russian Fliers Will Tour Virginia Shrines

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 28 (AP)—Two young Russian flyers who said they wanted to visit Virginia and the United States after fleeing the Soviet Union are going to see their wish come true.

The two Russians, Lieutenants Peter Afanasevich Pirogov and Anatol Porferevich Barsov, will tour Virginia's historic shrines and see the state's "sights" beginning sometime next week, the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce said tonight.

The Virginia organization said that every opportunity would be afforded the Russians to obtain a comprehensive, well-balanced picture of American life.

The compromise decision was announced following a conference of the foreign ministers of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. It constitutes a major step toward a full-fledged Western European union.

By giving the go-ahead signal for establishment of the council, the five ministers ended a deadlock which had extended for months. A communique said the ministers "decided to invite other European countries to take part in the negotiations for the establishment of the Council of Europe."

The council, the communique added, will be divided into two sections—a "Ministerial Council," which will meet privately and be responsible directly to the various member governments, and an advisory "consultative body," which will debate in public any matters except mutual defense.

Air Force Bows To Truman Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—The nation's to pair leaders endorsed President Truman's 48-group Air Force program today with little outward show of disappointment at backtracking from their original 70-group goal.

But Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington told the House Armed Services Committee, referring to 70-group strength:

"When we can afford it, I think it's essential to the security of the United States."

Both Symington and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, said they favor authority for eventually building up to the 70-group figure. Vandenberg said it is necessary for planning purposes.

A hint that congressional leaders may be maneuvering behind the scenes to give the Air Force more strength than President Truman requested came from Chairman Vinson (D-Ga), of the House group.

Vinson asked Symington how much more money would be needed in fiscal 1950 to carry on the 70-group expansion program if Congress decided to add $800,000,000 to the President's Air Force budget.

"We'd be about $2,000,000,000 short," Symington replied.

The Republican-controlled 80th Congress last year provided funds to finance the expansion program only for the current fiscal year. Actually, the long-range plan would require four to five years to complete.

New Anti-Filibuster Argument Is Raised

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Sen. Lodge (R-Mass) raised a new argument today against permitting unlimited filibustering debate in the Senate. He said some day Communists might get a foothold in that body and use the filibuster to tie up vital legislation.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) retorted that such a situation could be met by a rules change that would permit debate to be limited in matters of national emergency, but not on ordinary domestic legislation.

Lodge, Eastland and other senators expressed their views at a session of the Rules Committee, which is considering proposed changes in the Senate's debating rules which would outlaw the filibuster.

600 Chinese Are Missing As Ships Collide And Sink

SHANGHAI, Jan. 28 (AP)—More than 600 Chinese were missing and believed dead in a collision which sank two ships about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai last midnight.

Thirty-five survivors, picked up six hours later by the Australian destroyer Warramunga, were landed late tonight at Shanghai.

The Warramunga, en route from Japan to a standby assignment at Nanking, was the only vessel known to have been in the vicinity.

The sunken ships were the 4,000-ton freight and passenger liner Taiping, bound to Formosa with war refugees, and the 2,700-ton Kienyuan, en route from Formosa with coal.

Layoffs Increase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Fourteen of every 1,000 workers in manufacturing plants were laid off during November, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

That was almost double the rate of layoffs a year ago.

Decision In

Bandiere proposed that the first $3,000 of unearned income be taxed only two per cent. He also wants to boost the deduction on dependents to $600 for one, $550 for two and $500 for all others. The allowance is now $400 for each dependent.

The committee approved them yesterday, but Majority Leader Pumphrey (D-Prince George's) and Bandiere conferred with Gov. Lane this morning.

A committee member said as a result, Bandiere agreed to comb the budget for appropriations he thinks could be reduced. Otherwise, his legislation would cut revenues $2,145,000, whereas the budget Lane proposed this week shows only a $400,000 balance.

The week's final session were placid, except for the House fuss over divorce.

As originally introduced by Delegate McGrath (D-Prince George's), the bill would have allowed divorce when the defendant was convicted of a felony, sentenced to two or more years and served any part of his term.

After a lengthy debate yesterday, the bill was sent back to the Judiciary Committee for revisions.

It came back today with amendments to make it applicable to a defendant convicted of any crime, and sentenced to three or more years of which he had served 18 months.

By a voice vote the whole business was laid over until Tuesday.

Signals In Lias Case Changed

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 29 (AP)—District Attorney C. Lee Spillers received without comment tonight word from Washington that the Justice Department had changed signals in its efforts to send William G. Lias to the penitentiary.

This was the newest development in the bizarre court battle being waged by the wealth Lias, owner of Wheeling Downs race track and vast real estate holdings, on charges of evading income taxes.

Spillers earlier today had announced he would seek an appeal of a ruling by District Judge William E. Baker permitting Lias to withdraw a guilty plea he entered more than two months ago to one count of a five-count indictment.

On the original guilty plea, Lias was sentenced to five years in prison and $10,000 fine. This judgment was vacated this week when Judge Baker permitted the defendant to withdraw his first plea.

In Washington, Assistant Attorney General T. Lamar Caudle said tonight the government would seek a new indictment against Lias, and that no appeal would be taken from Judge Baker's new ruling.

Acquainted with this stand by newsmen, Spillers said he would have no comment, implying that whatever course Washington authorities decided to pursue would supersede his own stand.

Figures In Trial Of Top U. S. Reds Are Threatened

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—The conspiracy trial of 11 top United States Communists was jolted today by the disclosure that the presiding jurist, the defendants and their attorneys have received threatening letters.

The disclosure first was made by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina after the court had been called back into session after a luncheon recess.

Addressing the Court, Medina announced he had received threatening "communications" at his home and added:

Doesn't See Any Danger

"I don't think I am in any danger, but if I'm wrong, I'll face the risk calmly."

He said he had "no notion" of what inspired the letters.

No sooner did he finish than Harry Sacher, one of the battery of defense lawyers, got to his feet and announced that he too—along with the defendants, all members of the American Communist Party's National Committee, and the other defense lawyers—had been threatened by mail. He said there were threats of violence against "ourselves, our wives and children."

The exact contents of the letters were not disclosed.

There was no immediate word as to whether extra police precautions would be taken in behalf of all those threatened.

Don't Blame Defendants

Medina told the courtroom:

"There is no mystery, no danger. I have felt not the slightest concern about the communications I have been receiving."

He added he did not think that the letters were "inspired by the defendants or counsel." The defendants are charged with conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the United States government.

Shortly before his announcement Medina's wife, apparently upset over the letters, had requested extra police protection for the jurist.

Two Women, Man Die In Subwav Blaze

BOSTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Trapped in a smoke-darkened subway station, two women and a man perished today and 11 others were injured in a fire which sent hundreds of morning rush-hour commuters into a swift panic deep underground before they escaped up stairs to a street.

Other passengers just leaving a train were saved when a guard called them back inside and the train pulled away from the choking blackness of the State Street-Atlantic Avenue station, near the waterfront and the Boston finacnial district.

Killed were Joan E. Lee, 24, a typist, of Everett, and Ethel Marie Butler, 52, of Billerica, a New England Telephone Company employe.

The third fatality was 83-year-old Robert Lever, an employe of the Otis Elevator Company at work with a construction crew making over the underground entrance to the station.

There were seeds of possible disagreement in two principal subjects—a proposal to shunt the conciliation service back to the Labor Department, and use of injunctions to prevent strikes involving the national provisions were reported contained in a tentative draft of the labor bill prepared under Tobin's directions. It was not known whether the President had studied the draft.

A halt in recent steady rains and a forecast of colder weather relieved flood fears along the swollen Ohio River in the Cincinnati area. Downstream in Southern Illinois, however, where 1,000 were made homeless by overflowing Ohio River tributaries, the situation still was serious.

Loveland Supports Views

That was a reference to the ban this country imposed last year on shipment of war-potential goods to the Soviet Union and its satellites.

In these views he was supported by another administration witness, Undersecretary of Agriculture A. J. Loveland.

"Without continuing export controls," Loveland said, "it would not be possible to insure distribution of our available export supplies to those countries who are cooperating with us in the fight for world peace and security."

Medical Officer At Wurzburg Is Freed Of Charge

FORT MEADE, Md., Jan. 28 (AP)—Capt. Joel G. Holmes, Jr., Philadelphia, was acquitted today of neglecting his duty in the treatment of soldiers at the Wurzburg, Germany, disciplinary camp.

Holmes was the medical officer at Wurzburg when alleged mistreatment of prisoners took place in January, 1947.

The general court-martial which has been trying Holmes for the past two weeks returned the not-guilty verdict late today.

Three of Holmes' superior officers at Wurzburg will be tried separately on similar charges when the court-martial resumes Tuesday.

Russian Fliers Will Tour Virginia Shrines

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 28 (AP)—Two young Russian flyers who said they wanted to visit Virginia and the United States after fleeing the Soviet Union are going to see their wish come true.

The two Russians, Lieutenants Peter Afanasevich Pirogov and Anatol Porferevich Barsov, will tour Virginia's historic shrines and see the state's "sights" beginning sometime next week, the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce said tonight.

The Virginia organization said that every opportunity would be afforded the Russians to obtain a comprehensive, well-balanced picture of American life.

her four Brussels pact allies agreed tonight to set up a "council of Europe," opening the way ultimately for a single parliament to represent all the European democracies.

The compromise decision was announced following a conference of the foreign ministers of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. It constitutes a major step toward a full-fledged Western European union.

By giving the go-ahead signal for establishment of the council, the five ministers ended a deadlock which had extended for months. A communique said the ministers "decided to invite other European countries to take part in the negotiations for the establishment of the Council of Europe."

The council, the communique added, will be divided into two sections—a "Ministerial Council," which will meet privately and be responsible directly to the various member governments, and an advisory "consultative body," which will debate in public any matters except mutual defense.

Air Force Bows To Truman Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—The nation's to pair leaders endorsed President Truman's 48-group Air Force program today with little outward show of disappointment at backtracking from their original 70-group goal.

But Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington told the House Armed Services Committee, referring to 70-group strength:

"When we can afford it, I think it's essential to the security of the United States."

Both Symington and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, said they favor authority for eventually building up to the 70-group figure. Vandenberg said it is necessary for planning purposes.

A hint that congressional leaders may be maneuvering behind the scenes to give the Air Force more strength than President Truman requested came from Chairman Vinson (D-Ga), of the House group.

Vinson asked Symington how much more money would be needed in fiscal 1950 to carry on the 70-group expansion program if Congress decided to add $800,000,000 to the President's Air Force budget.

"We'd be about $2,000,000,000 short," Symington replied.

The Republican-controlled 80th Congress last year provided funds to finance the expansion program only for the current fiscal year. Actually, the long-range plan would require four to five years to complete.

New Anti-Filibuster Argument Is Raised

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Sen. Lodge (R-Mass) raised a new argument today against permitting unlimited filibustering debate in the Senate. He said some day Communists might get a foothold in that body and use the filibuster to tie up vital legislation.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) retorted that such a situation could be met by a rules change that would permit debate to be limited in matters of national emergency, but not on ordinary domestic legislation.

Lodge, Eastland and other senators expressed their views at a session of the Rules Committee, which is considering proposed changes in the Senate's debating rules which would outlaw the filibuster.

600 Chinese Are Missing As Ships Collide And Sink

SHANGHAI, Jan. 28 (AP)—More than 600 Chinese were missing and believed dead in a collision which sank two ships about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai last midnight.

Thirty-five survivors, picked up six hours later by the Australian destroyer Warramunga, were landed late tonight at Shanghai.

The Warramunga, en route from Japan to a standby assignment at Nanking, was the only vessel known to have been in the vicinity.

The sunken ships were the 4,000-ton freight and passenger liner Taiping, bound to Formosa with war refugees, and the 2,700-ton Kienyuan, en route from Formosa with coal.

Layoffs Increase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Fourteen of every 1,000 workers in manufacturing plants were laid off during November, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

That was almost double the rate of layoffs a year ago.

Bandiere proposed that the first $3,000 of unearned income be taxed only two per cent. He also wants to boost the deduction on dependents to $600 for one, $550 for two and $500 for all others. The allowance is now $400 for each dependent.

The committee approved them yesterday, but Majority Leader Pumphrey (D-Prince George's) and Bandiere conferred with Gov. Lane this morning.

A committee member said as a result, Bandiere agreed to comb the budget for appropriations he thinks could be reduced. Otherwise, his legislation would cut revenues $2,145,000, whereas the budget Lane proposed this week shows only a $400,000 balance.

The week's final session were placid, except for the House fuss over divorce.

As originally introduced by Delegate McGrath (D-Prince George's), the bill would have allowed divorce when the defendant was convicted of a felony, sentenced to two or more years and served any part of his term.

After a lengthy debate yesterday, the bill was sent back to the Judiciary Committee for revisions.

It came back today with amendments to make it applicable to a defendant convicted of any crime, and sentenced to three or more years of which he had served 18 months.

By a voice vote the whole business was laid over until Tuesday.

Signals In Lias Case Changed

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 29 (AP)—District Attorney C. Lee Spillers received without comment tonight word from Washington that the Justice Department had changed signals in its efforts to send William G. Lias to the penitentiary.

This was the newest development in the bizarre court battle being waged by the wealth Lias, owner of Wheeling Downs race track and vast real estate holdings, on charges of evading income taxes.

Spillers earlier today had announced he would seek an appeal of a ruling by District Judge William E. Baker permitting Lias to withdraw a guilty plea he entered more than two months ago to one count of a five-count indictment.

On the original guilty plea, Lias was sentenced to five years in prison and $10,000 fine. This judgment was vacated this week when Judge Baker permitted the defendant to withdraw his first plea.

In Washington, Assistant Attorney General T. Lamar Caudle said tonight the government would seek a new indictment against Lias, and that no appeal would be taken from Judge Baker's new ruling.

Acquainted with this stand by newsmen, Spillers said he would have no comment, implying that whatever course Washington authorities decided to pursue would supersede his own stand.

Royall Japan-Bound

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Kenneth Royall, Secretary of the Army, left for Japan today on what he termed "a survey seeking the answers to the problems facing that country."

Police Look Up To Enforce All Aviation Laws

Lecture Course Is Given Here

The same policemen who for a long time have been able to stop motorists and give a pretty close estimate of the speed, are now studying similar methods of appraising aviators who have to observe a few "don'ts" also.

Such a training period in the form of several lectures was given for city and state police at the Armory Thursday with aeronautic officials presenting the information.

Richard A. Jamison, director of the State Aviation Commission, one of the speakers at the session, said policemen are being given such instruction "to stop violations before they start."

The approximately 100 officers who attended the three hours of lecture yesterday were indoctrinated in regulations that forbid acrobatic flying, low altitude flying and received instructions for investigating disasters involving air craft.

The policemen were told that it is their duty to enforce state and federal aeronautic regulations in their respective districts as well as to make complete and accurate reports of all violations and mishaps to the proper authorities.

The lecture period conducted here is one of a series being presented throughout the state for the benefit of various groups of the law enforcement bodies of the state, counties and municipalities.

Other lectures were given yesterday by:

Robert Bell, district co-ordinator of the Civil Aeronautics Administration; Joseph Fluett, regional chief of the Board of Safety Investigation of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

A. J. Nogard, Baltimore agent of the Civil Aeronautics Administration; Roy Clark, regional councilor of the Civil Aeronautics Board, and Martin White, regional attorney of the Civil Aeronautics Association.

The degree work for the initiation of a class of 40 candidates into the Legion will be exemplified by the degree staff of Cumberland Lodge No. 271.

The ceremonial will start at 2 p. m. with Legionnaires only attending, while the banquet at 6:30 p. m. will include the wives and other guests of Legionnaires. A floor show from Huntington, W. Va., will follow the banquet.

Dr. A. C. Monninger, Baltimore, Grand Noble Moose, will be the principal speaker at the banquet, and H. O. Hood, Keyser, W. Va., Noble Moose of this district, will preside at the ceremonial.

They will be sent to Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., Fort Howard (Md.) Hospital, Aspinwall, (Pa.) Hospital, and Perry Point Hospital.

Dr. Kopp said Allegany County is one of the first if not the first county in Maryland to open a program of audiometric examinations on a fulltime basis.

He explained it is one more benefit toward the education of the children of the county. Others already in effect are a speech correction course; special assistance in learning fundamentals, and individual home teaching of physically handicapped children.

Robinett, according to Posten, indicated he would go to Baltimore to re-enlist with his old outfit to go to Germany with the occupation forces. He was discharged from the Army January 17 after enlistments totalling 10 years.

Frostburg Police Probe Club Theft

FROSTBURG.—Frostburg police are investigating a burglary at the East Main Street home of the Frostburg Republican Club, which, according to Thomas Gunter, a custodian, took place some time early Friday morning.

Gunter said entrance to the building was gained through a bathroom window on the second floor.

After investigating he found that the bathroom window was forced in the same manner as on a former occasion when burglars entered and got away with a considerable sum of money.

Gunter notified officers of the club, including Jerome Wilson, who stated that the loss would amount to several hundred dollars.

According to Gunter, all the tax money that had been accumulated over a period of several months, a large amount of bottled whiskey and practically all the cigarets in stock were taken.

The tax money was in a separate box and not in a safe.

The robbers left the building through the front door, using the same technique employed when the building was entered while occupied by the Loyal Order of Moose.

Members of the Frostburg Elks club said an attempt to enter their club rooms Tuesday, January 18, was discovered the following day. Members said the window was forced but did not open. Nothing was taken or damaged, they said.

about mining, and he proposed that the Federal Bureau of Mines make the mining code for the State of Maryland.

Jones declared, in a wire to Governor Lane, that if the hazards that exist in Maryland mines are not removed he would, "as an officer of the union, close down every mine where they exist."

The Governor appointed Assistant Attorney General Joseph D. Buscher, Senate Majority Leader Sothoron, (D-Prince Georges), and Minority Senate Leader Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany), and Delegates Coddington (D-Garrett) and Preston (D-Baltimore Fifth))

In addition, Lane asked Jones and Andrew B. Cricthon, Cumberland, president of the Upper Potomac Coal Operators' Association to name a member representing each organization.

"Why should I recommend some one when the issue is settled beforehand. The committee is stacked," Jones said.

In his telegram sent to Governor Lane yesterday morning Jones said:

"I have read the astounding report made by one Mr. Buscher, assistant attorney general, on the charges made by myself against Director Rutledge (Dr. John T. Rutledge, director of the State Bureau of Mines) and State Inspector Rowe (Clyde T. Rowe, of Westernport).

"The report of Mr. Buscher confirms point by point the statements made by me in my charges, because they are recommending amendments to the law to change all of the things which I charged were responsible for the death of those men employed by the Nethken Coal Company mine, near Kitzmiller, in November.

"Now you ask in your wire that I appoint a member of the United Mine Workers of America to work with Mr. Buscher, Senators Kimble and Sothoron, Mr. Coddington and Mr. Preston, members of the House of Delegates, none of whom know anything about coal mines.

"Your committee is stacked against the United Mine Workers of America because we would have only one vote.

"As a proposal, I would be willing to let the Federal Bureau of Mines make the mining code for the State of Maryland. They are certainly more competent than the assistant attorney general, the senators and members of the House of Delegates.

"You as Governor of the State of Maryland and your attorney general have whitewashed these charges made by United Mine Workers representatives, and if the hazards are not removed in the mines where they now exist in violation of every practical method of mining, you may rest assured that as an officer of the United Mine Workers of America I will close down every mine where they exist if the government of the State of Maryland does not want to protect the lives of the men who dig and mine the coal for the state of Maryland."

Ask More State Aid For Schools

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 28 (AP)—The Western Shore County Commissioners Association asked Governor Lane yesterday to increase state aid for school buildings.

Christian H. Kahl, president of the association and of the Baltimore County Board of Commissioners, said the group asked Lane to boost the incentive fund four times.

The Western Shore officials, accompanied by some Eastern Shore Commissioners, also suggested the state could help in other ways.

By endorsing county bonds, issuing state bonds for use of the counties, dividing up necessary issues between state and county or helping only counties which have reached the peak of bonded indebtedness.

Something must be done, Kahl said the association told Lane, or school building will lag behind needs.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent, has proposed a $145,000,000 construction program for the next five years. He told the Legislative Council in December that emergency grants might be necessary to prevent part-time class schedules in some counties.

Kahl said Lane asked him to confer with Pullen and prepare a solution to the counties' fiscal problems.

An increase in the incentive fund, backed by the association, had also been mentioned by Pullen.

The state now appropriates $1,300,000 a year to help build schools. It does so by guaranteeing each county $10 per pupil for a five-cent addition to the tax rate. Quadrupling aid could mean a $40 guarantee for 20 cents on the tax rate.

Charles N. Wilkinson, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, said action was taken at the December meeting of the Western Shore County Commissioners in Frederick to place the matter of additional state funds for school buildings before Governor Lane. At that time, Commissioner Kahl was named chairman of the committee to appear before the Governor.

Police Look Up To Enforce All Aviation Laws

Lecture Course Is Given Here

The same policemen who for a long time have been able to stop motorists and give a pretty close estimate of the speed, are now studying similar methods of appraising aviators who have to observe a few "don'ts" also.

Such a training period in the form of several lectures was given for city and state police at the Armory Thursday with aeronautic officials presenting the information.

Richard A. Jamison, director of the State Aviation Commission, one of the speakers at the session, said policemen are being given such instruction "to stop violations before they start."

The approximately 100 officers who attended the three hours of lecture yesterday were indoctrinated in regulations that forbid acrobatic flying, low altitude flying and received instructions for investigating disasters involving air craft.

The policemen were told that it is their duty to enforce state and federal aeronautic regulations in their respective districts as well as to make complete and accurate reports of all violations and mishaps to the proper authorities.

The lecture period conducted here is one of a series being presented throughout the state for the benefit of various groups of the law enforcement bodies of the state, counties and municipalities.

Other lectures were given yesterday by:

Robert Bell, district co-ordinator of the Civil Aeronautics Administration; Joseph Fluett, regional chief of the Board of Safety Investigation of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

A. J. Nogard, Baltimore agent of the Civil Aeronautics Administration; Roy Clark, regional councilor of the Civil Aeronautics Board, and Martin White, regional attorney of the Civil Aeronautics Association.

The degree work for the initiation of a class of 40 candidates into the Legion will be exemplified by the degree staff of Cumberland Lodge No. 271.

The ceremonial will start at 2 p. m. with Legionnaires only attending, while the banquet at 6:30 p. m. will include the wives and other guests of Legionnaires. A floor show from Huntington, W. Va., will follow the banquet.

Dr. A. C. Monninger, Baltimore, Grand Noble Moose, will be the principal speaker at the banquet, and H. O. Hood, Keyser, W. Va., Noble Moose of this district, will preside at the ceremonial.

How long will it stand ?

This little builder is being very careful. But her block house is a rather shaky structure. One swipe of the puppy's paw and down it will tumble.

Even if the puppy keeps a respectful distance, the house it quite likely to fall before it is finished. But it will have served its purpose. It will have given this child entertainment and manual dexterity.

What matters a great deal more is another structure this child is building—the invisible edifice of character. Will its foundation be deep and solid? Will the structure be strong and beautiful? Will it stand the strain of years of living? Will it stand firm if the fierce winds of misfortune blow and the rains descend upon it?

Fortunate is this child if in these early, formative years she is surrounded with the influences that help build strong character. Chief among such character-building influences has always been the Church. Within its walls the child learns reverence, truthfulness, honesty, fair play, unselfishness.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

How long will it stand?

This little builder is being very careful. But her block house is a rather shaky structure. One swipe of the puppy's paw and down it will tumble.

Even if the puppy keeps a respectful distance, the house it quite likely to fall before it is finished. But it will have served its purpose. It will have given this child entertainment and manual dexterity.

What matters a great deal more is another structure this child is building—the invisible edifice of character. Will its foundation be deep and solid? Will the structure be strong and beautiful? Will it stand the strain of years of living? Will it stand firm if the fierce winds of misfortune blow and the rains descend upon it?

Fortunate is this child if in these early, formative years she is surrounded with the influences that help build strong character. Chief among such character-building influences has always been the Church. Within its walls the child learns reverence, truthfulness, honesty, fair play, unselfishness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Campers Win Over Scrappy LaSalle Team

Phares Sews Up Game In Closing Minute

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

An inspired band of LaSalle High School cagers almost pulled the upset of the season by playing a heavily-favored Allegany High aggregation on practically even terms throughout the game before bowing to the Campers 27-23 last night on the Campobello court, before about 500 fans.

The visiting Blue and Gold tossers out-fought, out-jumped and out-played a taller, heavier Alco quint that appeared listless and seemed to go through the motions of playing only mechanically. It took a slim, lanky red-head by name of Frank Phares to pull the Campers out of their doldrums to spark them to victory.

Play Aggressive Ball

The Explorers put up an aggressive zone defense that limited Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Blue and White crew to three field goals in the first half, before an eight-point explosion at the close of the third quarter gave Allegany a lead it never relinquished.

Trailing the fighting Explorers 11-10 as the third stanza opened Allegany took the lead for the first time on Ronnie Sisk's dribble in lay-up shot. "Red" Ingram knotted the count at 12-12 with a charity toss and Dick Leo put LaSalle ahead once more 14-12 with a tip-in of a rebound.

It was at this point that Phares opened up and with the aid of Ned Clopton pulled the Bowersmen out to a 20-14 lead with seconds remaining in the quarter. With only 2:50 to go in the third stanza Phares dumped in a close up shot after taking a bullet pass from Johnny Vernall to tie the score for the final time 14-14. Clopton then connected with an overhead jump toss and Phares scored moments later driving in for another layup. Clopton's long set heave put Allegany ahead by six points before Francis Kitzmiller dumped in a set toss from about 20 feet out to make it 20-16 AHS as the quarter closed.

Hammer and Tongs Battle

The final stanza was a hammer and tongs affair with both teams throwing caution to the wind and fighting desparately for possession of the ball. Leo's foul throw, Phares layup driving in from the side and Clopton's set shot made it 24-17 AHS at the automatic time out with three minutes remaining in the game.

Leo, a substitute guard for the Explorers and one of the sparkplugs for Coach John Mullaney's team, stole the ball from Clopton for a dribble in shot and Louie Arnone pumped in a one hander before Vernall potted a singleton for the Campobello five.

With 1:15 remaining and the Explorers trailing 25-21 Arnone was awarded two shot when fouled by Sisk but after mising the first elected to take the second out of bounds. The strategy paid off when moments later Bobby Woods took a pass under the basket for a layup to put the Mullaneymen within two points of the winners.

Phares Basket Wins

At this point Allegany's superior height broke up the game. Vernall got the jump on Arnone and tipped the ball to Phares who laid it in for the final basket of the game with 30 seconds remaining and although Sisk fouled out of the Campers lineup moments later LaSalle was unable to catch up.

The ball game was tied up at 3-3, 12-12 and 14-14 and the lead changed hands five times in the close and hard-fought battle.

Allegany played without the services of their regular center, Bob Lookabaugh, who is ineligible for city contests until Feb. 1. Phares, Clopton and Vernall made up the slack by playing outstanding floor games for the winner's with Phares and Clopton sharing high scoring honors with eight points apiece, the former getting all four of his baskets in the final two periods.

Leo, Kitzmiller, Arnone and Ingram were LaSalle's best bets with the former tallying eight markers for top scoring laurels for the Explorers.

The game, although slam-bang at times was cleanly played with only 19 personals being called on the two teams by Officials Bill Hahn and Clifton Van Roby. Sisk was the only player ejected.

Ed Landefeld, Allegany's high-scoring forward was held to one basket and three points, getting the Alco team's first twin-pointer early in the game and never scoring from the field thereafter. LaSalle led 6-3 at the quarter and 11-10 at intermission. The lineups:

Giants Purchase Negro Slab Ace And Outfielder

Irvin, Smith Farmed To Jersey City Club

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) — The New York Giants today became the fifth major league baseball club to hire negroes when they purchased Outfielder Monte Irvin and Pitcher Ford Smith from the Negro National League.

Their contracts were immediately turned over to the Jersey City Giants, an International League farm club. Irvin and Smith will report to the Little Giants' training camp at Sanford, Fla., next March 10.

Irvin, a righthanded batter, was purchased from the Newark Eagles and Smith, also righthanded, was obtained from the Philadelphia club. The latter pitched for the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League last year where he won 10 games and lost five.

Released By Dodgers

Irvin was signed by the Brooklyn Dodgers during the winter but was released when it was discovered he was the property of the Eagles. At the time of the signing the Dodgers said they believed he was a free agent.

The Giants' entry into the negro field came exactly three years and three months after the Dodgers broke the ice by signing Jackie Robinson to a Montreal contract. Robinson advanced to the Dodgers in 1947. Later that year, the Dodgers added Dan Bankhead and Cleveland signed Larry Doby. The St. Louis Browns gave trials to Willard Brown and Henry Thompson. The last two failed to stick.

Last season, Broklyn added a third negro, catcher Roy Campanella and the Indians signed Leroy (Satchel) Paige, famed negro righthander. Last December the Boston Braves assigned Waldon Williams, an 18-year-old high school star, to one of their farm clubs.

Irvin, a 6-1, 180-pound native of Orange, N. J., is considered a potential big leaguer. When Branch Rickey reluctantly let him go, he said: "Some major league club ought to get him. He's sure to make good."

Irvin Is Good Hitter

Irvin is 28. He starred in baseball and football at Orange High School and attended Lincoln University for a year. He is credited with having great batting power and has an exceptional arm.

Smith, 26, is a graduate of the University of Arizona. He lives in Phoenix. During the war he was commissioned a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

He is currently with Santurce in the Puerto Rican League and is a ranking pitcher there. Scouts tabbed him as the best pitcher in the Negro American League last year. He stands 6-2 and weighs 190.

CLIFTON VAN ROBY, basketball referee:

"Herman Koegel and I certainly were treated swell at Winchester, Va., last week when we officiated in the Martinsburg-Handley game. We received checks for $17.50 each and several days later we received a letter from Coach Hunter Maddex in which he thanked us for making the trip in bad weather and praised the way we handled the game. All this in spite of the fact his team lost the game."

Catamounts Play At Morgantown

Face West Virginia Freshmen Tonight

KEYSER, W. Va., Jan. 28—The Potomac State Catamounts will probably be playing against some future greats in basketball Saturday night when they take the floor at 6 o'clock against the West Virginia Freshmen, in a preliminary to the Cincinnati-West Virginia University headliner. The Freshmen have four former All-State stars who carry plenty of height along with their speed and skill.

This quartet is headed by the towering 6 feet, 7 inches Mark Workman, of Charleston, who was probably the most highly publicized high school basketball player in the nation last year. Many think that Coulter, All-State from the championship Princeton team of last year, is a better player than Workman and he is almost as tall. Dave Steidler, fast-breaking expert was All-State from Elkins in 1945, and has returned from serving an enlistment in the U. S. Marines. Moore was All-State last year while playing with Moundsville, and is the speed merchant in the fast break coached by Patton at the university. If the Cats succeed in beating such a combination they should be able to hold their own for the rest of their schedule.

The Cats need a win tonight to be in the 500 class. They have lost seven games and won six, but have been improving rapidly in recent weeks. Coach Lough said that the team is in good condition for this game, and will be out to win.

The Catamounts play Shenandoah Monday night in the first of a three game home schedule for the week. The red hot Alderson-Boaddus College team will be met Friday and National College Saturday night. All home games start at 8 o'clock.

Galivan Snaps Ike Williams' Winning String

Cuban Cops Verdict In Non-Title Scrap

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Cuban Kid Gavilan, shaking off Ike Williams' right-hand bombs, upset the lightweight champion of the world tonight to win a non-title 10-round split decision at Madison Square Garden. Gavilan weighed 145¼, Williams 140½.

In the most fiercely contested fight seen in the big arena in years, Gavilan snapped the champ's 20-fight winning streak on the votes of the two judges after Referee Ruby Goldstein called it a draw.

Judges Harold Barnes and Artie Schwartz had it for Gavilan 5-4 with one even. Referee Goldstein saw it 4-4 with 2 even and 8 points for each. The AP card found for Gavilan 5-3 with 2 even.

On the strength of the exciting uphill triumph, Gavilan's manager, Angel Lopez, said he will post a forfeit with the New York State Athletic Commission next week, demanding that welter champ Ray Robinson meet the "Cuban Keed" for the crown.

Blood dripped from cuts over the right eyes of both scrappers in the furious scrap that was fought head to head and shoulder to shoulder from the opening bell. There were no knockdowns in the savage brawl, but they fought after the gong in the first, sixth and tenth.

The big crowd of 15,125 which paid $57,195 rocked and roared throughout the contest. First Williams, deadpan sharpshooter, would appear to have The Kid on the way. Then Gavilan would flurry back in wild style to even matters. In the final 15 seconds, Gavilan shouldered Ike to the ropes and cut loose with a continuous stream of punches that brought the crowd to its feet. That probably won the fight for him as it was touch and go all night.

Gavilan fought out of a crouch, as he did against Ray Robinson at the Yankee Stadium last summer. That appeared to have the effect of smothering Williams' sharp, short punches. On the inside Williams had all the best of it but when they moved off at long range, the flashy Cuban, leaping in with a stream of left hooks and throwing his bolo right, caught the fancy o fthe mob.

Dick Metz Cops Lead In Phoenix Tourney

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 28 (AP)—Dick Metz, veteran of almost 20 years links competition, grabbed the lead in the $10,000 Phoenix Open today with a 36-hole score of 137.

The popular professional, transplanted from the midwest and now playing out of Virginia Beach, Va., continued with his sub-par shooting. A 68 today, coupled with an opening 69, gave him the total, five under regulation figures.

Sammy Snead, the opening-day leader, couldn't keep his putter behaving. When his game on the greens slipped, so did his lead. He went into second place when a 70 gave him a total of 138.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, pulled a 68 today for a third-place 139.

Simonetti To Quit

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Jan. 28 (AP)—Len "Diz" Simonetti, defensive tackle with the professional Cleveland Browns in the All-American Football Conference, today announced he will retire from professional football.

Moorefield Is Winner, Takes Leads In PVC

Vance's 13 Points Sparks The Jackets

Coach Jonathan "Johnny" Paugh's Morefield High School Yellow Jackets took over undisputed possession of first place in the Potomac Valley Conference by upsetting the Ridgeley High School Blackhawks last night before a large crowd at Ridgeley. The score was 38-30.

The upset knocked Ridgeley out of first place, it being the first PVC defeat for the defending champions while the Hardy County winners moved to the top of the circuit with a 7-1 record. Ridgeley had won four straight games in the 14-team loop.

Jackets Lead Throughout

Moorefield jumped away to a 9-7 lead at the quarter, was in front at the half, 18-11, and held a 13-point advantage when the third period ended, 31-18.

The South Branch aggregation tossed in 14 fielders to the Hawks' 11 and outscored the home team 10 to 8 at the charity line.

Nineteen personals were called on Ridgeley and 15 on the home team. The officiating failed to meet with the approval of the home crowd.

Vance Leads Attack

Johnny Vance's shooting highlighted the Moorefield offensive. He racked up 13 points on six fielders and a free throw. Bill Harman, Moorefield guard, went out on personals in the third period, and Gene Baldwin played a bangup game in a substitute role. Paul Fisher headed the Ridgeley scorers with 10 points on four doubledeckers and two charity tosses.

Moorefield's girls, led by Sherman who scored 14 points defeated the Ridgeley sextet, 29-21. Edenhart was high scorer for the losers with six markers.

Franklin Is Winner

In another PVC contest Franklin High School's Panthers defeated Wardensville High School on the latter's court by the score of 42-23. Franklin, thus, remained in the championship fight with a 5-2 record.

Bowers and Eckard led the Panthers' attack with 17 and 11 tallies while Godlove was high man for Wardensville with nine. Franklin held a 16-11 lead at the halfway mark.

In the preliminary game Franklin High's girls won over Wardensville, 27-15. Lineups:

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

An inspired band of LaSalle High School cagers almost pulled the upset of the season by playing a heavily-favored Allegany High aggregation on practically even terms throughout the game before bowing to the Campers 27-23 last night on the Campobello court, before about 500 fans.

The visiting Blue and Gold tossers out-fought, out-jumped and out-played a taller, heavier Alco quint that appeared listless and seemed to go through the motions of playing only mechanically. It took a slim, lanky red-head by name of Frank Phares to pull the Campers out of their doldrums to spark them to victory.

Play Aggressive Ball

The Explorers put up an aggressive zone defense that limited Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Blue and White crew to three field goals in the first half, before an eight-point explosion at the close of the third quarter gave Allegany a lead it never relinquished.

Trailing the fighting Explorers 11-10 as the third stanza opened Allegany took the lead for the first time on Ronnie Sisk's dribble in lay-up shot. "Red" Ingram knotted the count at 12-12 with a charity toss and Dick Leo put LaSalle ahead once more 14-12 with a tip-in of a rebound.

It was at this point that Phares opened up and with the aid of Ned Clopton pulled the Bowersmen out to a 20-14 lead with seconds remaining in the quarter. With only 2:50 to go in the third stanza Phares dumped in a close up shot after taking a bullet pass from Johnny Vernall to tie the score for the final time 14-14. Clopton then connected with an overhead jump toss and Phares scored moments later driving in for another layup. Clopton's long set heave put Allegany ahead by six points before Francis Kitzmiller dumped in a set toss from about 20 feet out to make it 20-16 AHS as the quarter closed.

Hammer and Tongs Battle

The final stanza was a hammer and tongs affair with both teams throwing caution to the wind and fighting desparately for possession of the ball. Leo's foul throw, Phares layup driving in from the side and Clopton's set shot made it 24-17 AHS at the automatic time out with three minutes remaining in the game.

Leo, a substitute guard for the Explorers and one of the sparkplugs for Coach John Mullaney's team, stole the ball from Clopton for a dribble in shot and Louie Arnone pumped in a one hander before Vernall potted a singleton for the Campobello five.

With 1:15 remaining and the Explorers trailing 25-21 Arnone was awarded two shot when fouled by Sisk but after mising the first elected to take the second out of bounds. The strategy paid off when moments later Bobby Woods took a pass under the basket for a layup to put the Mullaneymen within two points of the winners.

Phares Basket Wins

At this point Allegany's superior height broke up the game. Vernall got the jump on Arnone and tipped the ball to Phares who laid it in for the final basket of the game with 30 seconds remaining and although Sisk fouled out of the Campers lineup moments later LaSalle was unable to catch up.

The ball game was tied up at 3-3, 12-12 and 14-14 and the lead changed hands five times in the close and hard-fought battle.

Allegany played without the services of their regular center, Bob Lookabaugh, who is ineligible for city contests until Feb. 1. Phares, Clopton and Vernall made up the slack by playing outstanding floor games for the winner's with Phares and Clopton sharing high scoring honors with eight points apiece, the former getting all four of his baskets in the final two periods.

Leo, Kitzmiller, Arnone and Ingram were LaSalle's best bets with the former tallying eight markers for top scoring laurels for the Explorers.

The game, although slam-bang at times was cleanly played with only 19 personals being called on the two teams by Officials Bill Hahn and Clifton Van Roby. Sisk was the only player ejected.

Ed Landefeld, Allegany's high-scoring forward was held to one basket and three points, getting the Alco team's first twin-pointer early in the game and never scoring from the field thereafter. LaSalle led 6-3 at the quarter and 11-10 at intermission. The lineups:

Giants Purchase Negro Slab Ace And Outfielder

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) — The New York Giants today became the fifth major league baseball club to hire negroes when they purchased Outfielder Monte Irvin and Pitcher Ford Smith from the Negro National League.

Their contracts were immediately turned over to the Jersey City Giants, an International League farm club. Irvin and Smith will report to the Little Giants' training camp at Sanford, Fla., next March 10.

Irvin, a righthanded batter, was purchased from the Newark Eagles and Smith, also righthanded, was obtained from the Philadelphia club. The latter pitched for the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League last year where he won 10 games and lost five.

Released By Dodgers

Irvin was signed by the Brooklyn Dodgers during the winter but was released when it was discovered he was the property of the Eagles. At the time of the signing the Dodgers said they believed he was a free agent.

The Giants' entry into the negro field came exactly three years and three months after the Dodgers broke the ice by signing Jackie Robinson to a Montreal contract. Robinson advanced to the Dodgers in 1947. Later that year, the Dodgers added Dan Bankhead and Cleveland signed Larry Doby. The St. Louis Browns gave trials to Willard Brown and Henry Thompson. The last two failed to stick.

Last season, Broklyn added a third negro, catcher Roy Campanella and the Indians signed Leroy (Satchel) Paige, famed negro righthander. Last December the Boston Braves assigned Waldon Williams, an 18-year-old high school star, to one of their farm clubs.

Irvin, a 6-1, 180-pound native of Orange, N. J., is considered a potential big leaguer. When Branch Rickey reluctantly let him go, he said: "Some major league club ought to get him. He's sure to make good."

Irvin Is Good Hitter

Irvin is 28. He starred in baseball and football at Orange High School and attended Lincoln University for a year. He is credited with having great batting power and has an exceptional arm.

Smith, 26, is a graduate of the University of Arizona. He lives in Phoenix. During the war he was commissioned a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

He is currently with Santurce in the Puerto Rican League and is a ranking pitcher there. Scouts tabbed him as the best pitcher in the Negro American League last year. He stands 6-2 and weighs 190.

Catamounts Play At Morgantown

Face West Virginia Freshmen Tonight

KEYSER, W. Va., Jan. 28—The Potomac State Catamounts will probably be playing against some future greats in basketball Saturday night when they take the floor at 6 o'clock against the West Virginia Freshmen, in a preliminary to the Cincinnati-West Virginia University headliner. The Freshmen have four former All-State stars who carry plenty of height along with their speed and skill.

This quartet is headed by the towering 6 feet, 7 inches Mark Workman, of Charleston, who was probably the most highly publicized high school basketball player in the nation last year. Many think that Coulter, All-State from the championship Princeton team of last year, is a better player than Workman and he is almost as tall. Dave Steidler, fast-breaking expert was All-State from Elkins in 1945, and has returned from serving an enlistment in the U. S. Marines. Moore was All-State last year while playing with Moundsville, and is the speed merchant in the fast break coached by Patton at the university. If the Cats succeed in beating such a combination they should be able to hold their own for the rest of their schedule.

The Cats need a win tonight to be in the 500 class. They have lost seven games and won six, but have been improving rapidly in recent weeks. Coach Lough said that the team is in good condition for this game, and will be out to win.

The Catamounts play Shenandoah Monday night in the first of a three game home schedule for the week. The red hot Alderson-Boaddus College team will be met Friday and National College Saturday night. All home games start at 8 o'clock.

Thomas held a 27-18 lead at the half but the margin was cut to one point at 35-34 when the third period ended.

Galivan Snaps Ike Williams' Winning String

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Cuban Kid Gavilan, shaking off Ike Williams' right-hand bombs, upset the lightweight champion of the world tonight to win a non-title 10-round split decision at Madison Square Garden. Gavilan weighed 145¼, Williams 140½.

In the most fiercely contested fight seen in the big arena in years, Gavilan snapped the champ's 20-fight winning streak on the votes of the two judges after Referee Ruby Goldstein called it a draw.

Judges Harold Barnes and Artie Schwartz had it for Gavilan 5-4 with one even. Referee Goldstein saw it 4-4 with 2 even and 8 points for each. The AP card found for Gavilan 5-3 with 2 even.

On the strength of the exciting uphill triumph, Gavilan's manager, Angel Lopez, said he will post a forfeit with the New York State Athletic Commission next week, demanding that welter champ Ray Robinson meet the "Cuban Keed" for the crown.

Blood dripped from cuts over the right eyes of both scrappers in the furious scrap that was fought head to head and shoulder to shoulder from the opening bell. There were no knockdowns in the savage brawl, but they fought after the gong in the first, sixth and tenth.

The big crowd of 15,125 which paid $57,195 rocked and roared throughout the contest. First Williams, deadpan sharpshooter, would appear to have The Kid on the way. Then Gavilan would flurry back in wild style to even matters. In the final 15 seconds, Gavilan shouldered Ike to the ropes and cut loose with a continuous stream of punches that brought the crowd to its feet. That probably won the fight for him as it was touch and go all night.

Gavilan fought out of a crouch, as he did against Ray Robinson at the Yankee Stadium last summer. That appeared to have the effect of smothering Williams' sharp, short punches. On the inside Williams had all the best of it but when they moved off at long range, the flashy Cuban, leaping in with a stream of left hooks and throwing his bolo right, caught the fancy o fthe mob.

Dick Metz Cops Lead In Phoenix Tourney

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 28 (AP)—Dick Metz, veteran of almost 20 years links competition, grabbed the lead in the $10,000 Phoenix Open today with a 36-hole score of 137.

The popular professional, transplanted from the midwest and now playing out of Virginia Beach, Va., continued with his sub-par shooting. A 68 today, coupled with an opening 69, gave him the total, five under regulation figures.

Sammy Snead, the opening-day leader, couldn't keep his putter behaving. When his game on the greens slipped, so did his lead. He went into second place when a 70 gave him a total of 138.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, pulled a 68 today for a third-place 139.

Simonetti To Quit

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Jan. 28 (AP)—Len "Diz" Simonetti, defensive tackle with the professional Cleveland Browns in the All-American Football Conference, today announced he will retire from professional football.

Moorefield Is Winner, Takes Leads In PVC

Vance's 13 Points Sparks The Jackets

Coach Jonathan "Johnny" Paugh's Morefield High School Yellow Jackets took over undisputed possession of first place in the Potomac Valley Conference by upsetting the Ridgeley High School Blackhawks last night before a large crowd at Ridgeley. The score was 38-30.

The upset knocked Ridgeley out of first place, it being the first PVC defeat for the defending champions while the Hardy County winners moved to the top of the circuit with a 7-1 record. Ridgeley had won four straight games in the 14-team loop.

Jackets Lead Throughout

Moorefield jumped away to a 9-7 lead at the quarter, was in front at the half, 18-11, and held a 13-point advantage when the third period ended, 31-18.

The South Branch aggregation tossed in 14 fielders to the Hawks' 11 and outscored the home team 10 to 8 at the charity line.

Nineteen personals were called on Ridgeley and 15 on the home team. The officiating failed to meet with the approval of the home crowd.

Vance Leads Attack

Johnny Vance's shooting highlighted the Moorefield offensive. He racked up 13 points on six fielders and a free throw. Bill Harman, Moorefield guard, went out on personals in the third period, and Gene Baldwin played a bangup game in a substitute role. Paul Fisher headed the Ridgeley scorers with 10 points on four doubledeckers and two charity tosses.

Moorefield's girls, led by Sherman who scored 14 points defeated the Ridgeley sextet, 29-21. Edenhart was high scorer for the losers with six markers.

Franklin Is Winner

In another PVC contest Franklin High School's Panthers defeated Wardensville High School on the latter's court by the score of 42-23. Franklin, thus, remained in the championship fight with a 5-2 record.

Bowers and Eckard led the Panthers' attack with 17 and 11 tallies while Godlove was high man for Wardensville with nine. Franklin held a 16-11 lead at the halfway mark.

Calumet Farm's De Luxe Beaten In Hialeah Race

Repentance Scores By Five Lengths

By FRED HAYDEN

HIALEAH, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP)—That Calumet Farm's chances for bagging major three-year-old fixtures are much slimmer than usual this season was evidenced today when De Luxe, its chief Flamingo Stakes hopeful, took a five lengths drubbing from Greentree Stable's lightly backed Repentence.

De Luxe and Ponder, the Calumet Entry in the seven furlong Tavernier Purse for "sophomores," went postward at odds-on but merely handed the talent a body blow. Repentence, winner of only one maiden race in eight starts last year and third in his recent Florida debut, showed unexpected speed as he whirled the distance in a snappy 1:23 1-5 without being extended. De Luxe barely saved the place, a head before Tommy May's Abstract.

Repentence paid $18.70 for two and gave Ted Atkinson a consecutive riding bouble. Ted is far behind his 1948 Hialeah record. Going into this 11th day of the meeting, he had only three victories as compared to 17 for the first 10 programs last season.

Apprentice Eldon Nelson, leading pilot here, provided a highlight on the card when he won the second event on Isosceles, a $21.70 for two chance. This happened to be the Ponca City, Okla., lad's 22nd birthday and he celebrated accordingly with his 10th local score—by 10 lengths.

The attendance was 13,653.

The state of Minnesota has an Indian name which means "cloudy water."

Keyser, Piedmont Road Inundated

Piedmont At Bruce, Vikings At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—Route 46 between Keyser and Piedmont may have to be closed if water keeps coming down from the mountains, Cleo Swecker, maintenance engineer of the West Virginia State Road Commission, said yesterday after making a check on water over the road at Z Tower. Swecker stated the water was 18 inches deep about 4 p. m. yesterday and was still coming in from the mountains.

He explained that with the Potomac River as high as it is the water cannot drain rapidly. A watchman was placed at the tower last evening to guide traffic through the inundated area. Due to the curve at this point in the road, Swecker said, motorists cannot see the road because of the water.

Potomac River was reported to be holding its own, but New Creek had dropped during the day.

After a survey early yesterday morning of the streams in this area, State Road officials said there would be danger of high waters if there was another downpour within 24 hours.

Calumet Farm's De Luxe Beaten In Hialeah Race

Repentance Scores By Five Lengths

By FRED HAYDEN

HIALEAH, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP)—That Calumet Farm's chances for bagging major three-year-old fixtures are much slimmer than usual this season was evidenced today when De Luxe, its chief Flamingo Stakes hopeful, took a five lengths drubbing from Greentree Stable's lightly backed Repentence.

De Luxe and Ponder, the Calumet Entry in the seven furlong Tavernier Purse for "sophomores," went postward at odds-on but merely handed the talent a body blow. Repentence, winner of only one maiden race in eight starts last year and third in his recent Florida debut, showed unexpected speed as he whirled the distance in a snappy 1:23 1-5 without being extended. De Luxe barely saved the place, a head before Tommy May's Abstract.

Repentence paid $18.70 for two and gave Ted Atkinson a consecutive riding bouble. Ted is far behind his 1948 Hialeah record. Going into this 11th day of the meeting, he had only three victories as compared to 17 for the first 10 programs last season.

Apprentice Eldon Nelson, leading pilot here, provided a highlight on the card when he won the second event on Isosceles, a $21.70 for two chance. This happened to be the Ponca City, Okla., lad's 22nd birthday and he celebrated accordingly with his 10th local score—by 10 lengths.

The attendance was 13,653.

Keyser, Piedmont Road Inundated

Piedmont At Bruce, Vikings At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—Route 46 between Keyser and Piedmont may have to be closed if water keeps coming down from the mountains, Cleo Swecker, maintenance engineer of the West Virginia State Road Commission, said yesterday after making a check on water over the road at Z Tower. Swecker stated the water was 18 inches deep about 4 p. m. yesterday and was still coming in from the mountains.

He explained that with the Potomac River as high as it is the water cannot drain rapidly. A watchman was placed at the tower last evening to guide traffic through the inundated area. Due to the curve at this point in the road, Swecker said, motorists cannot see the road because of the water.

Potomac River was reported to be holding its own, but New Creek had dropped during the day.

After a survey early yesterday morning of the streams in this area, State Road officials said there would be danger of high waters if there was another downpour within 24 hours.

OAKLAND—A group of seven business men headed by Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh were guests of the B. and O. railroad on Wednesday, traveling to Paw Paw, W. Va., to inspect the automatic safety gates that have been erected at one of the crossings there.

Mayor Hinebaugh said the proposed installation of such gates at the Second Street crossing here would be discussed at length at the next meeting of the Town Council. He said the gates entirely covered the roadway, making it next to impossible to get through and cause a collision with any train.

After the council agreed to the installation several citizens voiced their objections at a recent meeting, so further study was undertaken.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 28—(INS)—Errol Flynn, definitely a changed person these days, can go on his European vacation March 27 with the knowledge that there is an interesting picture all ready for him when he returns.

Jo Stafford

Don Juan Flynn will star in "The Candy Kid," a gambling story by Borden Chase who wrote "Red River" and other hits. Mike MacDougal, who seems to specialize in gambling scripts, is adapting this one for a Bill Jacobs production at Warners.

You may see Ingrid Bergman and Gary Cooper together again, and in Italy. Rossellini has a date with Gary to discuss the book Gary bought, "The Girl Via Flaminia."

Rossellini has no special story for Bergman, and the idea now is to use Gary's story as a Bergman-Cooper vehicle, with both of them in the same picture.

Bergman and Cooper were a successful combination in "Saratoga Trunk" and "For Whom the Bell tolls." In his contract with Warners, Cooper has the right to do an outside picture. Ingrid is a free lancer, so this looks like a certainty.

Either those stories of feudin' and fightin' between Franchot Tone, Burgess Meredith and Charles Laughton making "Man On the Eiffel Tower" were exaggerated—or they are gluttons for punishment.

Yep, the same boys, who went to Paris to make that picture independently, are together again for a sequel to be called "Maigret Goes South." Story deals with a man who breaks the bank at Monte Carlo with a crooked roulette wheel and is tracked down by Maigret, the Parisian detective.

This time I doubt if Franchot's former wife, Jean Wallace, will be the leading lady. Franchot goes to New York after he finishes "Twilight" to set a releasing date.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Elayne Field, daughter of the old time minstrel man, Al Field, is marrying Maurie Weide, Beverly Hills attorney, on February 6.

The past nine days Jane Wyman has done 21 magazine and newspaper interviews; Olivia De Havilland has done an equal amount, and Irene Dunne has been on the radio in New York and given out countless interviews. Well, may the best girl win.

Tay Garnett and Bert Friedlob take off by plane Tuesday for Guam with a camera crew to film background shots for "White Jade," the picture they are co-producing. Bert is also sending over the revue which he presented in Paris last year.

Sunday night in Albuquerque Judy Canova, her brother, Zeke, and her sister, Annie, will do their old vaudeville routines for the March of Dimes.

Henry King is back after months and months in Rome, where he was making the Tyrone Power picture—and is Mrs. King glad to see him. Henry didn't wait for the big wedding, but as soon as the picture was finished he packed up his tent and silently stole away.

At one time Jo Stafford was a Girl Scout, so she will cut the big birthday cake, March 12, on the Girl Scouts' 37th birthday. Dick Haymes, who wasn't a Girl Scout, will also give with the songs at the Shrine Auditorium shindig.

Joan Caulfield goes to Ireland next summer and will make an appearance at the gate theater. What a reception the Irish will give her.

Kay Kyser and his family returned today after two and a half months with his mother in Rocky Mountain, North Carolina.

Charles Chaplin, Jr., and Toni Doyle, the model, are still continuing to be a popular twosome.

Driver Fined $100 In Motor Case

A $100.75 fine was imposed on Henry N. Ross, Route 2, Keyser, W. Va., Wednesday in Trial Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

The Celanese worker's arrest followed a two-car collision on Route 220 at Pinto Sunday.

Ross also received suspended fines of $10.75 each for driving without a license and failing to keep to the center of the highway. State Trooper A. M. Spioch preferred charges.

Yesterday, Robert Bernard Corbin, 20, 23 Williams Street, was found not guilty on a charge of reckless driving. Police said the car he was driving struck and injured a pedestrian, Dominic Violant, 49, 212 Thomas Street, Wednesday near the intersection of Thomas and Crawford Streets.

Area Men Join Army, Air Force

Three area men have enlisted in the Regular Army and one in the Air Force at the local recruiting station, First Lt. George J. Gocke, officer in charge, announced yesterday.

The Army enlistees are Charles Easton Beeman, 18, Charleston Street, Lonaconing; Frank Harold Densmore, 20, Route 1, Frostburg, and Hiram Joseph Tuttle, Jr., 24, 32 Pennsylvania Avenue. Tuttle enlisted for service in the Caribbean Theatre. James Henry Ruckman, 21, Wiley Ford, W. Va., was the only Air Force enlistee.

Lt. Gocke announced that any young women interested in joining the Army Nurse Corps may obtain full information at the recruiting office in the Postoffice.

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 28—(INS)—Errol Flynn, definitely a changed person these days, can go on his European vacation March 27 with the knowledge that there is an interesting picture all ready for him when he returns.

Don Juan Flynn will star in "The Candy Kid," a gambling story by Borden Chase who wrote "Red River" and other hits. Mike MacDougal, who seems to specialize in gambling scripts, is adapting this one for a Bill Jacobs production at Warners.

You may see Ingrid Bergman and Gary Cooper together again, and in Italy. Rossellini has a date with Gary to discuss the book Gary bought, "The Girl Via Flaminia."

Rossellini has no special story for Bergman, and the idea now is to use Gary's story as a Bergman-Cooper vehicle, with both of them in the same picture.

Bergman and Cooper were a successful combination in "Saratoga Trunk" and "For Whom the Bell tolls." In his contract with Warners, Cooper has the right to do an outside picture. Ingrid is a free lancer, so this looks like a certainty.

Either those stories of feudin' and fightin' between Franchot Tone, Burgess Meredith and Charles Laughton making "Man On the Eiffel Tower" were exaggerated—or they are gluttons for punishment.

Yep, the same boys, who went to Paris to make that picture independently, are together again for a sequel to be called "Maigret Goes South." Story deals with a man who breaks the bank at Monte Carlo with a crooked roulette wheel and is tracked down by Maigret, the Parisian detective.

This time I doubt if Franchot's former wife, Jean Wallace, will be the leading lady. Franchot goes to New York after he finishes "Twilight" to set a releasing date.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Elayne Field, daughter of the old time minstrel man, Al Field, is marrying Maurie Weide, Beverly Hills attorney, on February 6.

The past nine days Jane Wyman has done 21 magazine and newspaper interviews; Olivia De Havilland has done an equal amount, and Irene Dunne has been on the radio in New York and given out countless interviews. Well, may the best girl win.

Tay Garnett and Bert Friedlob take off by plane Tuesday for Guam with a camera crew to film background shots for "White Jade," the picture they are co-producing. Bert is also sending over the revue which he presented in Paris last year.

Sunday night in Albuquerque Judy Canova, her brother, Zeke, and her sister, Annie, will do their old vaudeville routines for the March of Dimes.

Henry King is back after months and months in Rome, where he was making the Tyrone Power picture—and is Mrs. King glad to see him. Henry didn't wait for the big wedding, but as soon as the picture was finished he packed up his tent and silently stole away.

At one time Jo Stafford was a Girl Scout, so she will cut the big birthday cake, March 12, on the Girl Scouts' 37th birthday. Dick Haymes, who wasn't a Girl Scout, will also give with the songs at the Shrine Auditorium shindig.

Joan Caulfield goes to Ireland next summer and will make an appearance at the gate theater. What a reception the Irish will give her.

Kay Kyser and his family returned today after two and a half months with his mother in Rocky Mountain, North Carolina.

Charles Chaplin, Jr., and Toni Doyle, the model, are still continuing to be a popular twosome.

Driver Fined $100 In Motor Case

A $100.75 fine was imposed on Henry N. Ross, Route 2, Keyser, W. Va., Wednesday in Trial Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

The Celanese worker's arrest followed a two-car collision on Route 220 at Pinto Sunday.

Ross also received suspended fines of $10.75 each for driving without a license and failing to keep to the center of the highway. State Trooper A. M. Spioch preferred charges.

Yesterday, Robert Bernard Corbin, 20, 23 Williams Street, was found not guilty on a charge of reckless driving. Police said the car he was driving struck and injured a pedestrian, Dominic Violant, 49, 212 Thomas Street, Wednesday near the intersection of Thomas and Crawford Streets.

Area Men Join Army, Air Force

Three area men have enlisted in the Regular Army and one in the Air Force at the local recruiting station, First Lt. George J. Gocke, officer in charge, announced yesterday.

The Army enlistees are Charles Easton Beeman, 18, Charleston Street, Lonaconing; Frank Harold Densmore, 20, Route 1, Frostburg, and Hiram Joseph Tuttle, Jr., 24, 32 Pennsylvania Avenue. Tuttle enlisted for service in the Caribbean Theatre. James Henry Ruckman, 21, Wiley Ford, W. Va., was the only Air Force enlistee.

Lt. Gocke announced that any young women interested in joining the Army Nurse Corps may obtain full information at the recruiting office in the Postoffice.

Old Age Snafu

CUPAR, Scotland (AP)—A Scottish doctor doubts that society does itself much good by keeping Grandpa alive past 100.

Dr. G. Matthew Fyfe, county medical officer of health, expressed his skepticism in an annual report. That more people live longer, he said, is good "so far as each individual is concerned." But when it goes hand in hand with a decline in births, he argued, it leads to a situation in which "an increasing number of old people have to depend on a proportionately decreasing number of young people."

G. Washington Writes To Editor

LONDON (AP) — A letter appeared in the "Daily Telegraph" recently over the signature of G. Washington. The writer said he believed he was the oldest living male representative of the Washington family in England. He gave a southwest London address.

His letter seconded another correspondent's suggestion that George Washington's name be engraved anew "in bold characters" beneath his statue in Trafalgar Square.

"In view of our present close association with the United States," wrote the latter-day English Washington, "it seems only fitting that their first President should be honored as suggested."

WIFE PRESERVERS

If you have some old picture or mirror frames that are not being used, you can make "slipcovers" for them of gay calico or other material and they may be used again to frame pictures or mirrors for bedrooms or playrooms.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—An hour longer than usual is to be devoted to the Metropolitan opera stage broadcast on Saturday. That's because ABC will be carrying Helen Traubel in "Die Walkuere." The broadcast opens at 2 and runs four hours.

Next on the roster of the Orchestras of the Nation via NBC at 3 will come the Denver symphony. It's originating, as is to be expected, from Denver. . . Again Guido Cantelli will guest-conduct for the NBC Symphony at 6:30. This will be his third concert . . . It will be "sweethearts," a Victor Herbert theme, to be spread over the nation by MBS and its stations at 10. This will be the regular time of the Chicago Theater of the Air.

Eddie Cantor is to drop around for an extra broadcast in the Hollywood theater of NBC at 8 so that he can present Jack Webb, described as a newcomer to the movies . . . The Campus Salutes of MBS now at 1 p. m. will music attention to the U. of California at Berkeley. This program is by the U. S. Army band . . . Next on the list of the College corals on MBS at 4 is to be the University of New Hampshire and its combined glee clubs.

Old Age Snafu

CUPAR, Scotland (AP)—A Scottish doctor doubts that society does itself much good by keeping Grandpa alive past 100.

Dr. G. Matthew Fyfe, county medical officer of health, expressed his skepticism in an annual report. That more people live longer, he said, is good "so far as each individual is concerned." But when it goes hand in hand with a decline in births, he argued, it leads to a situation in which "an increasing number of old people have to depend on a proportionately decreasing number of young people."

G. Washington Writes To Editor

LONDON (AP) — A letter appeared in the "Daily Telegraph" recently over the signature of G. Washington. The writer said he believed he was the oldest living male representative of the Washington family in England. He gave a southwest London address.

His letter seconded another correspondent's suggestion that George Washington's name be engraved anew "in bold characters" beneath his statue in Trafalgar Square.

"In view of our present close association with the United States," wrote the latter-day English Washington, "it seems only fitting that their first President should be honored as suggested."

WIFE PRESERVERS

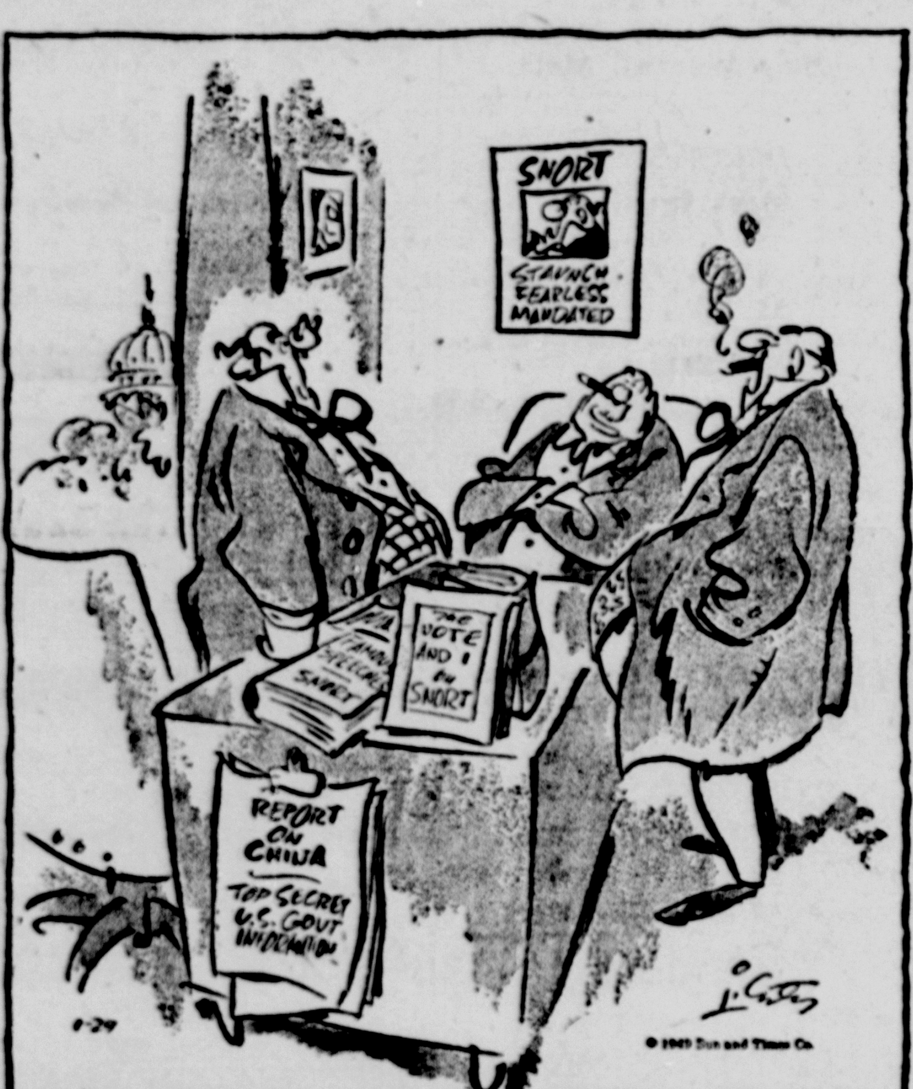
If you have some old picture or mirror frames that are not being used, you can make "slipcovers" for them of gay calico or other material and they may be used again to frame pictures or mirrors for bedrooms or playrooms.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"Psychiatric equipment? You might try the furniture department."

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty



"After thorough consideration, I think we should support the present Chinese leaders . . . otherwise we would have to learn a lot of new names . . ."

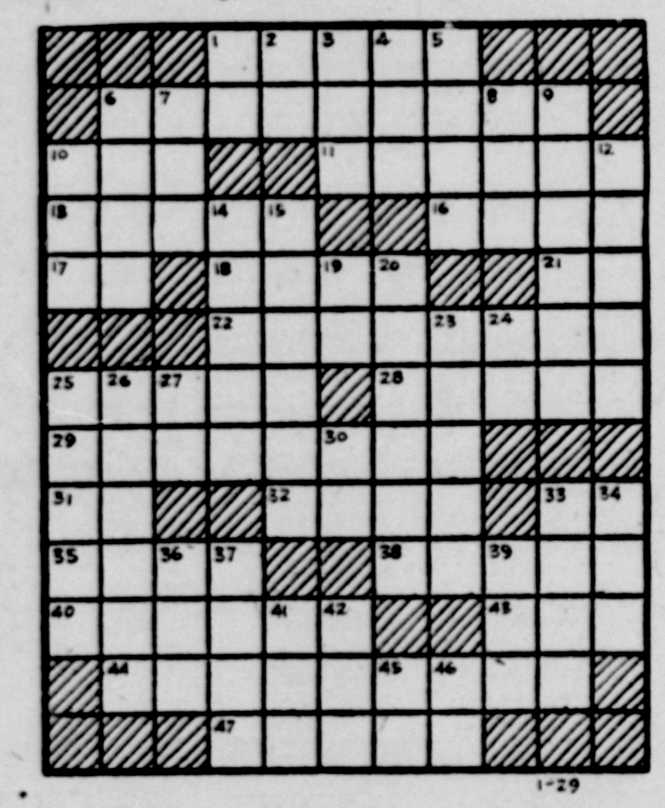
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Q F ' E J T J V H T Q W M, F C P T P E F T Q W M, X R S S B X O Q V M E ' Z V Q P E— H J E P X Q P S M.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: GOLDEN SLUMBERS KISS YOUR EYES, SMILES AWAKE YOU WHEN YOU RISE—DEKKER.

In Memoriam

TWIGG—In loving memory of our dear Mother, Idabell, who passed away two years ago today, Jan. 29, 1947.

We watch'd her breathing thro' the night
Her breathing soft and low;
As in her breast the wave of life
Kept heaving to and fro.
So silently we seem'd to speak
So slowly moved about
As we had lent her half our powers
To eke her living out.
Our very hopes belied our fears
Our fears our hopes belied—
We thought her dying when she slept,
And sleeping when she died.
For when the morn came dim and sad,
And chill with early showers,
Her quiet eyelids closed—she had
Another morn than ours.

LOVING CHILDREN,
Thurman, Kermit, Phyllis.
Mrs. Ervin A. Shrout.

In Memoriam

TWIGG—In loving memory of our dear Mother, Idabell, who passed away two years ago today, Jan. 29, 1947.

We watch'd her breathing thro' the night
Her breathing soft and low;
As in her breast the wave of life
Kept heaving to and fro.
So silently we seem'd to speak
So slowly moved about
As we had lent her half our powers
To eke her living out.
Our very hopes belied our fears
Our fears our hopes belied—
We thought her dying when she slept,
And sleeping when she died.
For when the morn came dim and sad,
And chill with early showers,
Her quiet eyelids closed—she had
Another morn than ours.

LOVING CHILDREN,
Thurman, Kermit, Phyllis.
Mrs. Ervin A. Shrout.

Stock Market Declines For Fifth Day In Succession

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Stocks were in supply again today and the market declined for the fifth day running.

Prices pivoted on the steel group where much of the day's limited activity centered.

U. S. Steel finished ½ point lower today at 77¼, and fractional declines were posted for Republic at 25⅜, Jones & Laughlin 31⅞, Wheeling 47, and National Steel 89½.

Nudged ahead a bit were General Motors, Caterpillar Tractor, Schenley, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda Copper, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, and Transcontinental & Western Air.

Lower in the curb were Louisiana Land, Niagara Hudson Power, Pancoastal Oil, Waltham Watch, Babcock & Wilcox, Cities Service, and Humble Oil. Higher were National Fuel Gas, Salt Dome Oil, Standard Oil of Kentucky and Insurance Company of North America.

Faring worse than most of the losers, three New York Central series sank to new lows for 1948-49. The refunding 5s were down ⅞ at 68¼, the 4½s lost 1⅜ at 60⅞ and the consolidation 4s were ¾ lower at 57⅞.

Others behind high fractions to more than a point included Santa Fe Adjustment 4s, Jersey Central 5s, Colorado & Southern 4½s, Florida East Coast 5s, Hudson & Manhattan Refunding 5s, New Haven Income 4½s (on turnover of $154,000, biggest volume of the day), Frisco 4s, Southern Pacific 4½s of '81, Sunray Oil 2⅞s and Alabama Power 3½s.

Ahead fractions for the full session were Consolidated Edison Convertible 3s, Erie 4½s, Mohawk & Malone Railway 4s and Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal 3½s.

Reversing the trend of the corporates, medium and long-term U. S. Government obligations continued to rise. All issues showed strength, with the 2¼s of 1959-56 gaining 4-32. The rest improved from 1-32 to 3-32.

Just Between Us

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Girl's Worry Over Home's Appearance Is Needless

Nancy Mottram

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I have a slightly different problem regarding my dates, and I can't seem to find any solution. My family and I live in an old-fashioned house, and since it isn't as nice as those of my friends, I never invite them over, or ask my dates in just for a stay-at-home date. I know that because of this, I've lost many possible friendships, but I'm afraid that my guests would mock their surroundings. I hope you can give me some advice about this."

(A) You're looking at this in the wrong way. Your real friends are your friends whether you live in a mansion or a one room apartment, and there's no reason to slight them and their friendship by refusing to invite them to your house because you think they might disapprove. They like you in school and outside and those fellows like to date you becuase of you yourself. Furthermore they probably can't understand why you don't want to have them over; in fact, they might suspect that you're ashamed of them. You don't have to give parties right away, but try inviting one of two couples over the next time you have a date, and have all chip in on the refreshments. And the good time you'll have will prove to you that you have nothing to worry about.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Not very long ago, I dated a girl several times. We never had any quarrels, but I just stopped seeing her for no particular reason, except that I usually wanted to do something else. We see each other quite often, and I've been thinking about asking her for another date, but I don't know how to go about it. Can you help me?"

(A) No doubt she's wondering why you dropped out of her life so suddenly, and she might welcome you back if you did get around to asking for another date. Make the attempt when you see her next. Stop to talk with her, ask her what she's been doing lately, and then, wonder out loud if she's busy this Saturday night.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I have just begun to go out regularly with one boy whom I like a lot, but who isn't liked by my friends. In fact, they never miss an opportunity to criticize or make fun of him, and several of them have advised me to drop him completely. I don't want to do this; we get along well, and I enjoy dating him. But should I give him up to please my friends or keep on defending him to them?"

(A) They're not dating him, and you certainly know him better than they. And it's not fair to you to loudly disapprove of him and try to convince you to have nothing more to do with him. It looks as though they're interfering a bit too much with your business, and since you do enjoy his company and want to keep on seeing him, don't let their uncalled-for remarks stop you. Keep on dating him, and when they start their old routine, tell them that you're happy with the situation, and pointedly change the subject.

Nancy can help with all your teen-age problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Defendants Win In Two Damage Suits At Keyser

Court Recessed Until Monday

KEYSER, W. Va.—A Mineral County Circuit Court jury awarded the decision in a $2,500 damage suit of a Keyser man against Leslie L. Stallings, Cumberland, in favor of the defendant.

Floyd E. Payne filed suit for damages as a result of injuries he said were incurred in a collision of a car driven by Robert Shockey, Keyser, and a truck operated by Stallings.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Mountain Road and State Route 46 on Nevember 30, 1947. Shockey was killed in the mishap.

The case of Mrs. Verna Ethel Shockey, widow of Robert Shockey, against Stallings for $10,000 damages as a result of the death of her husband has been continued until the next term of court.

Stock Market Declines For Fifth Day In Succession

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Stocks were in supply again today and the market declined for the fifth day running.

Prices pivoted on the steel group where much of the day's limited activity centered.

U. S. Steel finished ½ point lower today at 77¼, and fractional declines were posted for Republic at 25⅜, Jones & Laughlin 31⅞, Wheeling 47, and National Steel 89½.

Nudged ahead a bit were General Motors, Caterpillar Tractor, Schenley, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda Copper, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, and Transcontinental & Western Air.

Lower in the curb were Louisiana Land, Niagara Hudson Power, Pancoastal Oil, Waltham Watch, Babcock & Wilcox, Cities Service, and Humble Oil. Higher were National Fuel Gas, Salt Dome Oil, Standard Oil of Kentucky and Insurance Company of North America.

The bond market settled a little lower today to round out five full sessions of slow and steady decline.

Faring worse than most of the losers, three New York Central series sank to new lows for 1948-49. The refunding 5s were down ⅞ at 68¼, the 4½s lost 1⅜ at 60⅞ and the consolidation 4s were ¾ lower at 57⅞.

Others behind high fractions to more than a point included Santa Fe Adjustment 4s, Jersey Central 5 s, Colorado & Southern 4½ s, Florida East Coast 5s, Hudson & Manhattan Refunding 5s, New Haven Income 4½s (on turnover of $154,000, biggest volume of the day), Frisco 4s, Southern Pacific 4½s of '81, Sunray Oil 2⅞s and Alabama Power 3½s.

Ahead fractions for the full session were Consolidated Edison Convertible 3s, Erie 4½s, Mohawk & Malone Railway 4s and Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal 3½s.

Reversing the trend of the corporates, medium and long-term U. S. Government obligations continued to rise. All issues showed strength, with the 2¼s of 1959-56 gaining 4-32. The rest improved from 1-32 to 3-32.

Just Between Us

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Girl's Worry Over Home's Appearance Is Needless

Nancy Mottram

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I have a slightly different problem regarding my dates, and I can't seem to find any solution. My family and I live in an old-fashioned house, and since it isn't as nice as those of my friends, I never invite them over, or ask my dates in just for a stay-at-home date. I know that because of this, I've lost many possible friendships, but I'm afraid that my guests would mock their surroundings. I hope you can give me some advice about this."

(A) You're looking at this in the wrong way. Your real friends are your friends whether you live in a mansion or a one room apartment, and there's no reason to slight them and their friendship by refusing to invite them to your house because you think they might disapprove. They like you in school and outside and those fellows like to date you becuase of you yourself. Furthermore they probably can't understand why you don't want to have them over; in fact, they might suspect that you're ashamed of them. You don't have to give parties right away, but try inviting one of two couples over the next time you have a date, and have all chip in on the refreshments. And the good time you'll have will prove to you that you have nothing to worry about.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Not very long ago, I dated a girl several times. We never had any quarrels, but I just stopped seeing her for no particular reason, except that I usually wanted to do something else. We see each other quite often, and I've been thinking about asking her for another date, but I don't know how to go about it. Can you help me?"

(A) No doubt she's wondering why you dropped out of her life so suddenly, and she might welcome you back if you did get around to asking for another date. Make the attempt when you see her next. Stop to talk with her, ask her what she's been doing lately, and then, wonder out loud if she's busy this Saturday night.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I have just begun to go out regularly with one boy whom I like a lot, but who isn't liked by my friends. In fact, they never miss an opportunity to criticize or make fun of him, and several of them have advised me to drop him completely. I don't want to do this; we get along well, and I enjoy dating him. But should I give him up to please my friends or keep on defending him to them?"

(A) They're not dating him, and you certainly know him better than they. And it's not fair to you to loudly disapprove of him and try to convince you to have nothing more to do with him. It looks as though they're interfering a bit too much with your business, and since you do enjoy his company and want to keep on seeing him, don't let their uncalled-for remarks stop you. Keep on dating him, and when they start their old routine, tell them that you're happy with the situation, and pointedly change the subject.

Nancy can help with all your teen-age problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Probe Of Mines In 2 Counties To Start Today

Union Head Says He Will Close All Diggings Not Safe

An investigation of safety regulations in Allegany and Garrett County coal mines will get underway this morning, according to John T. Jones, District 16, United Mine Workers of America, president, who has promised to close down "every mine where hazards exist."

Jones ordered the union investigation after a report of the Maryland Attorney General to Governor Lane placed entire blame for a disaster in the Nethken Mine, near Kitzmiller, last November on Maryland mining laws.

Commenting on the investigation, Jones said he has received a second telegram from Governor Lane asking the mine union head to name a member to serve on a committee appointed by Lane to study proposed changes in the state mining law.

Jones who yesterday morning telegraphed his refusal to the governor, said last night he has not answered the second request, but indicated he has not changed his mind.

Jones said that at the time of the Kitzmiller mine disaster there were several small mines operating in the district that were known to be violating safety practices. He said the investigation would likely open in that vicinity.

The violations of safety regulations is believed to be greater in the small operations of the two-county area, according to Jones, who said he is going to make a personal check of Federal Mine Bureau recommendations for improving safety conditions in the Western Maryland mines.

If the operators have not complied with the recommendations of the federal authorities, Jones said "down they go." He explained the closing of the mines found in violation would depend on reports received from the investigation teams.

In commenting on his refusal to name a member on the governor's committee, Jones said the group is stacked against the United Mine Workers and he will not participate in it.

If the governor is sincere in wanting to do something for the miners in Maryland, Jones declared, "let him get in back of legislation" that Senator Robert B. Kimble (R.-Allegany) is preparing to introduce in the General Assembly.

Jones said he wants to see a general overhauling of Maryland's mining laws, transfer of the Maryland Bureau of Mines from Annapolis to Allegany County and the procurement of mine safety equipment to be used in time of disaster.

The most recent flare-up in protesting Maryland's mining laws as well as two members of the Bureau of Mines came early this week when two men were killed in an explosion in a Westernport mine owned by William Brashear.

The Maryland Bureau of Mines is still investigating the most recent disaster, and last night Dr. John J. Rutledge, bureau director, said he will have no further comment on the findings of the probe until the case is closed.

Referring to the Governor's committee, Jones charged that not one of the members knows anything

Food Prices Hit Lowest Mark In More Than Year

BLS Notes Drop In Living Costs

Food prices, which have been gradually dropping here for several months, took a nosedive this week to bring the cost of the 15 item food basket studied by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce to the lowest point since December, 1947.

The cost of the items, as advertised by stores here yesterday, stood at $7.96, down 25 cents from last Friday.

It was the first time the basket has sold for less than $8 since December, 1947, when the cost was $7.51.

The sharp drop resulted chiefly from a four-cent decrease in the price of round steak, a three-cent decrease in bacon and a drop in orange prices.

Items included in the weekly survey include steak, bacon, butter, coffee, corn, peas, tomatoes, milk, potatoes, sugar, eggs, oranges, cabbage, bread and lard.

The drop is in line with Bureau of Labor Statistics for price trends in Baltimore and Pittsburgh during December.

In Baltimore, the Bureau reported, retail prices of goods and services usually purchased by moderate income families dropped 2.9 per cent in Baltimore from September to December, and marked the first quarterly drop in living costs since 1948.

Food prices in Baltimore dropped 6.2 per cent from mid-September to mid-December while apparel prices declined 1.2 per cent and furnishings 0.8 per cent. Increases of 0.2 per cent were noted in fuel, electricity and refrigeration costs and 0.3 for miscellaneous services. Rents rose 0.8 for the same period.

In Pittsburgh, the decline since mid-November was much less, amounting to only 0.6 for all goods and services of moderate income families and 1.4 for foods. The decline was due mainly to lower prices for meats and eggs.

In Baltimore, the food index stood at 214.6 as compared to 217.8 in 1947. Pittsburgh's food index in December was 208 as compared to 209.6 in 1947.

Airline Service For Cumberland Postponed Again

Initial Flight Is Planned March 7

Airline service for Cumberland has been postponed again. In a letter yesterday to Mayor Thomas S. Post, Jere V. Chain, superintendent of stations for All American Airlines, Inc., said service here will not begin until March 7.

The postponement, Chain said, is necessary because of a delay in securing certificates of convenience and necessity from the Civil Aeronautics Board. The airline had planned to begin service here February 15.

Chain also said suggestions by the Mayor and Council for improvements to the administration building at Municipal Airport have been referred to Hal Bazley of the Pittsburgh office.

Mayor Post explained that a meeting will be arranged between the Council and airlines representatives to negotiate for rental space at the airport.

Plans were started earlier this month for an "All American Day" at the local airport. One of the airline's 24-passenger DC-3 planes is scheduled to be exhibited and a dinner is planned. No details have been arranged yet.

On January 3 the airline's twin-engine planes began familiarization flights over various stops on the eight-state system awarded the company by the CAB.

The stops include Cumberland, Pittsburgh, Connellsville, Uniontown, Pa., Martinsburg, W. Va., Hagerstown, Frederick, Baltimore and Washington.

The airline plans to operate three scheduled flights daily in each direction from the city.

Work Stoppage Is Threatened In Taxi Dispute

Companies Report Operating Loss

Drivers for two major taxicab companies of this city yesterday turned down company offers for a new contract, C. E. Stutzman, business agent for Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, which represents the drivers, said.

The union official added it "looks like a work stoppage."

He said drivers for the Astor and Johnny's Cab Companies yesterday morning turned down company proposals either to reduce commissions from 45 to 40 per cent or to rent vehicles to the drivers.

The union and companies met yesterday at 9:30 a. m. and made plans for a union meeting Monday at 7 a. m. in Teamsters Hall when the same offers will be placed before the men.

Stutzman said that if the men turn down the offer the second time a work stoppage will be placed in effect Monday at midnight when the contract expires. He added another conference has been scheduled with the operators Monday at 9:30 a. m.

A spokesman for the firms involved said they could not sign a new contract on the basis of the present agreement beause they are losing money and declared he was willing to produce facts and figures to prove the claim.

He explained that rates have not been increased for the past several years and that the operators have been trying to absorb the heavy increases in all operating expenses since they do not want to attempt to increase rates past the present 50 cents.

It is impossible for us to go along with the present contract, he added.

Stutzman announced that a tentative agreement on a contract was reached yesterday with the Yellow Top Cab firm here. He said the union will meet with the firm this morning and expects to settle on the basis of the present agreement

Retires In Comfort

Thomas B. Cumiskey, Sr., 310 Franklin Street, tries out the presents given to him by co-workers at the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company at a shrimp feed in honor of his retirement February 1. Mrs. Cecelia Cumiskey, his wife, watches as he relaxes with the smoking jacket, cigars, book and easy chair given to him as he finished nearly 21 years of service. The presentations were made last night at the party sponsored by Gasco Club at the Corriganville Fire Hall.

County Students To Get Hearing Tests In School

Program Will Begin At West Side Jan. 31

The examination of 16,000 Allegany County students' hearing by audiometric technique will commence Monday at West Side School under the joint sponsorship of the Board of Education and the Department of Health.

In announcing the program which will take about two years to complete in all of the schools, Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, said the "sweep-check method of testing" is the most accurate screening examination available.

The tests will enable the educators to learn the size and implications of the problem of hearing confronting them. As a result they will be able to refer them for medical attention when the condition is most likely to respond to treatment.

One Of Most Important

Ralph E. Kessler, director of special education, under whose immediate supervision the program will be carried out, said that the examinations are one of the most important things needed in school today. It said a national survey has shown that approximately 3,000,000 children in the United States have some hearing impairment.

Dr. Kopp informed school principals and parents in a letter that "we have realized for some time that in order to discover the children in our school who suffer from impaired hearing, we would need to set up an extensive testing program."

It has been necessary, Dr. Kopp said, to employ and train a full-time audiometric technician to carry out this work, and added that Mrs. Dora Martin Sweene, a former Allegany County teacher, has been selected to conduct the tests.

Kessler explained that the examination will become a permanent program in the county's elementary and high schools.

Once established, each child in the county's public schools will receive a hearing examination every two years. Kessler said that children in Grades 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11 will be examined each year.

In addition to children of these grades others who indicate they need the test or request it will receive the screening examination. The program is based on three points — detection, medical followup treatment, and education.

Each school will be prepared for the examination of its students several days prior to the arrival of Miss Sween with the teachers supplying the students with letters designated to introduce the system and possible results to the parents.

Takes Short Time

Educators said that most children can be tested in from three to five minutes, but declared the length of time depends to a large extent on the child. Younger children often take twice as long.

If a test indicates that a child may have some hearing defect, more extensive examination will follow the "speed check" and then parents will be notified of the proper action to take. If a child passes the test, the parents will be notified immediately.

Educators said that as a result of the examinations they may have to make certain provision for meeting the special needs of children with moderate to severe hearing losses. Some of the steps were outlined as follows:

Providing lip reading and speech

Council To Act On Smoke Aide

Names of applicants for the post of deputy smoke inspector who passed a Civil Service Commission examination will be submitted to the Mayor and City Council for action at their regular meeting Monday morning, Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday.

C. Phillip Jolley, Commission chairman, said a list of the applicants who passed the test was sent to the Mayor and Council yesterday. Seven applicants took the examination for the post Wednesday night at Fort Hill High School.

Both Jolley and Mayor Thomas S. Post declined to announce the names of the applicants who placed highest on the test prior to the Council meeting Monday.

Mayor Post said he did not expect to recommend any applicant to the Council at Monday's meeting.

Besides the names of those who passed the smoke inspector examination, the Commission has submitted names of those passing tests for positions as city policeman, secretary at Police Headquarters and lieutenant in the Fire Department.

Members of the commission declined last night to reveal the number of applicants who passed the tests.

Life Underwriters Hear Robertson

Possible changes in present Social Security laws were discussed by John W. Robertson, manager of the local office of the Social Security Administration, at the meeting yesterday of the Cumberland Life Underwriters Association at the Elks Home.

He cited inadequate benefits, the restricted eligiblity of older wage earners and inadequate coverage as conditions recommended by the Advisory Council to the Senate committee on Finance to be changed by law.

A record attendance of 60 persons was reported by George Martin, president. A report on the membership drive of the organization which has set as its goal 75 new members was given. Robert Collins said he and the other membership captain, Raymond Hommer, have signed up approximately 35 new members.

Robertson explained the present Social Security regulations mentioning that 1948 was a record year for benefit payments with 2,300,000 people receiving 45 million dollars.

The next meeting will be at noon February 25 in the Elks Home.

Lucas Will Head Building Trades

George W. Lucas was re-elected president of the Building and Construction Trades Council of Cumberland at a meeting of the AFL group last night in Allegany Trades Council Hall.

Lucas, who lives at 646 Lincoln Street, is also business agent for Local 307, Electrical Workers Union, AFL.

Other officers of the council, who took office immediately after the election are:

Edward L. Simon, Steel Workers Union, vice president; Charles E. Bramble, Teamsters Union, recording secretary; R. C. Simmons, Laborers Local 616, treasurer, and Robert Jones, Operating Engineers, sergeant-at-arms.

Trustees will be John Shaffer, Painters; Frank Seminario, Plasterers and Cement Finishers, and R. B. Healy, Glaziers Union.

The Building Trades Council includes the AFL Bricklayers, Plasterers, Steel Workers, Teamsters, Painters, Electrical, Glaziers, Operating Engineers, Boilermakers, Laborers and Plumbers and Steamfitters locals.

Pending state and federal legislation of interest to organized labor was discussed following the election.

Jobless Pay Law Revision Asked

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 28 (AP)—Spokesman John Estes said today Cumberland CIO Textile Workers have called for an overhaul of state Unemployment Compensation laws.

Estes, representing Celanese Local 1874 of the Textile Workers of America and chairman of the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference, said he would back a bill introduced in the house this week by Delegates Reed and See, Allegany County Republicans.

The bill, referred to the House Judiciary Committee, would amend generally the state jobless pay laws and increase the maximum weekly benefit from $25 to $30.

Estes said he opposed a series of Unemployment Compensation bills favorably reported by the House Banking, Insurance and Social Security Committee.

"They don't go as far as we would like," Estes said.

A spokesman for the Maryland-District Council (CIO) told the Banking Committee he supported these bills as approved by the Legislative Council. An AFL representative said he was opposed to some of the provisions.

Blair Robinett Annulment Set Aside In W. Va.

Mother Contends Marriage Legal

A phone call to the court from his mother caused the setting aside of a local Bataan Death March veteran's annulment of his marriage to a Filipino girl.

Former Sgt. Blair Robinett, recruiter here until last week, was granted an annulment from Jesusita Torres Y Cordero, January 22 in Monongalia County Circuit Court, Morgantown, W. Va., on the ground the marriage was not legal.

Robinett said he married his wife while he was a guerilla fighter in Luzon, Philippine Islands. He contended a minister was forced to perform the ceremony, but there was no marriage license or certificate.

On those grounds, Judge Charles G. Baker granted the annulment.

Upon reading the notice of the decree in an Oakland paper, Robinett's mother, Mrs. John W. Robinett, 207 Offutt Street said, she called Judge Baker at 11 a. m. yesterday saying the couple had a marriage certificate which she had seen.

Decree Set Aside

Judge Baker said he referred the case to Monongalia County Divorce Commissioner Hale J. Posten. Posten last night said the judge signed a decree at his order which set aside the annulment "pending a future hearing at which time a degree fair and equitable for all parties would be entered."

Mrs. Robinett, the soldier's mother, said last night the former sergeant has shown her the certificate signed by a "Methodist minister" bearing the seal of San Fernando, Pampanga Province, Philippine Islands.

The mariage was performed in September, 1944, she added, but the certificate was not made out until March, 1945, when American forces regained control of the islands.

Mrs. Robinett did not know in whose possession the certificate is now. She said it was known to her when Robinett took it to Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., to apply for an allotment for his wife.

The Filipino girl came to America as Robinett's wife, according to Mrs. Robinett, who said her name was on his transfer orders to Martinsburg Hospital.

Robinett's wife lived in this area until June 22, 1948, Mrs. Robinett said, when she left for the coast to return to the Philippine Islands. She was expecting Robinett to join her in the islands, the former sergeant's mother added.

Posten said last night the cancelling degree had been sent to Garrett County Sheriff J. S. Tea's for service on Robinett who was last reported in Oakland.

According to Posten, Robinett's position is the same now as if he had never applied for the annulment. No action will be taken, he said, unless someone appears for a hearing.

There might be further action, he opined, were Mrs. Robinett the sergeant's mother, to appear in the Monongalia Court for testimony. He

Members of the Gasco Club honored Thomas B. Cumiskey, Sr., 310 Franklin Street, who is retiring with nearly 21 years service with the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, with a shrimp feed last night at the Corriganville Fire Hall.

The Club, composed of gas company employes from Cumberland, Frostburg, Lonaconing, Piedmont, W. Va., and Ellerslie, presented Cumiskey with a smoking jacket, cigars and several books by Irving Cobb, his favorite author. Club President Jesse Kane made the presentation.

John Fisher, district sales supervisor, gave Cumiskey an easy chair in the name of the Cumberland office and sales department. James Alfred Avirett, company attorney, was toastmaster at the dinner. Cumiskey's wife, Mrs. Cecilia Cumiskey, was an honor guest.

Cumiskey has been a floor salesman with the company since May 15, 1928, and will retire the first of February.

From 1926 to 1928 he was water inspector for the City of Cumberland and was engaged in the insurance business before that time. He came to Cumberland from Martinsburg, W. Va., in 1901 and was first employed here by the James Clark Distilling Company.

DAV Attacks Bill To License Blind Stands

Measure Proposed By Delegate See

A proposal to have the legislature empower the Maryland Workshop for the Blind to license vending stands operated by blind people in all public buildings in the state has met with opposition from the Disabled American Veterans of Maryland, according to John E. Hoffman, commander of Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, DAV, here.

Hoffman said copies of a resolution passed by the DAV at a state executive meeting recently have been sent here and all posts in the state have approved them.

The resolution raising the opposition originated in Annapolis Chapter No. 3, and declared the measure would work to the disadvantage of the blind and to the advantage of the Maryland Workshop.

The resolution says in part, "The Hon. Charles M. See, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, has introduced and recommended to the Maryland Legislature Bill No. 36, giving the Maryland Workshop for the blind exclusive authority to issue licenses to blind persons to operate vending stands in all state, county and municipal buildings in Maryland, whether owned or leased."

The resolution also states that it is unconstitutional and therefore illegal for the State of Maryland to delegate to a private organization the administration of any one of its governmental functions and Bill No. 36 is such that it enables the Maryland Workshop to deny an individual blind person a license to operate a vending stand and subsequently to license such stand in its own name and then employ or "place in charge" some blind person to operate the stand for the Workshop.

It is alleged in the resolution that the remuneration currently paid to such persons "placed in charge" of vending stands by and for the Maryland Workshop is below an amount necessary to decent and healthful living. It is further stated that profits over and above all expenses of such vending stands including wages paid to the person "placed in charge," accrues and would in the future accrue to the Maryland Workshop for the blind.

The resolution also alleges that the Maryland Workshop for the Blind seeks enactment of Bill No. 36 to further its own profit and gain at the expense of individual

Two-Story Home Damaged By Fire

Four fire companies worked two hours to quell a blaze which caused considerable damage to the top floor of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bucy, Hinkle Road, last night.

The fire was discovered about 5:15 p. m. when Marvin Hinkle, a neighbor, noticed smoke pouring from the vicinity of the flue on the second floor, according to Joseph Bruner, chief of the Baltimore Pike Fire department.

First to arrive at the two-story part-log house was the Baltimore Pike department, followed by companies from Bedford Road, Flintstone and Bowman's Addition.

Chief Bruner sail Mrs. Bucy apparently started a quick fire in her wood-burning cook stove. The flames began in the overheated flue on the second floor and she was unaware of the fire until the Hinkles' alarm, he added.

All possessions were removed from the house, but all six rooms were somewhat ruined by fire and water, Chief Bruner said, but he did not estimate damage.

He remarked that the oldness of the house accounted for the difficulty of quenching the blaze, but the tin roof kept the fire from being more disastrous. The firemen were also aided by a large water cistern near the kitchen door.

Senate Gets GOP Bonus Resolution

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 28 (AP) — The Allegany County Republican Committee today commended Senator Kimble for contemplating legislation to give World War II veterans a bonus.

The committee endorsed and recommended the bonus idea.

Senator Phoebus (R-Somerset) introduced a resolution from the committee signed by Chairman Paul M. Fletcher. It noted that the Allegany Republican Senator was preparing a bill for a state bonus.

After commending the senator, the Republican Committee said it unqualifiedly endorsed the plan and urged its passage.

The committee stated that payment of a bonus "would not constitute an undue strain upon the financial structure or revenues of the state."

Amvets Plan March Of Dimes Benefit

A public dance for the benefit of the March of Dimes campaign will be held today from 9 to 12 p. m. at the Baltimore Street home of J. Louis Wolford Post No. 1, Amvets, according to William B. Orndorff, adjutant. Music will be by the Tophatters Orchestra.

At a meeting of the post Thursday night, Frank Riehl accepted the appointment of manager of a softball team for the City League and Earl Nonnenman was chosen to manage a team in the Rocking Chair League.

Pete McGann was elected to fill a vacancy on the post executive committee.

Suit Filed Over Claim To Land

A suit was docketed in Circuit Court yesterday by Thomas Lohr Richards, attorney for Guy R. Stonestreet, and Earl F. Stonestreet, against Frank and Myrtle Humbertson, near Flintstone, for recovery of about eight acres of land and $3,000 damages.

The suit alleges that the defendants fenced in to their own use about eight acres of land belonging to the plaintiffs, and they wish to recover the land and the damages incurred from loss of use of the tract. The land is described, according to the document, as being located in Election District No. 3.

Carpenters Approve Death Benefit Boost

Members of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners voted 6-1 to approve a referendum which would double death benefits upon payment of a 25 cent monthly increase in per capita taxes, J. E. Mullenax, secretary, announced last night.

He said the change was placed into effect as of January 1 following approval by the 700,000 member union.

Not a dissenting vote was cast when the referendum was voted on by Local 1024 here recently.

Maximum death benefits for members of the union are boosted from $300 to $600 and the wife's funeral donation boosted from $75 to $150 in most cases by the change in the by-laws.

Officials said the retroactive measure will benefit the beneficiary of one member of the local who died this month.

The Weather

Yesterday's balmy weather gave promise to rain-weary Cumberlanders of the advent of sunny spring. And the stiff breezes that blew served us a reminder that March is not far off, after all. Yesterday's official high temperature was 64 degrees, but at 1 p. m. the unofficial downtown reading was 68. The low reading was 37. The break in the weather caused ol' man river to drop from 12.3 feet at noon to 11.6 feet last night, and a slight drizzle fell intermittently after dark. But King Winter wasn't to be done with so quickly and a few snow flurries were noted in the air late last night. Today's forecast predicts mostly cloudy, windy and much colder weather with snow flurries in the mountains. Tomorrow is expected to be fair and cold.

Police, Firemen Promised Changes In Charter Affecting Pay, Time Off

The Legislative Committee of the Cumberland Police and Firemen's Welfare Association reported to its members yesterday that three clauses in the proposed city charter affecting the two departments will be changed before it is acted on by the General Assembly.

Sgt. Curtis McA. Kime, chairman of the committee, said the classes refer to police and firemen's pay, number of working days per month and the civil service classification of the chiefs of the two departments.

The report to the membership followed a meeting of the executive committee with members of the Charter Commission Thursday. The committee said the commission members agreed to the changes.

Officers explained that they are presently receiving base pay of $190 per month in both departments. This is made possible by a temporary grant given by the Mayor and City Council which amounts to $20 additional per month.

If the charter were adopted under its present wording, police and firemen said, it would deprive them of the $20 monthly increase and reduce their base pay to $170.

The Mayor and City Council also provided that all members of both departments should have one day a week off from work. It, too, is a temporary grant that has not been acted on by the Legislature.

The charter, parts of which were copied from the present city charter, would give the members only two days a month off from work.

The last objectionable clause in the proposed charter, the members said, is one that would remove the chief of police and chief of fire from under Civil Service regulations and leave his appointment and dismissal in the hands of the Mayor and City Council.

At present both heads are under Civil Service, and the association asked that changes be made in the proposed charter to continue the practice.

Maryland's Soil Supervisors May Have April Meet In City

Plans for a meeting of all soil supervisors in the State of Maryland April 21 in Cumberland were discussed at the regular meeting of the Allegany Soil Conservation District supervisors yesterday in the county farm agent's office, Court House.

The meeting will be held here if suitable accommodations for the approximately 300 persons expected can be found, according to David Crocker, unit conservationist of the Allegany County Soil Conservation Service. The date was picked to coincide with the meeting of the Upper Potomac Flood Control Planning Board at Bedford Springs, Pa.

The supervisors also decided to inaugurate a series of community soil conservation meetings March 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Two teams, one composed of Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, and Martin Gordon, conservation aide, and another comprising Joseph Steger, assistant county agent, and Crocker will instruct area farmers on grassland farming and pasture treatment.

Movies and lectures will be presented in the communities of Piney Plains, Murley's Branch, Town Creek, Rawlings, Union Grove, Mt. Savage and Shaft. McHenry will send out notices of times and places to farmers in each section.

It is hoped, Crocker said, to make the meetings semi-annual events with lecture material on various phases of farm conservation.

Wilbert Paul, chairman of the supervisor, reported on his attendance at the soil supervisors' chairmen meeting January 10 in Baltimore. He noted that the state supervisors' budget was being prepared for submission to the Legislature.

The supervisors reviewed the conservation plans of 10 new co-operators in the Conservation office's farm improvement project.

Also attending the meeting were Charles Harvey, Bradye Dolly, Ernest Slider, Albert O'Neal and W. W. Nace, district conservationist for Allegany and Garrett Counties.

Second Man Held In Theft Attempt

A second man was arrested last night for questioning in connection with the breaking and entering at the M. and A. Restaurant, Baltimore Street, early yesterday morning.

Police booked him as Donald Alburtis, Ridgeley, W. Va., and said he would be taken to the office of the State's Attorney this morning along with Raymond Gray, 506 Linden Street, who was arrested near the restaurant at the time of the entry.

Seeks Beer Permit

Thomas A. Geatz filed an application with the clerk of court yesterday for a beer license for 39 Baltimore Street.

John Helmick Has Both Legs Amputated Close To Knees

John Helmick, 17-year-old Davis, W. Va., youth who was lost for five days in the wilds of Tucker County, underwent an operation at an Elkins Hospital yesterday for the amputation of both his legs, half way to the knees.

The youth's feet and lower limbs were so badly frozen when he was found he was scarcely able to walk and all efforts to save them without amputation failed.

When told yesterday by physicians and hospital attaches that they were ready to perform the operation, young Helmick asked, "Can I see the Sheriff first?"

He referred to Tucker County Sheriff D. E. Crosten, of Parsons, who led several hundred men in a week-long search for Helmick and two younger companions who became lost during a cold rain and snow storm and a heavy fog.

Sheriff Crosten went to Helmick's bedside and the youth told him of the planned operation. He said to the Sheriff, "You stay with me, and I'll be all right."

Sheriff Crosten stayed.

Last night, hospital attaches said Helmick was resting comfortably and the operation, so far as could be determined, was successful.

There's only one thing wrong with that, the Sheriff surmised. "John won't be able to walk without his feet and legs.

"I'm going to try to raise enough money somehow to see that he gets artificial limbs and learns to use them. And anybody who wants to help is welcome to contribute. I don't know what it will cost yet, but I believe there are enough good people in this area who will be willing to help."

Probe Of Mines In 2 Counties To Start Today

Union Head Says He Will Close All Diggings Not Safe

An investigation of safety regulations in Allegany and Garrett County coal mines will get underway this morning, according to John T. Jones, District 16, United Mine Workers of America, president, who has promised to close down "every mine where hazards exist."

Jones ordered the union investigation after a report of the Maryland Attorney General to Governor Lane placed entire blame for a disaster in the Nethken Mine, near Kitzmiller, last November on Maryland mining laws.

Commenting on the investigation, Jones said he has received a second telegram from Governor Lane asking the mine union head to name a member to serve on a committee appointed by Lane to study proposed changes in the state mining law.

Jones who yesterday morning telegraphed his refusal to the governor, said last night he has not answered the second request, but indicated he has not changed his mind.

Jones said that at the time of the Kitzmiller mine disaster there were several small mines operating in the district that were known to be violating safety practices. He said the investigation would likely open in that vicinity.

The violations of safety regulations is believed to be greater in the small operations of the two-county area, according to Jones, who said he is going to make a personal check of Federal Mine Bureau recommendations for improving safety conditions in the Western Maryland mines.

If the operators have not complied with the recommendations of the federal authorities, Jones said "down they go." He explained the closing of the mines found in violation would depend on reports received from the investigation teams.

In commenting on his refusal to name a member on the governor's committee, Jones said the group is stacked against the United Mine Workers and he will not participate in it.

If the governor is sincere in wanting to do something for the miners in Maryland, Jones declared, "let him get in back of legislation" that Senator Robert B. Kimble (R.-Allegany) is preparing to introduce in the General Assembly.

Jones said he wants to see a general overhauling of Maryland's mining laws, transfer of the Maryland Bureau of Mines from Annapolis to Allegany County and the procurement of mine safety equipment to be used in time of disaster.

The most recent flare-up in protesting Maryland's mining laws as well as two members of the Bureau of Mines came early this week when two men were killed in an explosion in a Westernport mine owned by William Brashear.

The Maryland Bureau of Mines is still investigating the most recent disaster, and last night Dr. John J. Rutledge, bureau director, said he will have no further comment on the findings of the probe until the case is closed.

Referring to the Governor's committee, Jones charged that not one of the members knows anything

Council To Act On Smoke Aide

Names of applicants for the post of deputy smoke inspector who passed a Civil Service Commission examination will be submitted to the Mayor and City Council for action at their regular meeting Monday morning, Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday.

C. Phillip Jolley, Commission chairman, said a list of the applicants who passed the test was sent to the Mayor and Council yesterday. Seven applicants took the examination for the post Wednesday night at Fort Hill High School.

Both Jolley and Mayor Thomas S. Post declined to announce the names of the applicants who placed highest on the test prior to the Council meeting Monday.

Mayor Post said he did not expect to recommend any applicant to the Council at Monday's meeting.

Besides the names of those who passed the smoke inspector examination, the Commission has submitted names of those passing tests for positions as city policeman, secretary at Police Headquarters and lieutenant in the Fire Department.

Members of the commission declined last night to reveal the number of applicants who passed the tests.

Food Prices Hit Lowest Mark In More Than Year

BLS Notes Drop In Living Costs

Food prices, which have been gradually dropping here for several months, took a nosedive this week to bring the cost of the 15 item food basket studied by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce to the lowest point since December, 1947.

The cost of the items, as advertised by stores here yesterday, stood at $7.96, down 25 cents from last Friday.

It was the first time the basket has sold for less than $8 since December, 1947, when the cost was $7.51.

The sharp drop resulted chiefly from a four-cent decrease in the price of round steak, a three-cent decrease in bacon and a drop in orange prices.

Items included in the weekly survey include steak, bacon, butter, coffee, corn, peas, tomatoes, milk, potatoes, sugar, eggs, oranges, cabbage, bread and lard.

The drop is in line with Bureau of Labor Statistics for price trends in Baltimore and Pittsburgh during December.

In Baltimore, the Bureau reported, retail prices of goods and services usually purchased by moderate income families dropped 2.9 per cent in Baltimore from September to December, and marked the first quarterly drop in living costs since 1946.

Food prices in Baltimore dropped 6.2 per cent from mid-September to mid-December while apparel prices declined 1.2 per cent and furnishings 0.8 per cent. Increases of 0.2 per cent were noted in fuel, electricity and refrigeration costs and 0.3 for miscellaneous services. Rents rose 0.8 for the same period.

In Pittsburgh, the decline since mid-November was much less, amounting to only 0.6 for all goods and services of moderate income families and 1.4 for foods. The decline was due mainly to lower prices for meats and eggs.

The drop in retail food prices here to 1947 levels is substantiated by the BLS figures for Baltimore and Pittsburgh.

In Baltimore, the food index stood at 214.6 as compared to 217.8 in 1947. Pittsburgh's food index in December was 208 as compared to 209.6 in 1947.

Life Underwriters Hear Robertson

Possible changes in present Social Security laws were discussed by John W. Robertson, manager of the local office of the Social Security Administration, at the meeting yesterday of the Cumberland Life Underwriters Association at the Elks Home.

He cited inadequate benefits, the restricted eligiblity of older wage earners and inadequate coverage as conditions recommended by the Advisory Council to the Senate committee on Finance to be changed by law.

A record attendance of 60 persons was reported by George Martin, president. A report on the membership drive of the organization which has set as its goal 75 new members was given. Robert Collins said he and the other membership captain, Raymond Hommer, have signed up approximately 35 new members.

Robertson explained the present Social Security regulations mentioning that 1948 was a record year for benefit payments with 2,300,000 people receiving 45 million dollars.

The next meeting will be at noon February 25 in the Elks Home.

Airline Service For Cumberland Postponed Again

Initial Flight Is Planned March 7

Airline service for Cumberland has been postponed again. In a letter yesterday to Mayor Thomas S. Post, Jere V. Chain, superintendent of stations for All American Airlines, Inc., said service here will not begin until March 7.

The postponement, Chain said, is necessary because of a delay in securing certificates of convenience and necessity from the Civil Aeronautics Board. The airline had planned to begin service here February 15.

Chain also said suggestions by the Mayor and Council for improvements to the administration building at Municipal Airport have been referred to Hal Bazley of the Pittsburgh office.

Mayor Post explained that a meeting will be arranged between the Council and airlines representatives to negotiate for rental space at the airport.

Plans were started earlier this month for an "All American Day" at the local airport. One of the airline's 24-passenger DC-3 planes is scheduled to be exhibited and a dinner is planned. No details have been arranged yet.

On January 3 the airline's twin-engine planes began familiarization flights over various stops on the eight-state system awarded the company by the CAB.

The stops include Cumberland, Pittsburgh, Connellsville, Uniontown, Pa., Martinsburg, W. Va., Hagerstown, Frederick, Baltimore and Washington.

The airline plans to operate three scheduled flights daily in each direction from the city.

At a meeting of the post Thursday night, Frank Riehl accepted the appointment of manager of a softball team for the City League and Earl Nonnenman was chosen to manage a team in the Rocking Chair League.

Riehl and George Geatz are working on the 'teen age basketball tournament, a state event to be held here, with the winner competing in national finals in Washington.

Pete McGann was elected to fill a vacancy on the post executive committee.

Work Stoppage Is Threatened In Taxi Dispute

Companies Report Operating Loss

Drivers for two major taxicab companies of this city yesterday turned down company offers for a new contract, C. E. Stutzman, business agent for Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, which represents the drivers, said.

The union official added it "looks like a work stoppage."

He said drivers for the Astor and Johnny's Cab Companies yesterday morning turned down company proposals either to reduce commissions from 45 to 40 per cent or to rent vehicles to the drivers.

The union and companies met yesterday at 9:30 a. m. and made plans for a union meeting Monday at 7 a. m. in Teamsters Hall when the same offers will be placed before the men.

Stutzman said that if the men turn down the offer the second time a work stoppage will be placed in effect Monday at midnight when the contract expires. He added another conference has been scheduled with the operators Monday at 9:30 a m.

A spokesman for the firms involved said they could not sign a new contract on the basis of the present agreement beause they are losing money and declared he was willing to produce facts and figures to prove the claim.

He explained that rates have not been increased for the past several years and that the operators have been trying to absorb the heavy increases in all operating expenses since they do not want to attempt to increase rates past the present 50 cents.

It is impossible for us to go along with the present contract, he added.

Stutzman announced that a tentative agreement on a contract was reached yesterday with the Yellow Top Cab firm here. He said the union will meet with the firm this morning and expects to settle on the basis of the present agreement

Jobless Pay Law Revision Asked

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 28 (AP)—Spokesman John Estes said today Cumberland CIO Textile Workers have called for an overhaul of state Unemployment Compensation laws.

Estes, representing Celanese Local 1874 of the Textile Workers of America and chairman of the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference, said he would back a bill introduced in the house this week by Delegates Reed and See, Allegany County Republicans.

The bill, referred to the House Judiciary Committee, would amend generally the state jobless pay laws and increase the maximum weekly benefit from $25 to $30.

Estes said he opposed a series of Unemployment Compensation bills favorably reported by the House Banking, Insurance and Social Security Committee.

"They don't go as far as we would like," Estes said.

A spokesman for the Maryland-District Council (CIO) told the Banking Committee he supported these bills as approved by the Legislative Council. An AFL representative said he was opposed to some of the provisions.

Retires In Comfort

Thomas B. Cumiskey, Sr., 310 Franklin Street, tries out the presents given to him by co-workers at the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company at a shrimp feed in honor of his retirement February 1. Mrs. Cecelia Cumiskey, his wife, watches as he relaxes with the smoking jacket, cigars, book and easy chair given to him as he finished nearly 21 years of service. The presentations were made last night at the party sponsored by Gasco Club at the Corriganville Fire Hall.

Blair Robinett Annulment Set Aside In W. Va.

Mother Contends Marriage Legal

A phone call to the court from his mother caused the setting aside of a local Bataan Death March veteran's annulment of his marriage to a Filipino girl.

Former Sgt. Blair Robinett, recruiter here until last week, was granted an annulment from Jesusita Torres Y Cordero, January 22 in Monongalia County Circuit Court, Morgantown, W. Va., on the ground the marriage was not legal.

Robinett said he married his wife while he was a guerilla fighter in Luzon, Philippine Islands. He contended a minister was forced to perform the ceremony, but there was no marriage license or certificate.

On those grounds, Judge Charles G. Baker granted the annulment.

Upon reading the notice of the decree in an Oakland paper, Robinett's mother, Mrs. John W. Robinett, 207 Offutt Street said, she called Judge Baker at 11 a. m. yesterday saying the couple had a marriage certificate which she had seen.

Decree Set Aside

Judge Baker said he referred the case to Monongalia County Divorce Commissioner Hale J. Posten. Posten last night said the judge signed a decree at his order which set aside the annulment "pending a future hearing at which time a degree fair and equitable for all parties would be entered."

Mrs. Robinett, the soldier's mother, said last night the former sergeant has shown her the certificate signed by a "Methodist minister" bearing the seal of San Fernando, Pampanga Province, Philippine Islands.

The mariage was performed in September, 1944, she added, but the certificate was not made out until March, 1945, when American forces regained control of the islands.

Mrs. Robinett did not know in whose possession the certificate is now. She said it was known to her when Robinett took it to Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., to apply for an allotment for his wife.

The Filipino girl came to America as Robinett's wife, according to Mrs. Robinett, who said her name was on his transfer orders to Martinsburg Hospital.

Robinett's wife lived in this area until June 22, 1948, Mrs. Robinett said, when she left for the coast to return to the Philippine Islands. She was expecting Robinett to join her in the islands, the former sergeant's mother added.

Posten said last night the cancelling degree had been sent to Garrett County Sheriff J. S. Tea's for service on Robinett who was last reported in Oakland.

According to Posten, Robinett's position is the same now as if he had never applied for the annulment. No action will be taken. he said, unless someone appears for a hearing.

There might be further action, he opined, were Mrs. Robinett the sergeant's mother, to appear in the Monongalia Court for testimony. He

Thomas B. Cumiskey, Sr., Retires To End Service With Company

Members of the Gasco Club honored Thomas B. Cumiskey, Sr., 310 Franklin Street, who is retiring with nearly 21 years service with the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, with a shrimp feed last night at the Corriganville Fire Hall.

The Club, composed of gas company employes from Cumberland, Frostburg, Lonaconing, Piedmont, W. Va., and Ellerslie, presented Cumiskey with a smoking jacket, cigars and several books by Irving Cobb, his favorite author. Club President Jesse Kane made the presentation.

John Fisher, district sales supervisor, gave Cumiskey an easy chair in the name of the Cumberland office and sales department. James Alfred Avirett, company attorney, was toastmaster at the dinner. Cumiskey's wife, Mrs. Cecilia Cumiskey, was an honor guest.

Cumiskey has been a floor salesman with the company since May 15, 1928, and will retire the first of February.

From 1926 to 1928 he was water inspector for the City of Cumberland and was engaged in the insurance business before that time. He came to Cumberland from Martinsburg, W. Va., in 1901 and was first employed here by the James Clark Distilling Company.

Cumiskey is a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society and Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus.

He has four sons, Thomas B. Cumiskey, Jr., assistant Cumberland postmaster; Capt. William P. Cumiskey stationed with the Air Force in Lowery Field, Colo.; Charles T. Cumiskey, freshman at Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Va., and Mrs. Marie Miller, 700 Sylvan Avenue.

Among those present at last night's dinner were W. H. Adams, Pittsburgh, Pa., safety director; F. S. Thomas, Pittsburgh, assistant general sales manager; Paul Dunn, sales supervisor of Uniontown, Pa., territory, and Carl C. Robbins, district manager.

Carpenters Approve Death Benefit Boost

Members of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners voted 6-1 to approve a referendum which would double death benefits upon payment of a 25 cent monthly increase in per capita taxes, J. E. Mullenax, secretary, announced last night.

He said the change was placed into effect as of January 1 following approval by the 700,000 member union.

Not a dissenting vote was cast when the referendum was voted on by Local 1024 here recently.

Maximum death benefits for members of the union are boosted from $300 to $600 and the wife's funeral donation boosted from $75 to $150 in most cases by the change in the by-laws.

Officials said the retroactive measure will benefit the beneficiary of one member of the local who died this month.

The Weather

Yesterday's balmy weather gave promise to rain-weary Cumberlanders of the advent of sunny spring. And the stiff breezes that blew served us a reminder that March is not far off, after all. Yesterday's official high temperature was 64 degrees, but at 1 p. m. the unofficial downtown reading was 68. The low reading was 37. The break in the weather caused ol' man river to drop from 12.3 feet at noon to 11.6 feet last night, and a slight drizzle fell intermittently after dark. But King Winter wasn't to be done with so quickly and a few snow flurries were noted in the air late last night. Today's forecast predicts mostly cloudy, windy and much colder weather with snow flurries in the mountains. Tomorrow is expected to be fair and cold.

DAV Attacks Bill To License Blind Stands

Measure Proposed By Delegate See

A proposal to have the legislature empower the Maryland Workshop for the Blind to license vending stands operated by blind people in all public buildings in the state has met with opposition from the Disabled American Veterans of Maryland, according to John E. Hoffman, commander of Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, DAV, here.

Hoffman said copies of a resolution passed by the DAV at a state executive meeting recently have been sent here and all posts in the state have approved them.

The resolution raising the opposition originated in Annapolis Chapter No. 3, and declared the measure would work to the disadvantage of the blind and to the advantage of the Maryland Workshop.

The resolution says in part, "The Hon. Charles M. See, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, has introduced and recommended to the Maryland Legislature Bill No. 36, giving the Maryland Workshop for the blind exclusive authority to issue licenses to blind persons to operate vending stands in all state, county and municipal buildings in Maryland, whether owned or leased."

The resolution also states that it is unconstitutional and therefore illegal for the State of Maryland to delegate to a private organization the administration of any one of its governmental functions and Bill No. 36 is such that it enables the Maryland Workshop to deny an individual blind person a license to operate a vending stand and subsequently to license such stand in its own name and then employ or "place in charge" some blind person to operate the stand for the Workshop.

It is alleged in the resolution that the remuneration currently paid to such persons "placed in charge" of vending stands by and for the Maryland Workshop is below an amount necessary to decent and healthful living. It is further stated that profits over and above all expenses of such vending stands including wages paid to the person "placed in charge," accrues and would in the future accrue to the Maryland Workshop for the blind.

The resolution also alleges that the Maryland Workshop for the Blind seeks enactment of Bill No. 36 to further its own profit and gain at the expense of individual

County Students To Get Hearing Tests In School

Program Will Begin At West Side Jan. 31

The examination of 16,000 Allegany County students' hearing by audiometric technique will commence Monday at West Side School under the joint sponsorship of the Board of Education and the Department of Health.

In announcing the program which will take about two years to complete in all of the schools, Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, said the "sweep-check method of testing" is the most accurate screening examination available.

The tests will enable the educators to learn the size and implications of the problem of hearing confronting them. As a result they will be able to refer them for medical attention when the condition is most likely to respond to treatment.

One Of Most Important

Ralph E. Kessler, director of special education, under whose immediate supervision the program will be carried out, said that the examinations are one of the most important things needed in school today. It said a national survey has shown that approximately 3,000,000 children in the United States have some hearing impairment.

Dr. Kopp informed school principals and parents in a letter that "we have realized for some time that in order to discover the children in our school who suffer from impaired hearing, we would need to set up an extensive testing program."

It has been necessary, Dr. Kopp said, to employ and train a full-time audiometric technician to carry out this work, and added that Mrs. Dora Martin Sweene, a former Allegany County teacher, has been selected to conduct the tests.

Kessler explained that the examination will become a permanent program in the county's elementary and high schools.

Once established, each child in the county's public schools will receive a hearing examination every two years. Kessler said that children in Grades 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11 will be examined each year.

In addition to children of these grades others who indicate they need the test or request it will receive the screening examination. The program is based on three points — detection, medical followup treatment, and education.

Each school will be prepared for the examination of its students several days prior to the arrival of Miss Sween with the teachers supplying the students with letters designated to introduce the system and possible results to the parents.

Takes Short Time

Educators said that most children can be tested in from three to five minutes, but declared the length of time depends to a large extent on the child. Younger children often take twice as long.

If a test indicates that a child may have some hearing defect, more extensive examination will follow the "speed check" and then parents will be notified of the proper action to take. If a child passes the test, the parents will be notified immediately.

Educators said that as a result of the examinations they may have to make certain provision for meeting the special needs of children with moderate to severe hearing losses. Some of the steps were outlined as follows:

Providing lip reading and speech

Two-Story Home Damaged By Fire

Four fire companies worked two hours to quell a blaze which caused considerable damage to the top floor of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bucy, Hinkle Road, last night.

The fire was discovered about 5:15 p. m. when Marvin Hinkle, a neighbor, noticed smoke pouring from the vicinity of the flue on the second floor, according to Joseph Bruner, chief of the Baltimore Pike Fire department.

First to arrive at the two-story part-log house was the Baltimore Pike department, followed by companies from Bedford Road, Flintstone and Bowman's Addition.

Chief Bruner sail Mrs. Bucy apparently started a quick fire in her wood-burning cook stove. The flames began in the overheated flue on the second floor and she was unaware of the fire until the Hinkles' alarm, he added.

All possessions were removed from the house, but all six rooms were somewhat ruined by fire and water, Chief Bruner said, but he did not estimate damage.

He remarked that the oldness of the house accounted for the difficulty of quenching the blaze, but the tin roof kept the fire from being more disastrous. The firemen were also aided by a large water cistern near the kitchen door.

Police, Firemen Promised Changes In Charter Affecting Pay, Time Off

The Legislative Committee of the Cumberland Police and Firemen's Welfare Association reported to its members yesterday that three clauses in the proposed city charter affecting the two departments will be changed before it is acted on by the General Assembly.

Sgt. Curtis McA. Kime, chairman of the committee, said the classes refer to police and firemen's pay, number of working days per month and the civil service classification of the chiefs of the two departments.

The report to the membership followed a meeting of the executive committee with members of the Charter Commission Thursday. The committee said the commission members agreed to the changes.

Officers explained that they are presently receiving base pay of $190 per month in both departments. This is made possible by a temporary grant given by the Mayor and City Council which amounts to $20 additional per month.

If the charter were adopted under its present wording, police and firemen said, it would deprive them of the $20 monthly increase and reduce their base pay to $170.

The Mayor and City Council also provided that all members of both departments should have one day a week off from work. It, too, is a temporary grant that has not been acted on by the Legislature.

The charter, parts of which were copied from the present city charter, would give the members only two days a month off from work.

The last objectionable clause in the proposed charter, the members said, is one that would remove the chief of police and chief of fire from under Civil Service regulations and leave his appointment and dismissal in the hands of the Mayor and City Council.

At present both heads are under Civil Service, and the association asked that changes be made in the proposed charter to continue the practice.
